Five Nabbed In De Gaulle Slaying Plot

French Say Six Other Members Of Band Sought

PARIS (AP) — A Foreign Legion deserter and four accomplices in a commando killer squad that missed assassinating President Charles de Gaulle by inches last month have been caught, the government announced Friday. But six members of the band still are at large.

Interior Minister Roger Frey, announcing the arrests, said the gang received its orders from other plotters outside France. He did not identify the plotters or the country.

EARLIER ATTEMPTS

Frey said two earlier attempts had been set up to kill the 71-year-old president before the Aug. 22 ambush in suburban Petitclamart.

Police checked the identities of nearly a million persons before making the five arrests. The interior minister named as leader of the gang Alain Bougrenet de la Tocnaye, a former lieutenant in the 1st Foreign Legion Paratroop Regiment which supported the April 1961, generals' putsch in Algeria.

Frey said it was "nearly certain" that De la Tocnaye received his orders from the terrorist Secret Army Organization in metropolitan France and that the overall operation was directed by terrorist chiefs who have taken refuge outside France.

Frey said that if the ambush of the De Gaulle motorcade driving from downtown Paris to Villacoublay airport had succeeded it would have resulted in a "butchery" of all the persons in the president's car. Riding with De Gaulle were his wife and their son-in-law, Col. Alain de Boissieu.

Frey said the intention of the eight gunmen at the scene was to halt De Gaulle's speeding car with a barrage of machine gun fire from a parked light truck. The slugs pierced the body of the car but bounced off puncture-proof tires. The chauffeur sped on to the airport.

Bear Ties Up Traffic On Streets

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A black bear wandered into Portland on Friday and touched off one of the city's most notable traffic jams.

Police at first tried to take the animal alive, but in the end had to shoot him lest he harm the growing crowds.

The bear was sighted at daybreak wandering in the southeast Portland residential area. Police asked radio stations to broadcast a warning for residents to stay indoors until they could get a tranquilizer gun to subdue the animal.

They planned to take him back to the hills east of Portland, where they believed he came from. While waiting for the pellet gun, they followed the bear quietly.

Some residents stayed inside, but hundreds of others rushed out, got into their automobiles and headed for the area. Streets became jammed, and police had to begin blocking intersections to keep hundreds of others from pouring in.

A helicopter from one radio station and an airplane from another hovered over the 2½-hour-long chase of the bear.

Police said the alarmed bear ran so fast they missed the only three times they got close enough to use the tranquilizer gun. In the end they turned to a high-powered rifle.

The animal was shot shortly before 9 a.m., but it was some time later before streets were cleared. Hundreds were late for work.

Texas City Hit By Flash Flood

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Heavy rains set off flash flooding in the Fort Worth area Friday night, forcing evacuation of some residents from low lying areas.

Rains measured up to 6½ inches at Justin, about 20 miles north of Fort Worth, in a 12-hour period. Heavy rain was still falling in the Fort Worth area at 10:45 p.m. EDT.

N. O. Shepherd, civil defense director for Fort Worth, said water was rising rapidly on Fossil Creek in the Richland Hills area northeast of Fort Worth. He said about 20 homes were being evacuated there.

Residents also fled from several homes in the northwest section of Fort Worth near Carswell Air Force Base.

President Seeks Standby Power To Call Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, faced with what the White House termed a critical international situation, asked Congress on Friday for standby authority to call 150,000 Reservists to active duty.

The President's request is likely to be granted speedily, but there was no indication at the Pentagon that any immediate call-up of Reservists or National Guardsmen is planned.

Congress members of both parties have been growing daily more vocal in demanding that some action be taken to counter the Communist military buildup in Cuba.

SCOPE UNLIMITED

The White House did not limit the scope of its request to the Cuban problem, however, but spoke of the "general international situation."

In a letter sending the proposed legislation to Congress, Kennedy said: "In my judgment this renewed authorization is necessary to permit prompt and effective responses, as necessary, to challenges which may be presented in any part of the free world, and I hope that the Congress will give its prompt support for this authorization, as it did so effectively a year ago."

It was just about a year ago that nearly 145,000 National Guardsmen and Reservists were called to active duty in the Berlin crisis, and this problem has been heating up again.

At the Pentagon, an official spokesman said: "Facing the situation in the world today, it is quite clear that the President needs the standby authority to call up Reserves as is provided in the draft of the bill if the need occurs between the adjournment of Congress and its return."

In answer to a question, the spokesman said that, "This has been under discussion for several days and the decision was made today to ask for the authority."

The authority voted a year ago to call up the Reservists expired on July 1.

Exiles Claim Cuba Buildup Is Growing

Say Camouflaged Guided Missile Bases Being Built

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Intelligence reports released by four major Cuban underground organizations Friday painted a picture of Cuba's being converted into a military fortress, and said Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government will join the Warsaw Treaty powers in two months.

Communist-bloc specialists are building camouflaged guided missile bases in Cuba with a striking range up to 400 miles, said the report.

More than 10,000 foreign troops have landed, the information added.

TROOPS LAND

Reported landings and activities were detailed in a 20-page booklet signed by chiefs in exile of the People's Revolutionary Movement, National Recovery Movement, Christian Democrat Movement, and Revolutionary Unity.

The report said that when the landings are completed, the men will be distributed to form a western army of Chinese, a central army of Russians, Hungarians and Czechs, and an Isle of Pines force of Africans.

The information added: "Large missile bases will be finished in 60 days.

"Cuba will then join the Warsaw Pact under agreements signed by Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro on his last trip to the Soviet Union."

The underground groups echoed Thursday's charge by the Cuban Revolutionary Council that the military buildup violated the Monroe Doctrine and inter-American treaties.

After two Soviet ships arrived at El Mariel, western Cuba, the report said, "Hermetically closed cars provided with ventilation tubes on either side were brought ashore. These vehicles, driven by Russians, transported Russian, Chinese, North Korean and African troops that disembarked. The men were dressed in dark green uniforms and white helmets, and had knapsacks and submachine guns."

Cuba Sea Raids Set By Exiles

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The leader of anti-Castro Cubans who shelled Havana last month said Friday his group is preparing to launch sea attacks on Communist ships in Cuban waters.

Juan Manuel Salvat told a news conference: "Any Communist-flagged ship, regardless of nationality, seen in Cuban territorial waters will be regarded as a military target and will be attacked without previous warning."

Salvat and members of the Students Revolutionary Directorate came to Caracas from Miami to issue what they called the Caracas Declaration as an answer to a Soviet announcement of military aid to the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Cuba.

Salvat called the Soviet military aid agreement "provocation which will find due answer in coming actions of our men."

He said his organization now has 300 youths active and presumably ready to take part in hit-and-run raids on Cuba.

But the declaration said anti-Castro Cubans need help to overthrow the Communists. It is impossible to counter MIG jet fighter planes and tanks without similar equipment.

Train Stops Slated For One Passenger

LONDON (AP)—A spokesman for Britain's nationalized railways said Friday that beginning Monday trains will stop at a ghost station for the benefit of a single passenger.

She is Alice Boardman, a nurse.

"But," added the spokesman, "we will stop for no one else and that's final."

The ruling brought an angry protest from the mothers of two schoolgirls who also want to use the station.

"I think this is absolutely ridiculous," said Mrs. James Frankland, mother of Hazel Frankland, 17.

The station is at Great Longstone in Derbyshire. As an economy measure, the station will be closed to all but the nurse.

"This is a special concession to a valuable nurse," said the railways spokesman.

Asked why the schoolgirls could not use the same train as the nurse, the spokesman replied: "To do this would be tantamount to reopening the station, thereby foregoing the necessary economies which we're making."

Said Aidan Crawley, a member of the House of Commons whose district includes Great Longstone: "If a train is going to stop for one person, I can't see why others cannot be picked up."

The nurse wouldn't comment, but her son Peter, 19, said: "Neither my father nor I will be able to use the same train as my mother—and we'd like to."

The mothers of the schoolgirls said they would appeal to the chairman of the British Transport Commission, Dr. Richard Beeching.

Senate Votes Tax-Pension Bill 75 to 4

Conferees May Tone Down Some Of Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, by a 75-4 margin, passed a much-diluted version Friday of the controversial bill which would permit self-employed persons to set up tax-deductible private pension funds.

This legislation has been bouncing around Congress for a dozen years and has passed the House three times. But previously the Senate rejected it even after watering down the provisions to pacify stiff opposition from both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

AGAINST BILL

On passage only Sens. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., Albert Gore, D-Tenn., Pat McNamara, D-Mich., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., voted against the bill.

Many of the amendments the Senate tied to the House-approved measure are unacceptable to backers of the legislation. They are hoping these will be dropped or toned down in the Senate-House Conference Committee that will work over the bill.

However, there is no assurance President Kennedy will find any version of the legislation acceptable. Some backers claim they have the strength to override any veto, provided Congress can finish the bill far enough ahead of adjournment.

The measure has drawn heavy support from doctors, lawyers and other professional men, along with many independent businessmen. Sponsors said it would help seven million self-employed and 11 million of their employes.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would permit a self-employed person to put up to 10 per cent of his income into the plan up to a maximum of $2,500. But under an amendment by Sens. Russell B. Long, D-La., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., only half of this contribution could be taken as a tax deduction. The House version had the same ceiling but would have permitted 100 per cent deduction.

Long said his and McCarthy's amendment would prevent a presidential veto.

As the bill cleared the House, it would cut income tax revenues an estimated $365 million a year. The Senate Finance Committee cut this to $200 million. The Long-McCarthy amendment lopped off another $100 million. And other Senate changes pared it down to about $35 million.

Railroads Ask Authority To Increase Fares

WASHINGTON (AP) —All 23 passenger-carrying railroads in the East asked the Interstate Commerce Commission on Friday for authority to increase passenger fares by 10 per cent when the federal transportation tax of that amount expires.

The expiration date, under a tax relief measure for the railroads signed by President Kennedy, is Nov. 15.

The request by the railroads was in a petition filed with the ICC by A. J. Winkler, agent for members of the General Passenger Committee of Eastern Railroads.

Winkler said the estimated $19 million in tax savings for the 23 Eastern railroads would still be more than $100 million short of putting passenger service on a break-even basis.

He said commuters using reduced rate or multiple-ride tickets would not be affected by the petition because the federal tax is not generally collected on these tickets.

Retention of the 10 per cent, the railroad spokesman said, would give the Eastern carriers additional revenue without inflationary increases in charges paid by passengers.

The railroads claimed losses totaling $133 million on passenger services last year.

Cloudy, Rain Expected Today

The weatherman predicts a rather gray — somewhat warmer — weekend with considerable cloudiness in sight through tonight.

Scattered showers are also predicted. Today's high is expected to be somewhere between 85 and 90 degrees. The low will range between 72 and 76 degrees.

Friday's top reading — under mostly cloudy skies — was 85 with the low recorded at 63. A light rain which began late Friday was not measurable.

Troops Use Powers For JFK Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top congressional Republicans Friday proposed a Formosa-type resolution in which Congress would authorize President Kennedy to use American troops against Cuba if necessary.

The plan was offered by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and his House counterpart, Rep. Charles A. Halleck. They urged Democrats to join in drawing up such a resolution, and urged that Americans unite in taking a "calm" approach to the Soviet military buildup in Cuba.

VIEWS MIXED

There was no immediate comment from the White House. Democratic views of the proposal were mixed.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told the Senate that any resolution authorizing armed action against Cuba "seems to imply a military attack — an aggressive act, a warlike act against the island, with American troops."

"Thousands of Cubans will die in such an attack and untold numbers of Americans," Mansfield said. "Is that what is wanted?"

Later, however, Mansfield said in an interview that while he still felt there must be a better approach than the Formosa-style resolution, he believed the GOP leaders were being calm about the Cuban situation.

He expressed agreement with a statement issued by Hubert H. Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader, which called the Republican proposal "a calm and reasoned approach."

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., key Democrat on the foreign relations committee, said the President already has all the authority he needs to use U. S. troops. But he said he would support the resolution if the President wants it.

BY REP. PASSMAN

Jonesville Dam Plan Announced

WASHINGTON (Special) — U. S. Rep. Otto Passman of Monroe announced Friday that an "early decision" is anticipated, with the approval of both the U. S. Corps of Engineers and the Department of the Interior, to locate the lock and dam number one below Jonesville in connection with the Ouachita River nine-foot navigation channel project.

Passman said he was "pleased" by the prospective action.

MORE PROTECTION

It would be a result, he said, of a revised, or modified, plan "intended to serve the best interests of the several and varied elements involved in this important program while fulfilling its major purpose for the nine-foot channel."

"The plan being developed also would provide additional flood protection and a comprehensive drainage program for Catahoula Parish and satisfactorily take care, too, of the Catahoula Lake situation.

"It is my hope and expectation that all the segments of the population in our district, regardless of their point of view as to which considerations are of primary importance, will be fully satisfied with the final results."

The program restudy on the part of the Corps of Engineers and the revised plans came about in response to requests made by Passman early this year.

He has, he said, "kept in close touch not only with the navigation, flood control and drainage aspects of the program, but also with the factors affecting wildlife and fishing interests."

Passman, as a member of the House appropriations committee, has been involved in obtaining House approval this year of $235,000 to finance final pre-construction planning for the project. This was the sum, he said, included in the budget request and for which the Corps of Engineers and the president of the Mississippi River Commission testified before the House public works appropriations committee. It was, therefore, the amount that he personally requested, he added.

He said, however, that the Corps of Engineers since that time has testified to a "capability" of utilizing $400,000 in this fiscal year.

U.S. Test Due Of Electronic Roads System

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Robert Baker, first man to hold the newly-created job of federal director of highway development, said Friday the government will run a major test of an automatic, electronic highway system within two years.

He spoke at the opening session of a regional conference on improved highway engineering.

Baker said the test would involve electronic cables in the highways and electronic adapters in the cars.

With the equipment, he said, a driver could get into his car, set a dial for his destination on the highway and sit back and wait until he is automatically taken to his goal.

AWAITING RESCUERS

Two Men Trapped On River Sandbar

MADERA, Calif. (AP) — Two hungry fishermen marooned on a sandbar in the middle of a mountain river munched food Friday and awaited rescue. Apparently they have been stranded for days—in a deep canyon and surrounded by rapids.

How they got there was unknown. How, or when, they will be rescued was uncertain.

John McLary, 30, and Keith Overston, 38, both of Newark, Calif., had been missing since Tuesday and were located Wednesday. They had gone into the deep canyon 65 miles east of Madera to fish on Saturday.

Three paramedics tried Friday to maneuver a rubber life raft upstream with the aid of grappling hooks. Another paramedic planned to shoot downstream on another raft.

Steep, narrow canyon walls prevent a helicopter pickup. Rapids prevent a normal water rescue.

If the paramedics succeed, they will land on the sandbar, pick up the men and float down stream to a spot where a helicopter can rescue them.

A helicopter dropped food to McLary and Overston on Thursday after they wrote out F-O-O-D on the sandbar.

Rescuers cannot communicate with the fishermen because of the noise from the rapids on the middle fork of the San Joaquin River in the Sierra Nevada.

One of the men, believed to be Overston, a Hayward, Calif., school assistant principal, had a bandaged leg but was able to walk.

Senate Puts Off Action On Citation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee on Friday gave executives of four steel companies a chance to appear before it and explain why they feel they should not be cited for contempt of Congress.

The committee's Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee voted such a citation last Friday when the steel men refused to honor subpoenas calling on them to produce manufacturing cost data.

FAVOR HEARING

But instead of voting on the subcommittee's request for approval of the citation, the parent committee in closed session Friday decided to hear the company executives in public next Wednesday.

The steel executives already had requested such a hearing in a letter to the committee chairman, Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

The companies involved are Bethlehem, Republic, National and Armco.

Their refusal to produce the requested records is based on a claim that if the data became public or otherwise reaches their domestic and foreign competitors, they would be seriously damaged in a business way. They argue additionally that no legitimate legislative purpose would be served by making the records available.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the subcommittee, insists, however, that the fears of disclosure are unfounded.

He says the plan is to have the figures submitted directly to the General Accounting Office where they would be analyzed in groups of three and averaged out with the companies identified only by letters. Kefauver claims not even the subcommittee members

Warning Issued On Necklaces

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts commissioner of public health issued a warning Friday against what it said was peril from an extremely poisonous bean from Haiti, used for necklaces, clothing ornamentation and novelty adornments.

Dr. Alfred L. Frechette said the chewing of a single bean will be followed by violent sickness within hours and can result in death within 12 days. He said thousands of necklaces made from the poisonous beans have been sold in Massachusetts.

He described it as "the jequirty bean" and said it poses an especial threat to children because they frequently chew on necklaces and other ornaments. He said the piercing of the hard shell of the bean for use in ornamentation permits easy ingestion of the poison inside.

While State Food and Drug Division inspectors believe they have removed most of such necklaces from stores, some may still be on sale.

The beans are said to resemble lady bugs in appearance and size. The ripe bean is small and black, but they generally are seen as rather small red beads with one black spot.

In Washington, a spokesman for the Food and Drug Administration said that agency plans to file seizure actions wherever the products are found.

AGAINST BILL

On passage only Sens. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., Albert Gore, D-Tenn., Pat McNamara, D-Mich., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., voted against the bill.

Many of the amendments the Senate tied to the House-approved measure are unacceptable to backers of the legislation. They are hoping these will be dropped or toned down in the Senate-House Conference Committee that will work over the bill.

However, there is no assurance President Kennedy will find any version of the legislation acceptable. Some backers claim they have the strength to override any veto, provided Congress can finish the bill far enough ahead of adjournment.

The measure has drawn heavy support from doctors, lawyers and other professional men, along with many independent businessmen. Sponsors said it would help seven million self-employed and 11 million of their employes.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would permit a self-employed person to put up to 10 per cent of his income into the plan up to a maximum of $2,500. But under an amendment by Sens. Russell B. Long, D-La., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., only half of this contribution could be taken as a tax deduction. The House version had the same ceiling but would have permitted 100 per cent deduction.

Long said his and McCarthy's amendment would prevent a presidential veto.

As the bill cleared the House, it would cut income tax revenues an estimated $365 million a year. The Senate Finance Committee cut this to $200 million. The Long-McCarthy amendment lopped off another $100 million. And other Senate changes pared it down to about $35 million.

Railroads Ask Authority To Increase Fares

WASHINGTON (AP) —All 23 passenger-carrying railroads in the East asked the Interstate Commerce Commission on Friday for authority to increase passenger fares by 10 per cent when the federal transportation tax of that amount expires.

The expiration date, under a tax relief measure for the railroads signed by President Kennedy, is Nov. 15.

The request by the railroads was in a petition filed with the ICC by A. J. Winkler, agent for members of the General Passenger Committee of Eastern Railroads.

Winkler said the estimated $19 million in tax savings for the 23 Eastern railroads would still be more than $100 million short of putting passenger service on a break-even basis.

He said commuters using reduced rate or multiple-ride tickets would not be affected by the petition because the federal tax is not generally collected on these tickets.

Retention of the 10 per cent, the railroad spokesman said, would give the Eastern carriers additional revenue without inflationary increases in charges paid by passengers.

The railroads claimed losses totaling $133 million on passenger services last year.

Cloudy, Rain Expected Today

The weatherman predicts a rather gray — somewhat warmer — weekend with considerable cloudiness in sight through tonight.

Scattered showers are also predicted. Today's high is expected to be somewhere between 85 and 90 degrees. The low will range between 72 and 76 degrees.

Friday's top reading — under mostly cloudy skies — was 85 with the low recorded at 63. A light rain which began late Friday was not measurable.

Troops Use Powers For JFK Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top congressional Republicans Friday proposed a Formosa-type resolution in which Congress would authorize President Kennedy to use American troops against Cuba if necessary.

The plan was offered by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and his House counterpart, Rep. Charles A. Halleck. They urged Democrats to join in drawing up such a resolution, and urged that Americans unite in taking a "calm" approach to the Soviet military buildup in Cuba.

VIEWS MIXED

There was no immediate comment from the White House. Democratic views of the proposal were mixed.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told the Senate that any resolution authorizing armed action against Cuba "seems to imply a military attack — an aggressive act, a warlike act against the island, with American troops."

"Thousands of Cubans will die in such an attack and untold numbers of Americans," Mansfield said. "Is that what is wanted?"

Later, however, Mansfield said in an interview that while he still felt there must be a better approach than the Formosa-style resolution, he believed the GOP leaders were being calm about the Cuban situation.

He expressed agreement with a statement issued by Hubert H. Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader, which called the Republican proposal "a calm and reasoned approach."

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., key Democrat on the foreign relations committee, said the President already has all the authority he needs to use U. S. troops. But he said he would support the resolution if the President wants it.

Jonesville Dam Plan Announced

WASHINGTON (Special) — U. S. Rep. Otto Passman of Monroe announced Friday that an "early decision" is anticipated, with the approval of both the U. S. Corps of Engineers and the Department of the Interior, to locate the lock and dam number one below Jonesville in connection with the Ouachita River nine-foot navigation channel project.

Passman said he was "pleased" by the prospective action.

MORE PROTECTION

It would be a result, he said, of a revised, or modified, plan "intended to serve the best interests of the several and varied elements involved in this important program while fulfilling its major purpose for the nine-foot channel."

"The plan being developed also would provide additional flood protection and a comprehensive drainage program for Catahoula Parish and satisfactorily take care, too, of the Catahoula Lake situation.

"It is my hope and expectation that all the segments of the population in our district, regardless of their point of view as to which considerations are of primary importance, will be fully satisfied with the final results."

The program restudy on the part of the Corps of Engineers and the revised plans came about in response to requests made by Passman early this year.

He has, he said, "kept in close touch not only with the navigation, flood control and drainage aspects of the program, but also with the factors affecting wildlife and fishing interests."

Passman, as a member of the House appropriations committee, has been involved in obtaining House approval this year of $235,000 to finance final pre-construction planning for the project. This was the sum, he said, included in the budget request and for which the Corps of Engineers and the president of the Mississippi River Commission testified before the House public works appropriations committee. It was, therefore, the amount that he personally requested, he added.

He said, however, that the Corps of Engineers since that time has testified to a "capability" of utilizing $400,000 in this fiscal year.

U.S. Test Due Of Electronic Roads System

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Robert Baker, first man to hold the newly-created job of federal director of highway development, said Friday the government will run a major test of an automatic, electronic highway system within two years.

He spoke at the opening session of a regional conference on improved highway engineering.

Baker said the test would involve electronic cables in the highways and electronic adapters in the cars.

With the equipment, he said, a driver could get into his car, set a dial for his destination on the highway and sit back and wait until he is automatically taken to his goal.

AWAITING RESCUERS

Two Men Trapped On River Sandbar

MADERA, Calif. (AP) — Two hungry fishermen marooned on a sandbar in the middle of a mountain river munched food Friday and awaited rescue. Apparently they have been stranded for days —in a deep canyon and surrounded by rapids.

How they got there was unknown. How, or when, they will be rescued was uncertain.

John McLary, 30, and Keith Overston, 38, both of Newark, Calif., had been missing since Tuesday and were located Wednesday. They had gone into the deep canyon 65 miles east of Madera to fish on Saturday.

Three paramedics tried Friday to maneuver a rubber life raft upstream with the aid of grappling hooks. Another paramedic planned to shoot downstream on another raft.

Steep, narrow canyon walls prevent a helicopter pickup. Rapids prevent a normal water rescue.

If the paramedics succeed, they will land on the sandbar, pick up the men and float down stream to a spot where a helicopter can rescue them.

A helicopter dropped food to McLary and Overston on Thursday after they wrote out F-O-O-D on the sandbar.

Rescuers cannot communicate with the fishermen because of the noise from the rapids on the middle fork of the San Joaquin River in the Sierra Nevada.

One of the men, believed to be Overston, a Hayward, Calif., school assistant principal, had a bandaged leg but was able to walk.

Senate Puts Off Action On Citation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee on Friday gave executives of four steel companies a chance to appear before it and explain why they feel they should not be cited for contempt of Congress.

The committee's Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee voted such a citation last Friday when the steel men refused to honor subpoenas calling on them to produce manufacturing cost data.

FAVOR HEARING

But instead of voting on the subcommittee's request for approval of the citation, the parent committee in closed session Friday decided to hear the company executives in public next Wednesday.

The steel executives already had requested such a hearing in a letter to the committee chairman, Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

The companies involved are Bethlehem, Republic, National and Armco.

Their refusal to produce the requested records is based on a claim that if the data became public or otherwise reaches their domestic and foreign competitors, they would be seriously damaged in a business way. They argue additionally that no legitimate legislative purpose would be served by making the records available.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the subcommittee, insists, however, that the fears of disclosure are unfounded.

He says the plan is to have the figures submitted directly to the General Accounting Office where they would be analyzed in groups of three and averaged out with the companies identified only by letters. Kefauver claims not even the subcommittee members

Warning Issued On Necklaces

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts commissioner of public health issued a warning Friday against what it said was peril from an extremely poisonous bean from Haiti, used for necklaces, clothing ornamentation and novelty adornments.

Dr. Alfred L. Frechette said the chewing of a single bean will be followed by violent sickness within hours and can result in death within 12 days. He said thousands of necklaces made from the poisonous beans have been sold in Massachusetts.

He described it as "the jequirty bean" and said it poses an especial threat to children because they frequently chew on necklaces and other ornaments. He said piercing of the hard shell of the bean for use in ornamentation permits easy ingestion of the poison inside.

While State Food and Drug Division inspectors believe they have removed most of such necklaces from stores, some may still be on sale.

The beans are said to resemble lady bugs in appearance and size. The ripe bean is small and black, but they generally are seen as rather small red beads with one black spot.

In Washington, a spokesman for the Food and Drug Administration said that agency plans to file seizure actions wherever the products are found.

Governors, Solons Ask JFK To End Rail Strike

White House Intervention Is Requested

CHICAGO (UPI) — Midwestern senators and governors Friday besieged President Kennedy and his administration with appeals for White House intervention to force a quick end to the North Western Railroad strike.

Iowa Sens. Bourke B. Hickenlooper and Jack Miller called on the President to give the 8-day old strike of 1,000 telegraphers his "immediate personal attention."

Gov. Norman A. Erbe of Iowa appealed to Kennedy to bring about an early settlement of the knotty job security dispute and halt a "lockout action" by a subsidiary of the 10,565-mile line, third largest in the nation.

Nerbaska Gov. Frank B. Morrison asked the Labor Department to "do everything possible" to terminate a strike that would have "chaotic" effects on the state's third largest in the nation.

Nebraska Gov. Frank B. Morrison asked the Labor Department to "chaotic" effects on the state economy if it lasts much longer.

Appeals for presidential intervention multiplied as federal mediator Francis A. O'Neill reported, "there is no break."

O'Neill conferred with President George Leighty of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers (ORT) for an hour and a half, then switched his mediation efforts to officials of the North Western.

He indicated he expected to continue his shuttle between ORT strike headquarters and the railroad executive offices over the weekend, but said the fact he would keep working did not offer hope a settlement was near.

Leighty also said there was no real progress and added: "As the strike continues, it's possible that our terms for settlement may be different."

The walkout and shutdown of the big freight hauling line forced industrial plants to shut down, caused hundreds of workers to be laid off and stranded crops at rail sidings far from the market place.

Hickenlooper and Miller told the President in a joint telegram that the strike was "seriously affecting many Iowa businesses and their employes" and has "seriously impaired the transportation of farm products."

"The entire situation is grave to both management and labor and it appears that mediation on your part or your recommendations to Congress for appropriate legislation is required," they said.

DIANA JANE Smith, of Oak Ridge, Miss Louisiana in the Miss America contest here, plays the organ during the talent judging in preliminary competition in Convention Hall before a crowd of 6,633.

VOTE TABULATION

Diana Jane Enters 'Long Wait' Period

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (Special) — Miss Louisiana, every inch a Southern belle, rang the bell at the Miss America pageant Friday night. And the "girl-watchers society" is still whistling.

Oak Ridge's Diana Jane Smith competed in the evening gown division — her final preliminary contest of the pageant. And the crowd roared and whistled its approval as the Northeast State College senior strolled down the long runway.

The hazel - eyed brunette with the 35-23-35 figure wore a white silk gown with a flowing but slender skirt. It had a round scooped neckline with jeweled droplets over the bodice which was accented by a small bow beginning a flat panel which continued to the floor.

The winner of the evening gown division is never revealed for some mystifying reason. But the Smith girl from Oak Ridge was one of the crowd pleasers, judging by the din that greeted her stroll.

And now the Oak Ridge beauty begins the long wait.

The final tabulation of votes takes place this morning in a closely guarded room whose location is not being revealed. There, the official tabulators will come up with the names of the 10 girls with the highest scores.

While this is going on, Diana and her sister beauties will be in the giant convention hall for last minute rehearsals. They'll polish their talent acts just one more time.

In Diane's case, she'll sit down at the organ and run through her two selections — "Lady from Spain" and "Sabre Dance."

Then she'll head back to her beachfront hotel to check her evening gown and swimsuit. And maybe she'll find time for a quick visit to the hairdresser.

At approximately 8 p.m. Saturday, Diana will find out whether she enters the magic land of Miss America.

Emcee Bert Parks will name the 10 semi - finalists. The ten will run through their paces again — talent, swimsuit and evening gown. Five will be eliminated. The remaining five will each answer a question on stage.

Then the judges will vote for the new queen of beauty.

That magic name could be Diana Jane Smith of Oak Ridge.

Vets Benefits Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed legislation Friday increasing compensation of nearly two million disabled veterans by an average of 9.4 per cent.

Kennedy noted in a statement that this is the first increase for service-disability since 1937.

"It will offset the increase in the cost of living which have occurred since the last modification of compensation rates went into effect," Kennedy said.

JFK Regime Blamed For Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP)— Tempers flashed in a Senate investigation Friday as N. Battle Hales charged that weakened farm-aid safeguards under the Kennedy administration let the Billie Sol Estes case become a "National scandal."

Hales, a storm-center Agriculture Department employe stuck firmly to his charges that: a departmental breakdown occurred; Estes profited from top-level favoritism "unprecedented in my 21 years" in the agency his superiors still are reluctant to tighten up.

He added he is "personally ashamed" for the department and acknowledged he had been tardy in trying to do anything about the Estes case.

Hales' testimony drew some ripsaw questions from subcommittee members.

Chairman John L. McCellan, D-Ark., accused Hales of "quibbling and splitting hairs" when the witness declared he did not mean to "reflect on the administration as such" but merely to show that a breakdown had started "after officials of the new administration took over."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, who has defended the department's handling of the Estes case, angrily told Hales at one point: "That is one of the most incoherent answers I've ever heard in a hearing."

McClellan likewise complained that he found some of Hales' responses baffling. After bowing his head in a weary gesture, the senator assured Hales he was "just trying to help you" develop an accurate record, and to please answer questions more responsively.

The subcommittee is trying to determine whether political influence helped Estes swing deals in which he obtained profitable cotton planting allotments for 3,123 of his Texas acres in 1961.

The Agriculture Department, after some off-again on-again handling of the case, finally declared the deals illegal and imposed civil penalty fines on Estes totaling $554,000 in one case, $48,000 in another.

The subcommittee failed to finish quizzing Hales before recessing until Wednesday — the day Estes himself had been scheduled to testify.

It remained to be seen whether this would force a rescheduling of Estes' appearance or even extend the hearings an extra week. McClellan had hoped to conclude this phase of the inquiry of Sept. 14.

Reading from a prepared statement, Hales told the subcommittee he had tried and failed to get a far faster crackdown on the Estes deals.

But McClellan told Hales: "I can't see how you were pressing to get action in the Estes case."

Hales' story was that he had been locked out of his job last April as an investigative official in the department and transferred to a less important post "because of the Estes case." He said he now is a coordinator of defense services in the agency, and does not like the job.

Birth Control Report Slated To Be Issued

Welfare Office Planning Survey On Reproduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Welfare Department, in a sharp reversal of policy, decided Friday night to issue a controversial birth control report by the end of the year.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze announced the survey of research in the field of birth control and human reproduction, which has been in preparation by the Public Health Service for some time, will be completed and issued by Jan. 1.

The secretary's announcement followed disclosure Thursday that Surgeon General Luther L. Terry had decided against publication of the report in its present form.

Investigators for the House Government Information subcommittee visited the National Institutes of Health, where the report was developed over a year ago, on Friday. Shortly afterwards word came that the parent Welfare Department had decided the report should be issued after all.

Terry told a reporter Friday morning he had reached his decision not to publish the report in its present form because he felt the report would be subject to being misunderstood and misinterpreted. At that time, he said the report had been returned to the National Institutes of Health and, though it was not dead, no one was actively assigned to work on it. He said there had been no decision as to when it might be issued.

Celebrezze's statement, made more than an hour after the close of the regular business day at the department, said he had not seen the report personally, but had discussed issuance of it with Terry.

"Dr. Terry informed me that the report needs additional work, and I requested that this be completed not later than Jan. 1," Celebrezze said.

"Dr. Terry pointed out that the report contains a great deal of highly technical information that might be subject to misunderstanding unless adequately explained.

"For this reason, he has directed that the draft report be throughly reviewed within the Public Health Service.

"I was assured by Dr. Terry that this work can be completed by the end of the year."

EAST BATON ROUGE

Negroes Charged In Indictments For Defamation

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The East Baton Rouge Parish Grand Jury returned indictments Friday charging that two Negro integration leaders defamed Dist. Atty. Sargent Pitcher and Dist. Judge Fred Blanche.

The two separate indictments named the Rev. B. Elton Cox of High Point, N. C., a field secretary for the Congress of Racial Equality, and the Rev. Arthur Jelks Sr., president of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Each of the Negro ministers was accused separately of defaming the district attorney and the district judge.

Both the judge and the district attorney figured in the conviction here of Cox earlier for his part in mass demonstrations by Negro students against segregation last December.

A special session of the Grand Jury was held to hear the new case. The Grand Jury called four newsmen and a Negro attorney.

There had been reports the Grand Jury was investigating certain remarks the Negro integration leaders made at a rally here last Tuesday.

The rally of some 100 persons was held after Jelks was unsuccessful in his efforts to enroll seven Negro children in white schools.

One was his own 14-year-old daughter, Patricia.

The Grand Jury subpoenaed four newsmen who attended the rally—Jim Erwin of radio station WIBR, Robert Wagner of WDSU-TV in New Orleans, Gerald Moses of United Press International and Jack Owens of The Associated Press.

Also subpoenaed was Johnnie Jones, Negro attorney here who has been working with integration leaders.

During the afternoon, Patricia Ann Tate, chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality chapter here, and Ronnie M. Moore, CORE field secretary, both Negroes, handed out a prepared statement which they said they were willing to give the Grand Jury verbal or written accounts of Cox's message at the rally.

When the Grand Jury reported in open session of the 18th Judicial District Court after its day-long deliberations, Dist. Judge Fred S. LeBlanc issued bench warrants for the arrest of the two Negro ministers.

The judge fixed bond at $5,000 on each count. Maximum penalty for criminal defamation under the Louisiana statutes is a fine of $3,000 or one year in the state penitentiary or both.

Officials Say Calls Unlikely For Reservists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senior military officials believe it would be necessary to call to duty only a relatively few Reservists or National Guardsmen in event of another emergency on the scale of last year's Berlin crisis.

However, any more serious new threat in Berlin or Cuba—or both —likely would bring as big a mobilization as the summer of 1961. Then 145,000 Army, Air Force and Navy Reservists and National Guardsmen were mustered into federal service for a year.

Whatever the diplomatic reasons might be, President Kennedy's request to Congress on Friday for authority to call up a new batch of 150,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen was regarded from the purely military standpoint as a standby action.

No special mobilization schedule has been ordered for the immediate future, informed sources said. However, there always are mobilization plans in the files of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the individual armed services to deal with various potential threats.

The United States now has 15 combat-ready Army divisions. A 16th will be in ready-to-fight shape by Oct. 13.

In the summer of 1961, the United States had only 11 combat-fit Army divisions and three understrength divisions used mainly for training recruits.

FIRST CONVENTION

Louisiana Tourist Group Slates Meet

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — The fast - growing role of tourism in Louisiana's economy will be spotlighted in New Orleans Sept. 26 when the Lovely Louisiana Tourist Association holds its first annual convention.

Business, civic and legislative leaders from throughout the state are expected to be on hand for the conference, which will be held in the Roosevelt Hotel.

State Senator Sylvan Friedman of Natchez, LLTA president, said the meeting — first of its kind in the state "and maybe in the country" — will concentrate on mapping an intensified tourist-promotion program for Louisiana during the coming year.

A preliminary draft of the convention program was released following a planning meeting held at the Roosevelt by Friedman and a number of LLTA officers and members, including State Senator J. C. Gilbert of Sicily Island, Seymour Weiss of New Orleans, Secretary of State Wade O. Martin, Tourist Bureau Director Bill Welch, Gus Kent of New Orleans and Cecil Middleton of DeRidder.

"LARGEST INDUSTRY"

"Since we began our work, tourism has grown to our third largest industry, thanks to the hard work and cooperation of many of our finest citizens," Friedman said. "Now, we are aiming at nothing short of making tourism our first industry in Louisiana."

Friedman said invitations to the meeting will go out to all the mushrooming association's members and to a number of special guests, including Gov. Jimmie Davis and Mayor Victor Schiro of New Orleans.

Highlights of the convention program will include a progress report and a complete review of the expanded tourist - inducement activities for the year ahead.

Plans now being worked up include training clinics for those who come into contact with tourists; tourist aid and information courses for municipal police; a stepped-up "See Louisiana First" campaign; greater national publicity and many other steps, Friedman pointed out.

The non - profit LLTA, organized in August of 1961, is a coordinating agency uniting the tourist development efforts of all factions in the state. The association's program has been praised by the U. S. Department of Commerce as "among the finest in the country."

JFK Regime Blamed For Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP)— Tempers flashed in a Senate investigation Friday as N. Battle Hales charged that weakened farm-aid safeguards under the Kennedy administration let the Billie Sol Estes case become a "National scandal."

Hales, a storm-center Agriculture Department employe stuck firmly to his charges that: a departmental breakdown occurred; Estes profited from top-level favoritism "unprecedented in my 21 years" in the agency his superiors still are reluctant to tighten up.

He added he is "personally ashamed" for the department and acknowledged he had been tardy in trying to do anything about the Estes case.

Hales' testimony drew some ripsaw questions from subcommittee members.

Chairman John L. McCellan, D-Ark., accused Hales of "quibbling and splitting hairs" when the witness declared he did not mean to "reflect on the administration as such" but merely to show that a breakdown had started "after officials of the new administration took over."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, who has defended the department's handling of the Estes case, angrily told Hales at one point: "That is one of the most incoherent answers I've ever heard in a hearing."

McClellan likewise complained that he found some of Hales' responses baffling. After bowing his head in a weary gesture, the senator assured Hales he was "just trying to help you" develop an accurate record, and to please answer questions more responsively.

The subcommittee is trying to determine whether political influence helped Estes swing deals in which he obtained profitable cotton planting allotments for 3,123 of his Texas acres in 1961.

The Agriculture Department, after some off-again on-again handling of the case, finally declared the deals illegal and imposed civil penalty fines on Estes totaling $554,000 in one case, $48,000 in another.

The subcommittee failed to finish quizzing Hales before recessing until Wednesday — the day Estes himself had been scheduled to testify.

It remained to be seen whether this would force a rescheduling of Estes' appearance or even extend the hearings an extra week. McClellan had hoped to conclude this phase of the inquiry of Sept. 14.

Reading from a prepared statement, Hales told the subcommittee he had tried and failed to get a far faster crackdown on the Estes deals.

But McClellan told Hales: "I can't see how you were pressing to get action in the Estes case."

Hales' story was that he had been locked out of his job last April as an investigative official in the department and transferred to a less important post "because of the Estes case." He said he now is a coordinator of defense services in the agency, and does not like the job.

Birth Control Report Slated To Be Issued

Welfare Office Planning Survey On Reproduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Welfare Department, in a sharp reversal of policy, decided Friday night to issue a controversial birth control report by the end of the year.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze announced the survey of research in the field of birth control and human reproduction, which has been in preparation by the Public Health Service for some time, will be completed and issued by Jan. 1.

The secretary's announcement followed disclosure Thursday that Surgeon General Luther L. Terry had decided against publication of the report in its present form.

Investigators for the House Government Information subcommittee visited the National Institutes of Health, where the report was developed over a year ago, on Friday. Shortly afterwards word came that the parent Welfare Department had decided the report should be issued after all.

Terry told a reporter Friday morning he had reached his decision not to publish the report in its present form because he felt the report would be subject to being misunderstood and misinterpreted. At that time, he said the report had been returned to the National Institutes of Health and, though it was not dead, no one was actively assigned to work on it. He said there had been no decision as to when it might be issued.

Celebrezze's statement, made more than an hour after the close of the regular business day at the department, said he had not seen the report personally, but had discussed issuance of it with Terry.

"Dr. Terry informed me that the report needs additional work, and I requested that this be completed not later than Jan. 1," Celebrezze said.

"Dr. Terry pointed out that the report contains a great deal of highly technical information that might be subject to misunderstanding unless adequately explained.

"For this reason, he has directed that the draft report be throughly reviewed within the Public Health Service.

"I was assured by Dr. Terry that this work can be completed by the end of the year."

FIRST CONVENTION

Louisiana Tourist Group Slates Meet

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — The fast - growing role of tourism in Louisiana's economy will be spotlighted in New Orleans Sept. 26 when the Lovely Louisiana Tourist Association holds its first annual convention.

Business, civic and legislative leaders from throughout the state are expected to be on hand for the conference, which will be held in the Roosevelt Hotel.

State Senator Sylvan Friedman of Natchez, LLTA president, said the meeting — first of its kind in the state "and maybe in the country" — will concentrate on mapping an intensified tourist-promotion program for Louisiana during the coming year.

A preliminary draft of the convention program was released following a planning meeting held at the Roosevelt by Friedman and a number of LLTA officers and members, including State Senator J. C. Gilbert of Sicily Island, Seymour Weiss of New Orleans, Secretary of State Wade O. Martin, Tourist Bureau Director Bill Welch, Gus Kent of New Orleans and Cecil Middleton of DeRidder.

"LARGEST INDUSTRY"

"Since we began our work, tourism has grown to our third largest industry, thanks to the hard work and cooperation of many of our finest citizens," Friedman said. "Now, we are aiming at nothing short of making tourism our first industry in Louisiana."

Friedman said invitations to the meeting will go out to all the mushrooming association's members and to a number of special guests, including Gov. Jimmie Davis and Mayor Victor Schiro of New Orleans.

Highlights of the convention program will include a progress report and a complete review of the expanded tourist - inducement activities for the year ahead.

Plans now being worked up include training clinics for those who come into contact with tourists; tourist aid and information courses for municipal police; a stepped-up "See Louisiana First" campaign; greater national publicity and many other steps, Friedman pointed out.

The non - profit LLTA, organized in August of 1961, is a coordinating agency uniting the tourist development efforts of all factions in the state. The association's program has been praised by the U. S. Department of Commerce as "among the finest in the country."

EAST BATON ROUGE

Negroes Charged In Indictments For Defamation

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The East Baton Rouge Parish Grand Jury returned indictments Friday charging that two Negro integration leaders defamed Dist. Atty. Sargent Pitcher and Dist. Judge Fred Blanche.

The two separate indictments named the Rev. B. Elton Cox of High Point, N. C., a field secretary for the Congress of Racial Equality, and the Rev. Arthur Jelks Sr., president of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Each of the Negro ministers was accused separately of defaming the district attorney and the district judge.

Both the judge and the district attorney figured in the conviction here of Cox earlier for his part in mass demonstrations by Negro students against segregation last December.

A special session of the Grand Jury was held to hear the new case. The Grand Jury called four newsmen and a Negro attorney.

There had been reports the Grand Jury was investigating certain remarks the Negro integration leaders made at a rally here last Tuesday.

The rally of some 100 persons was held after Jelks was unsuccessful in his efforts to enroll seven Negro children in white schools.

One was his own 14-year-old daughter, Patricia.

The Grand Jury subpoenaed four newsmen who attended the rally—Jim Erwin of radio station WIBR, Robert Wagner of WDSU-TV in New Orleans, Gerald Moses of United Press International and Jack Owens of The Associated Press.

Also subpoenaed was Johnnie Jones, Negro attorney here who has been working with integration leaders.

During the afternoon, Patricia Ann Tate, chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality chapter here, and Ronnie M. Moore, CORE field secretary, both Negroes, handed out a prepared statement which they said they were willing to give the Grand Jury verbal or written accounts of Cox's message at the rally.

When the Grand Jury reported in open session of the 18th Judicial District Court after its day-long deliberations, Dist. Judge Fred S. LeBlanc issued bench warrants for the arrest of the two Negro ministers.

The judge fixed bond at $5,000 on each count. Maximum penalty for criminal defamation under the Louisiana statutes is a fine of $3,000 or one year in the state penitentiary or both.

Officials Say Calls Unlikely For Reservists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senior military officials believe it would be necessary to call to duty only a relatively few Reservists or National Guardsmen in event of another emergency on the scale of last year's Berlin crisis.

However, any more serious new threat in Berlin or Cuba—or both—likely would bring as big a mobilization as the summer of 1961. Then 145,000 Army, Air Force and Navy Reservists and National Guardsmen were mustered into federal service for a year.

Whatever the diplomatic reasons might be, President Kennedy's request to Congress on Friday for authority to call up a new batch of 150,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen was regarded from the purely military standpoint as a standby action.

No special mobilization schedule has been ordered for the immediate future, informed sources said. However, there always are mobilization plans in the files of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the individual armed services to deal with various potential threats.

The United States now has 15 combat-ready Army divisions. A 16th will be in ready-to-fight shape by Oct. 13.

In the summer of 1961, the United States had only 11 combat-fit Army divisions and three understrength divisions used mainly for training recruits.

Work Schedule Changes Noted

New hours of work take effect Monday at Northeast Louisiana State College, Dean of Administration J. M. Nicholson announced Friday.

Regular schedule will be from 7:55 a.m. to noon and from 1-4:30 p.m. during weekdays, and from 7:50 a.m. to noon Saturdays. Variation will take place next Wednesday and Thursday, however, when, to allow more time for registration, hours will be from 7:55 a.m. to noon and from 1-5 p.m.

Schedules also are under preparation at the college whereby civil service employees will work on alternate Saturdays. Employees working irregular hours will be affected by neither of the schedules.

Radiation Belt Findings Bared

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists said Friday that U.S. astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. can undertake his planned Mercury orbital flight late this month without fear of harm from the H-bomb radiation belt.

Releasing data from a detailed study of the artificial electron belt created by a U.S. high-altitude nuclear test last July, they also reported that:

1. The twin Soviet cosmonauts received very small radiation doses on their mission last month.

2. The radio "noise" caused by the radiation belt will remain detectable at the lower latitudes for a long time, if special techniques are employed, but it "does not constitute a significant problem to radio astronomy."

3. The radiation doses caused rapid deterioration of solar-cell power supplies aboard the Ariel and TRAAC-Transit 4B satellites, as reported a week ago. But they did not affect the operational performance of the sturdier, strong-built Telstar communications satellite orbiting through the same radiation belt.

4. Because of the effect on Ariel, TRAAC and Transit, future National Aeronautics and Space Administration space missions are being reviewed "in light of the present information concerning the new belt." It is likely that a substantial number of future space experiments will be changed to avoid possible damage from radiation sources of this type.

The three-agency government report said a six-orbit Mercury mission, such as is planned for Schirra, would lead to an electron dose on the astronaut's skin of about eight roentgens.

The roentgen is a unit of radiation measurement. It takes 25 R's before any blood changes begin. Blood changes do occur between 25 and 75 R, and above 100 R nausea and skin irritation develop.

Between 200 and 400 R, radiation sickness and the first radiation deaths occur. At 700 R the radiation is sufficient to wipe out populations.

The Atomic Energy Commission, the Defense Department and NASA arrived at the finding in a joint study on the "Status of Trapped Electrons from the Starfish High-Altitude Nuclear Test"—the thermonuclear explosion over Johnston Island in the Pacific last July 9.

BEAR BARGES BY

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Carl E. Owens of Fletcher didn't know that trouble was "bruin" as he drove along the Blue Ridge Parkway.

Suddenly, a big, black bear charged into his car, bashing in the left front fender. When the surprised driver regained control of the car, he looked back. The bear, apparently none the worse for wear, was heading back into the woods.

Senate Puts Off Action On Citation

will know the figures for any individual company.

The protesting companies claim these safeguards are inadequate because cost accounts could break down the data made public and get company figures.

Eight other steel producers, including U.S. Steel, have agreed, under protest, to produce the requested records. But Kefauver has withheld collection of any of the data pending settlement of the dispute with the recalcitrant four.

Kefauver said he voted against the Wednesday hearing because he believes it sets a bad precedent.

Kefauver said if this privilege of explaining defiance of a subpoena is extended to steel companies it will have to be extended also to suspected Communists, criminals and others who may choose to defy subpoenas from congressional committees.

The subcommittee's efforts to obtain the cost data began back in April shortly after U.S. Steel announced a $6-a-ton price increase. Big Steel's lead was promptly followed by most other producers but some held out and the increase later was rescinded under pressure from President Kennedy.

The subcommittee's announced goal was to determine whether monopoly practices are followed in the steel industry where prices charged by all companies tend to be uniform and U.S. Steel usually sets the pricing pattern.

When the four companies objected to the original subpoenas, Kefauver issued "second-chance" summonses naming both companies and individual executives. It was these second-round subpoenas to which the steel men refused to respond last week.

Eastland told reporters that not only had the steel men asked to be heard but some committee members had told him both sides should be heard. He said he hoped the companies would agree on a single spokesman to expedite the hearing.

If, after the hearing, the committee should approve the contempt citation, the Senate would have to give its endorsement. The matter then would be referred to the Justice Department which would decide whether to go ahead with criminal proceedings. A contempt conviction carries a maximum penalty of a year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Accidents Plague Police As 15 Reports Taken

A rash of automobile accidents Friday which kept Twin City Police officers on the move as the highlight of the day's activity, apparently resulted in little serious injury. At least 15 collisions had been reported by 10 p.m.

A crash at the corner of North Seventh Street and Benson in West Monroe left 12-year-old motor scooter rider, Ovis Staggs, 1001 Trenton St., with a broken left leg. Police said the youth collided with a car driven by Walter F. Everett, 60, 209 Benson, as Everett was attempting a turn south off Benson. The boy was charged with being without a drivers license and Everett with reckless driving.

Six-year-old Michael Shaughnessy, 2808 Jersey St., West Monroe, was taken to a private physician after he was struck in front of 1408 Wellerman Road by a car driven by Ethel B. Cargile, 70, 1606 Wellerman Road. His injuries were not believed serious and no charges were filed.

One other crash occurred in West Monroe during the day, resulting in neither personal injury nor heavy property damage, but Monroe officers encountered a spate of at least 12 crashes.

One, late last night, still under investigation, sent a Negro man to E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital with undetermined injuries. Police said charges were pending in that crash at the corner of Breard and Walnut.

Also in Monroe, Negro Freggie Mick, 31, 1225 DeSiard St., was charged with reckless driving, and Henry Tyler, 48, also a Negro, 113 South Coleman Ave., West Monroe, booked for carrying a concealed weapon.

Charged earlier in the day in West Monroe with driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages was 23 year old Negro Herman M. Ellis Jr., 722 Coleman, West Monroe. He was apprehended around 12:40 p.m. in the vicinity of Glenwood Hospital.

Germans And Drugs

Now that congress has passed a law which apparently will curb the development of greatly-needed new drugs in the United States but which will do little, if anything, to insure greater safety, a lot of second-thinking is being done.

Under the 2-column head, "Scientists Fear New Laws May Curb Drug Research," the New York Times, which often has views so similar to those of President Kennedy that it is difficult to tell whether the president speaks for the paper or the paper speaks for him, pointed out the dangers seen by scientists and others in the drastically restrictive law. The story reflected on the results of the "frenzied public response to the thalidomide episode."

Scientists interviewed by the Times fear that "new controls may restrict the sound, scientific practice that is necessary for the discovery and development of vitally needed drugs."

Congress passed the drug - restriction bill under the prodding of headline - hunter liberals who would do anything they think might bring in a few more votes. For the sake of gaining a little political advantage, these men were willing to set back the development of medicine in America by perhaps as much as a generation. On the pretense of possibly preventing a few deformities in children, they were willing to lock medicine up in such a way that such killer diseases as cancer and heart trouble may go on unconquered for decades longer than necessary — and at a time when heart trouble reportedly kills more people than all other causes combined.

Although scientists in this country, still working with some freedom, discovered the danger of thalidomide in time to hold the damage to an extreme minimum, the United States faces a law that is believed certain to retard the development of medicine. The danger of the drug was reported from two separate sources in this country before there were any known deformities.

On the other hand, in West Germany, where the greatest harm resulted, the opposite view was taken.

Crosby Noyes, foreign correspondent for the Washington Star, cabled from Dusseldorf, West Germany, that in that country the general attitude is that increased government control of drugs would not be in the public interest. The argument in Germany is that "the only result of tighter government regulation would be to keep new products off the market without any improvement in safety standards."

That appears to be exactly what the United States is doing.

The German say: "The improvement in testing procedures should be left to the industry which has itself the liveliest and most direct interest in insuring the safety and effectiveness of its products."

Because they made one mistake, the West Germans are not willing to put shackles on an independent drug industry. Yet, the United States, which made no such mistake, is being called upon to turn its drug development program over to a federal department of health and welfare which knows no more about drugs and their development than does one of the hod-carriers on the vastly expensive new buildings that are being constructed in Washington.

Too Many Transfusions

Just as no one donor should be expected to supply blood for all patients needing transfusions at a hospital, so should no one nation of the world expect to supply industrial and economic blood for all the nations of the world, particularly when some of those nations are already in better shape than the donor.

Seventeen years have passed since the end of World War II. During most of that time the United States has been pumping economic blood into the veins of most of the nations of the world. In that length of time one would surely think that these nations should have developed enough stamina of their own to be able to stand on their own legs.

Take Greece, for example. That is a nation with a noble heritage and one which once was a leading power of the world. During World War II the axis allies, composed chiefly of Germany and Italy, invaded Greece and inflicted much damage. Since Greece generally is regarded as an upright country and one which has resisted communism, there seems to have been about as much justification for giving that nation foreign aid as any other.

But that has been a long time. Many Greeks born since the end of World War II have attained the statures of men and women. Can it be possible that these young men and women sometimes wonder why their nation must always receive donations from the United States? Do they regard this country as an indulgent godfather?

In a recent appearance in Athens, Greece, Lyndon B. Johnson, vice-president of the United States, who spends a great deal of his time visiting other countries, because President Kennedy likes it better when he is out of the United States, pledged to worried Greek leaders that American aid to Greece would continue at a high level.

Johnson after a two-hour conference with Greek Premier Constantine Caramanlis and Foreign Minister Evanghelos Averoff-Tossizza, said:

"I have informed the Greek premier the United States will continue at a high level its assistance aimed at the economic enhancement of Greek national security and Greek economic development."

The American vice-president visited Athens at a time when the Greeks were openly disappointed over a $20-million United States aid cut ordered last July.

The Kennedy administration this year is asking about $1 billion more in foreign aid than was granted last year.

Kennedy has intimated that the people of the United States should forget the national deficit. At the same time, he advocates pouring vast sums of money into most of the countries of the world so that they can carry on their economy without going into debt too much. If a huge debt doesn't hurt the United States, why should it hurt Greece or any of the other numberless countries we are giving money to while our own debt mounts?

We have been giving so many economic transfusions to so many other countries that we are sapping our own strength and vitality.

When will it end or even decrease?

The history of liberty is the history of the limitations placed upon governmental power. Woodrow Wilson.

Legislation is powerless to eradicate racial instincts or to abolish distinctions based upon physical differences, and the attempt to do so can only result in accenuation of the present situation. — United States Supreme Court, 1896.

Soviet Union Pulls Ahead

Passes U.S. In Some Areas Of Atomic Weapons Design Such As Anti-Missile Missile Warheads

A preliminary analysis of the latest Soviet nuclear tests shows that the Soviet Union again has pulled ahead of the U. S. in some areas of atomic weapons design, particularly in the large - yield warheads for anti - missile missiles.

In studying the results of the still - secret analysis, Defense Department officials have been disturbed by the development progress and technical sophistications shown by the Soviet Union in continuing to reduce the weight and increasing the explosive yield of these nuclear warheads.

Already, Air Force monitors have collected sufficient evidence from the radio - active debris spewed from the first nine atmospheric blasts to indicate that Soviet scientists have developed an anti - missile or anti - satellite warhead ten times more powerful than any weapon that the U. S. now has in its stockpile, on the production line, or in laboratory design.

This startling nuclear breakthrough, when coupled with the Soviet's recent space spectacular — the joint launching and maneuvering of two - man satellites within sight of each other — means that their scientists have perfected a new military - space weapon system capable of intercepting and destroying U. S. satellites.

The U. S. does not have this capability.

The Army's Nike - Zeus, which is the nearest weapon that the U. S. has to a satellite - killer, is under development and being tested as an anti - missile missile.

From results of recent tests in the Pacific, Army scientists are convinced that the Nike - Zeus could be converted to an anti-satellite weapon, but that it will take two years of development and a billion dollars. Another U.S. satellite intercepter is the Saint. An Air Force project, the Saint is still in the research stage.

MEETING THE CHALLENGE —This growing Soviet nuclear-space thrust is the main reason behind two explosive recommendations that the Joint Chiefs of Staff have sent to President Kennedy.

These military advisors are urging the President (1) to double funds for the military space program, and (2) consider taking military action, if necessary, to keep the Soviets from completing a satellite tracking station in Cuba.

A whole range of new security problems for the U. S. is being raised by the Kremlin's decision to build a tracking station just 90 miles from the Florida coast, according to the JCS.

For instance, they report that the stations will give the Soviets almost instantaneous data on all U. S. satellite and missile launchings from our big test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla. With this information, Russian scientists would be able to intercept any U. S. satellites that pass over the Soviet Union.

Six U. S. military satellites now orbit across Russia daily. These include four Samos, the spy-in-the - sky - satellite, and two Midas a satellite with infra - red detection devices. The latter is designed to spot Soviet missile firings, while the former is being used to photograph Soviet missile and nuclear installations.

Once the Soviets complete their tracing station in Cuba, the Joint Chiefs of Staff believe Soviet Premier Khrushchev will show off the accuracy of his new anti - satellite by ordering the interception of a U. S. satellite — probably a Samos or Midas.

The JCS warn that this shot which would echo around the world could damage U. S. prestige even more than the Soviet's launching of the first sputnik or cosmonaut.

They want the President to make it clear to Khrushchev now that such a hostile act would be construed by the U. S. as the opening of the battle for military control of space.

SOVIET MARITIME POWER— Russia is quietly becoming one of the world's great maritime powers.

Land - locked for centuries, the Soviets are now challenging the naval and merchant fleets of the U. S. and Great Britain.

The Soviet navy, now manned by 750,000 officers and men, has grown swiftly since 1954 and numbers 455 submarines, including nine nuclear submarines, 26 cruisers, 167 destroyers, 285 frigates, and 1,000 smaller fighting crafts and auxiliaries.

Soviet trawlers are now outfishing U. S. fishermen in the Atlantic and Pacific waters off the U.S. coasts which, until 1955, saw only an occasional Soviet commercial fishing boat. In August the Russians had 132 trawlers operating off both U. S. coasts.

Russia, which is supplying Cuba with 80 per cent of all its imports, now has 200 freighters and tankers assigned to the "Havana run" to bolster Castro's sagging economy and to build up his military might.

Altogether, Russia has 1,168 freighters and tankers, with a total of 5.5 million deadweight tons. Russia's fleet is now sixth in world trade volume. Four years ago it was 21st.

In ship - building Russia is ordering vessels at an almost unbelievable pace, outbuilding the U. S. 2-to-1. Russia is building 2.086 million tons of merchant shipping as contrasted with 1.09 million by the U. S.

By the latest U. S. Naval Intelligence count, Russia has 170 freighters, 42 tankers, and 18 passenger - cargo vessels building in shipyards located in Russia, Japan, Italy, Bulgaria, Poland, West Germany, East Germany, Finland, Yugoslavia, Sweden, and Denmark.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Just A Headache

Work Of Healthy Businessman Is Interfered With By Pain

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am an apparently healthy businessman of 46 who has been having severe headaches for the past six months. Sometimes aspirin helps and sometimes it doesn't. They are not severe enough to keep me away from work, but certainly cut down my efficiency quite often. When they last for hours, I'm practically knocked out.

My wife insists that I go to a doctor, and I think it's silly to take up his time for just a headache. What do you think? — Mr. T.

Comment: Just a headache? Then you can't be suffering much. But since they are severe enough to interfere with your work, I suggest medical investigation. Headaches that latch on deserve observation. And please get over the belief that headaches are unimportant — and that your doctor will consider you silly and bothersome.

Even diagnosis can be a challenge, because headaches come in so many varieties. For example, consider this classification of headaches sent to me by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's Public Health Service, prepared by the Committee on Classification of Headache of the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness:

1. Vascular Headache of Migraine Type: A. "Classic" migraine B. "Common" migraine. C. "Cluster" headache. D. "Hemiplegic" and "Opthalmopledgic" migraine. E. "Lower - half" headache.

2. Muscle - contraction headache.

3. Combined headache: Vascular and muscle - contraction.

4. Headache of nasal vasomotor reaction.

5. Headache of delusional, conversation, or hypochondriacal states.

6. Nonmigrainous vascular headaches.

7. Traction headache.

8. Headache due to overt cranial inflammation.

9. to 13. Headaches due to disease of ocular, aural, nasal and sinusal, dental, or other cranial or neck structures.

14. Cranial neuritides

15. Cranial neuralgias

As you read this list I doubt that any of it makes any sense or understanding. My purpose was not to have you search here for a diagnosis, but to make you aware of the fact that diagnosing a headache is not always a simple job.

This gives you some idea of what confronts the doctor when the average headache sufferer comes in and says, "Will you do something for my headaches?"

Diagnosis isn't simple, neither is cure. Therefore, by all means, follow your wife's good advice and make an appointment with your family doctor. And if he can't find the cause right away, just refresh your memory by rereading this list of causes, and you will know why diagnosis doesn't always come easy.

I suggest that you and others interested send for my leaflet, "Hints on How to Overcome Headaches." Enclose 10 cents and a self - addressed, stamped envelope and send to me, c-o this newspaper.

MORE ON HEADACHES

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have a strong feeling of relationship to the young woman mentioned in your column who suffers so much from headaches. I was even advised to see a psychiatrist.

Instead I went to an allergist. He found I am sensitive to milk. I not only quit drinking it, but also all the things that include milk — candy, pastries, puddings, cheeses, milk sauces, etc. The result was miraculous. I am headache - free and happy. My diet is a small price to pay for comfort. — Mrs. R.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "Allergy — Disguised Attacker," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self - addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c-o this newspaper.

Symington Roast

Senator To Be Hard Hit By Own Words If Probe Is Resumed

When (or if) Senator Stuart Symington resumes his stockpiling investigation, he will be hit hard by his own words. It will be recalled that the Missouri Democrat cried loud and hard that the M. A. Hanna Company made "exorbitant" profits from the manufacture and sale of nickel to the Federal Government. The man tarred by these charges was former Treasury Secretary George Humphrey, honorary chairman of the board of the Hanna company. It will also be recalled that when Mr. Humphrey didn't take it lying down — counter-charging that Senator Symington was playing politics and attempting to use his investigation to stab the Eisenhower Administration — the hearings were suddenly recessed in gavel-pounding pandemonium. In short, Mr. Symington made his charges of wrongdoing against Mr. Humphrey and then refused to permit a full accounting.

Well, this is politics as it is played on Capitol Hill. The press and the Democrats had a field day, but this is nothing new in Washington and no one lost any sleep over it. Since then, however, George Humphrey and the Republicans have been looking into the record — and waiting happily for another turn at bat, if Senator Symington permits it.

For the record shows that in 1957, Senator Symington and the Democratic majority not only knew all the facts of the Hanna contract with the government and of the sale of nickel which is now being roundly criticized; they also enthusiastically approved of it and tried to give the credit to the Truman Administration.

Here is the story Mr. Humphrey will spread on the record if Senator Symington gives him the opportunity:

In 1957, the Senate Preparedness Investigating subcommittee, of which Senator Lyndon Johnson was chairman, took a long, careful look at the stockpiling situation and of the nickel contracts with the Hanna company. Writing of government procurement of nickel, the subcommittee reported that it "had previously recommended that the United States encourage the development of domestic sources of supply where feasible . . . Subsequent negotiations between the government and the Hanna company resulted in the execution of contracts. . . For the development of ore deposits and the construction of a ferro-nickel smelting plant for the production of ferronickel up to a maximum of 125 million pounds of contained nickel."

The report further stated that "the government assisted this operation materially by underwriting the development and construction programs through capital advances and by the offer of premium prices for the nickel produced." It is about these premium prices that Senator Symington now waves the flag of moral outrage.

Patting itself on the back for the Hanna contract, the subcommittee added: "The foregoing projects represent the significant increases that have occurred in the free-world supply of nickel. These projects have been sponsored or encouraged by various forms of financial aid, as part of the government's nickel expansion program." And then it boasted:

"All of these projects. . . were initiated prior to the middle of 1953." In fact, they were initiated prior to the inauguration of President Eisenhower, and the contracts were drawn up by Democratic officeholders under Mr. Truman who recognized the need for increasing nickel production. Mr. Humphrey, a Republican, was at the time actively assisting General Eisenhower to win the Presidency, and therefore not likely to get any special favors.

The kicker, of course, is that Senator Symington himself signed this approving report in 1957. This may explain why he literally turned bright red in the face when Mr. Humphrey answered back instead of taking the beating Mr. Symington was trying to administer.

In short, what the Truman Administration thought necessary in 1952, and what Senator Symington wholeheartedly approved in 1957, became a crime in August, 1962, when the Congressional elections were in the offing. No wonder Symington ended the hearings so abruptly. He knew that to keep George Humphrey on the stand would change the spear he had thrown into a boomerang.

But as I said, that's politics. It would never have happened had Senator Symington thought before he acted.

SYLVIA PORTER

Competition Toll

Fiercest Era In Modern American History Is Hitting Firms

The fiercest competitive era in modern United States history is taking a stiff toll of our business firms.

The trend of business deaths and the losses they create has been zig-zagging from month to month, but when the totals of business failures and their liabilities are studied coldly over recent years, there is no question that the death trend is up.

The trend of business births also has been zig-zagging but when the total of new business incorporations is charted over a period of time, there also is no question that the birth trend is down.

These two statistics - business failure liabilities and net new business incorporations — are among the 12 "leading" indicators of economic cycles in our country. The blunt meaning of this is that their adverse movements now well may be telegraphing in advance the next business slide.

But, significant as this is, even more important is the evidence that business deaths are in a LONG-TERM UPTREND while business births are in a LONG-TERM DOWNTREND, for this says plainly that there are forces which are fundamentally wrong in our economy, and unless we correct them so more businesses can survive and thrive, we'll not be able to provide the jobs and paychecks needed for our working population.

The evidence of the long-term trends is clear.

Item: The total of operating concerns at the start of 1962 was around 4,750,000, up about 40,000 over the start of 1961. But the rise during recovery 1961 was less than 1 per cent, smaller even than the rise in recession 1960. This takes the glitter off the fact that the total of businesses is at an all-time peak.

Item: While 437,000 firms were born in 1961, this was about the same as in 1960 and nearly 400,000 companies died last year. The deaths in recovery 1961 were 3.5 per cent higher than in recession 1960.

Item: The growth in our business population has slowed to about 1 per cent in the past two years and the number of firms in manufacturing now is actually lower than it was 10 years ago.

Item: The failure rate improved in June, but the improvement was exceedingly spotty, and among manufacturing business failures hit a seven-month high.

Item: As the improvement in June was highly selective by line of business, so it was selective by geographical distribution. Most of the improvement was concentrated in a few states — New York, Illinois, Michigan, Alabama, Louisiana. In Colorado and Arizona the failure rate is way up.

The pattern is unmistakable. Why? Dun & Bradstreet has made a breakdown of the causes of the 17,075 failures which it recorded in 1961 (highest since 1933) into these categories: inexperience, 46.9 per cent; incompetence, 41.4 per cent; neglect, 3 per cent; fraud, 1.3 per cent; disaster, 0.8 per cent; reason unknown, 3.6 per cent.

But underlying all these fundamentals is the fundamental — tough competition in a nation which is just not growing strongly enough to support a rapidly expanding business population or labor population. Many fields are over-crowded. There have been violent shifts in consumer demands. Profits have been in a protracted squeeze consisting of stable prices on one side, climbing costs on the other. The problem of adequate financing of smaller businesses particularly has been compounded since the crack in the stock market.

Even established firms are no longer immune to the pressures. More than 21 per cent of the businesses failing in 1961, Dun & Bradstreet reports, had been in existence for more than 10 years, more than 22 per cent had been in existence six to 10 years.

As always, the highest mortality rate is among the business babies — a death rate of 56.2 per cent in businesses in existence five years or less in 1961 — but the toll is rising among older ones too.

If this is the pattern in the recovery years of 1961-62, you well may shiver over how failures will swell and the start of new enterprises will shrink when the next downturn hits — unless we tackle in time and boldly the problem of accelerating our growth.

In a recent appearance in Athens, Greece, Lyndon B. Johnson, vice-president of the United States, who spends a great deal of his time visiting other countries, because President Kennedy likes it better when he is out of the United States, pledged to worried Greek leaders that American aid to Greece would continue at a high level.

Johnson after a two-hour conference with Greek Premier Constantine Caramanlis and Foreign Minister Evanghelos Averoff-Tossizza, said:

"I have informed the Greek premier the United States will continue at a high level its assistance aimed at the economic enhancement of Greek national security and Greek economic development."

The American vice-president visited Athens at a time when the Greeks were openly disappointed over a $20-million United States aid cut ordered last July.

The Kennedy administration this year is asking about $1 billion more in foreign aid than was granted last year.

Kennedy has intimated that the people of the United States should forget the national deficit. At the same time, he advocates pouring vast sums of money into most of the countries of the world so that they can carry on their economy without going into debt too much. If a huge debt doesn't hurt the United States, why should it hurt Greece or any of the other numberless countries we are giving money to while our own debt mounts?

We have been giving so many economic transfusions to so many other countries that we are sapping our own strength and vitality.

When will it end or even decrease?

The history of liberty is the history of the limitations placed upon governmental power. Woodrow Wilson.

Legislation is powerless to eradicate racial instincts or to abolish distinctions based upon physical differences, and the attempt to do so can only result in accenuation of the present situation. — United States Supreme Court, 1896.

Soviet Union Pulls Ahead

Passes U.S. In Some Areas Of Atomic Weapons Design Such As Anti-Missile Missile Warheads

A preliminary analysis of the latest Soviet nuclear tests shows that the Soviet Union again has pulled ahead of the U. S. in some areas of atomic weapons design, particularly in the large - yield warheads for anti - missile missiles.

In studying the results of the still - secret analysis, Defense Department officials have been disturbed by the development progress and technical sophistications shown by the Soviet Union in continuing to reduce the weight and increasing the explosive yield of these nuclear warheads.

Already, Air Force monitors have collected sufficient evidence from the radio - active debris spewed from the first nine atmospheric blasts to indicate that Soviet scientists have developed an anti - missile or anti - satellite warhead ten times more powerful than any weapon that the U. S. now has in its stockpile, on the production line, or in laboratory design.

This startling nuclear breakthrough, when coupled with the Soviet's recent space spectacular — the joint launching and maneuvering of two - man satellites within sight of each other — means that their scientists have perfected a new military - space weapon system capable of intercepting and destroying U. S. satellites.

The U. S. does not have this capability.

The Army's Nike - Zeus, which is the nearest weapon that the U. S. has to a satellite - killer, is under development and being tested as an anti - missile missile.

From results of recent tests in the Pacific, Army scientists are convinced that the Nike - Zeus could be converted to an anti-satellite weapon, but that it will take two years of development and a billion dollars. Another U.S. satellite intercepter is the Saint. An Air Force project, the Saint is still in the research stage.

MEETING THE CHALLENGE —This growing Soviet nuclear-space thrust is the main reason behind two explosive recommendations that the Joint Chiefs of Staff have sent to President Kennedy.

These military advisors are urging the President (1) to double funds for the military space program, and (2) consider taking military action, if necessary, to keep the Soviets from completing a satellite tracking station in Cuba.

A whole range of new security problems for the U. S. is being raised by the Kremlin's decision to build a tracking station just 90 miles from the Florida coast, according to the JCS.

For instance, they report that the stations will give the Soviets almost instantaneous data on all U. S. satellite and missile launchings from our big test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla. With this information, Russian scientists would be able to intercept any U. S. satellites that pass over the Soviet Union.

Six U. S. military satellites now orbit across Russia daily. These include four Samos, the spy-in-the - sky - satellite, and two Midas a satellite with infra - red detection devices. The latter is designed to spot Soviet missile firings, while the former is being used to photograph Soviet missile and nuclear installations.

Once the Soviets complete their tracing station in Cuba, the Joint Chiefs of Staff believe Soviet Premier Khrushchev will show off the accuracy of his new anti - satellite by ordering the interception of a U. S. satellite — probably a Samos or Midas.

The JCS warn that this shot which would echo around the world could damage U. S. prestige even more than the Soviet's launching of the first sputnik or cosmonaut.

They want the President to make it clear to Khrushchev now that such a hostile act would be construed by the U. S. as the opening of the battle for military control of space.

SOVIET MARITIME POWER— Russia is quietly becoming one of the world's great maritime powers.

Land - locked for centuries, the Soviets are now challenging the naval and merchant fleets of the U. S. and Great Britain.

The Soviet navy, now manned by 750,000 officers and men, has grown swiftly since 1954 and numbers 455 submarines, including nine nuclear submarines, 26 cruisers, 167 destroyers, 285 frigates, and 1,000 smaller fighting crafts and auxiliaries.

Soviet trawlers are now outfishing U. S. fishermen in the Atlantic and Pacific waters off the U.S. coasts which, until 1955, saw only an occasional Soviet commercial fishing boat. In August the Russians had 132 trawlers operating off both U. S. coasts.

Russia, which is supplying Cuba with 80 per cent of all its imports, now has 200 freighters and tankers assigned to the "Havana run" to bolster Castro's sagging economy and to build up his military might.

Altogether, Russia has 1,168 freighters and tankers, with a total of 5.5 million deadweight tons. Russia's fleet is now sixth in world trade volume. Four years ago it was 21st.

In ship - building Russia is ordering vessels at an almost unbelievable pace, outbuilding the U. S. 2-to-1. Russia is building 2.086 million tons of merchant shipping as contrasted with 1.09 million by the U. S.

By the latest U. S. Naval Intelligence count, Russia has 170 freighters, 42 tankers, and 18 passenger - cargo vessels building in shipyards located in Russia, Japan, Italy, Bulgaria, Poland, West Germany, East Germany, Finland, Yugoslavia, Sweden, and Denmark.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Just A Headache

Work Of Healthy Businessman Is Interfered With By Pain

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am an apparently healthy businessman of 46 who has been having severe headaches for the past six months. Sometimes aspirin helps and sometimes it doesn't. They are not severe enough to keep me away from work, but certainly cut down my efficiency quite often. When they last for hours, I'm practically knocked out.

My wife insists that I go to a doctor, and I think it's silly to take up his time for just a headache. What do you think? — Mr. T.

Comment: Just a headache? Then you can't be suffering much. But since they are severe enough to interfere with your work, I suggest medical investigation. Headaches that latch on deserve observation. And please get over the belief that headaches are unimportant — and that your doctor will consider you silly and bothersome.

Even diagnosis can be a challenge, because headaches come in so many varieties. For example, consider this classification of headaches sent to me by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's Public Health Service, prepared by the Committee on Classification of Headache of the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness:

1. Vascular Headache of Migraine Type: A. "Classic" migraine B. "Common" migraine. C. "Cluster" headache. D. "Hemiplegic" and "Opthalmopledgic" migraine. E. "Lower - half" headache.
2. Muscle - contraction headache.
3. Combined headache: Vascular and muscle - contraction.
4. Headache of nasal vasomotor reaction.
5. Headache of delusional, conversation, or hypochondriacal states.
6. Nonmigrainous vascular headaches.
7. Traction headache.
8. Headache due to overt cranial inflammation.
9. to 13. Headaches due to disease of ocular, aural, nasal and sinusal, dental, or other cranial or neck structures.
14. Cranial neuritides
15. Cranial neuralgias

As you read this list I doubt that any of it makes any sense or understanding. My purpose was not to have you search here for a diagnosis, but to make you aware of the fact that diagnosing a headache is not always a simple job.

This gives you some idea of what confronts the doctor when the average headache sufferer comes in and says, "Will you do something for my headaches?"

Diagnosis isn't simple, neither is cure. Therefore, by all means, follow your wife's good advice and make an appointment with your family doctor. And if he can't find the cause right away, just refresh your memory by rereading this list of causes, and you will know why diagnosis doesn't always come easy.

I suggest that you and others interested send for my leaflet, "Hints on How to Overcome Headaches." Enclose 10 cents and a self - addressed, stamped envelope and send to me, c-o this newspaper.

MORE ON HEADACHES

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have a strong feeling of relationship to the young woman mentioned in your column who suffers so much from headaches. I was even advised to see a psychiatrist.

Instead I went to an allergist. He found I am sensitive to milk. I not only quit drinking it, but also all the things that include milk — candy, pastries, puddings, cheeses, milk sauces, etc. The result was miraculous. I am headache - free and happy. My diet, is a small price to pay for comfort. — Mrs. R.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "Allergy — Disguised Attacker," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self - addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c-o this newspaper.

Symington Roast

Senator To Be Hard Hit By Own Words If Probe Is Resumed

When (or if) Senator Stuart Symington resumes his stockpiling investigation, he will be hit hard by his own words. It will be recalled that the Missouri Democrat cried loud and hard that the M. A. Hanna Company made "exorbitant" profits from the manufacture and sale of nickel to the Federal Government. The man tarred by these charges was former Treasury Secretary George Humphrey, honorary chairman of the board of the Hanna company. It will also be recalled that when Mr. Humphrey didn't take it lying down — counter-charging that Senator Symington was playing politics and attempting to use his investigation to stab the Eisenhower Administration — the hearings were suddenly recessed in gavel-pounding pandemonium. In short, Mr. Symington made his charges of wrongdoing against Mr. Humphrey and then refused to permit a full accounting.

Well, this is politics as it is played on Capitol Hill. The press and the Democrats had a field day, but this is nothing new in Washington and no one lost any sleep over it. Since then, however, George Humphrey and the Republicans have been looking into the record — and waiting happily for another turn at bat, if Senator Symington permits it.

For the record shows that in 1957, Senator Symington and the Democratic majority not only knew all the facts of the Hanna contract with the government and of the sale of nickel which is now being roundly criticized; they also enthusiastically approved of it and tried to give the credit to the Truman Administration.

Here is the story Mr. Humphrey will spread on the record if Senator Symington gives him the opportunity:

In 1957, the Senate Preparedness Investigating subcommittee, of which Senator Lyndon Johnson was chairman, took a long, careful look at the stockpiling situation and of the nickel contracts with the Hanna company. Writing of government procurement of nickel, the subcommittee reported that it "had previously recommended that the United States encourage the development of domestic sources of supply where feasible . . . Subsequent negotiations between the government and the Hanna company resulted in the execution of contracts. . . For the development of ore deposits and the construction of a ferronickel smelting plant for the production of ferronickel up to a maximum of 125 million pounds of contained nickel."

The report further stated that "the government assisted this operation materially by underwriting the development and construction programs through capital advances and by the offer of premium prices for the nickel produced." It is about these premium prices that Senator Symington now waves the flag of moral outrage.

Patting itself on the back for the Hanna contract, the subcommittee added: "The foregoing projects represent the significant increases that have occurred in the free-world supply of nickel. These projects have been sponsored or encouraged by various forms of financial aid, as part of the government's nickel expansion program." And then it boasted:

"All of these projects. . . were initiated prior to the middle of 1953." In fact, they were initiated prior to the inauguration of President Eisenhower, and the contracts were drawn up by Democratic officeholders under Mr. Truman who recognized the need for increasing nickel production. Mr. Humphrey, a Republican, was at the time actively assisting General Eisenhower to win the Presidency, and therefore not likely to get any special favors.

The kicker, of course, is that Senator Symington himself signed this approving report in 1957. This may explain why he literally turned bright red in the face when Mr. Humphrey answered back instead of taking the beating Mr. Symington was trying to administer.

In short, what the Truman Administration thought necessary in 1952, and what Senator Symington wholeheartedly approved in 1957, became a crime in August, 1962, when the Congressional elections were in the offing. No wonder Symington ended the hearings so abruptly. He knew that to keep George Humphrey on the stand would change the spear he had thrown into a boomerang.

But as I said, that's politics. It would never have happened had Senator Symington thought before he acted.

SYLVIA PORTER

Competition Toll

Fiercest Era In Modern American History Is Hitting Firms

The fiercest competitive era in modern United States history is taking a stiff toll of our business firms.

The trend of business deaths and the losses they create has been zig-zagging from month to month, but when the totals of business failures and their liabilities are studied coldly over recent years, there is no question that the death trend is up.

The trend of business births also has been zig-zagging but when the total of new business incorporations is charted over a period of time, there also is no question that the birth trend is down.

These two statistics - business failure liabilities and net new business incorporations — are among the 12 "leading" indicators of economic cycles in our country. The blunt meaning of this is that their adverse movements now well may be telegraphing in advance the next business slide.

But, significant as this is, even more important is the evidence that business deaths are in a LONG-TERM UPTREND while business births are in a LONG-TERM DOWNTREND, for this says plainly that there are forces which are fundamentally wrong in our economy, and unless we correct them so more businesses can survive and thrive, we'll not be able to provide the jobs and paychecks needed for our working population.

The evidence of the long-term trends is clear.

Item: The total of operating concerns at the start of 1962 was around 4,750,000, up about 40,000 over the start of 1961. But the rise during recovery 1961 was less than 1 per cent, smaller even than the rise in recession 1960. This takes the glitter off the fact that the total of businesses is at an all-time peak.

Item: While 437,000 firms were born in 1961, this was about the same as in 1960 and nearly 400,000 companies died last year. The deaths in recovery 1961 were 3.5 per cent higher than in recession 1960.

Item: The growth in our business population has slowed to about 1 per cent in the past two years and the number of firms in manufacturing now is actually lower than it was 10 years ago.

Item: The failure rate improved in June, but the improvement was exceedingly spotty, and among manufacturing business failures hit a seven-month high.

Item: As the improvement in June was highly selective by line of business, so it was selective by geographical distribution. Most of the improvement was concentrated in a few states — New York, Illinois, Michigan, Alabama, Louisiana. In Colorado and Arizona the failure rate is way up.

The pattern is unmistakable. Why? Dun & Bradstreet has made a breakdown of the causes of the 17,075 failures which it recorded in 1961 (highest since 1933) into these categories: inexperience, 46.9 per cent; incompetence, 44.4 per cent; neglect, 3 per cent; fraud. 1.3 per cent; disaster, 0.8 per cent; reason unknown, 3.6 per cent.

But underlying all these fundamentals is the fundamental — tough competition in a nation which is just not growing strongly enough to support a rapidly expanding business population or labor population. Many fields are over-crowded. There have been violent shifts in consumer demands. Profits have been in a protracted squeeze consisting of stable prices on one side, climbing costs on the other. The problem of adequate financing of smaller businesses particularly has been compounded since the crack in the stock market.

Even established firms are no longer immune to the pressures. More than 21 per cent of the businesses failing in 1961, Dun & Bradstreet reports, had been in existence for more than 10 years, more than 22 per cent had been in existence six to 10 years.

As always, the highest mortality rate is among the business babies — a death rate of 56.2 per cent in businesses in existence five years or less in 1961 — but the toll is rising among older ones too.

If this is the pattern in the recovery years of 1961-62, you well may shiver over how failures will swell and the start of new enterprises will shrink when the next downturn hits — unless we tackle in time and boldly the problem of accelerating our growth.

NEW GUINEA TREATY

Dutch Officials Critical Of JFK

THE HAGUE (UPI)— Premier Jan de Quay and Foreign Minister Joseph Luns said Friday The Netherlands "had to accept" a settlement with Indonesia over disputed New Guinea because of the "passive attitude" of the Kennedy administration.

The two top Dutch officials sharply criticized the United States and in effect charged it with welshing on a 1958 agreement authorizing Dutch troops to use American airports in case of an Indoesian attack on West New Guinea.

Their statements in the lower house of parliament came during a debate on ratification of the Dutch-Indonesian Treaty transferring the Pacific territory to Indonesia after interim supervision by the United Nations. The treaty was signed last month after the Unitec States mediated the dispute between the two nations.

De Quay said supplies of Soviet arms to Indonesia "were so big that an open war threatened to break out early in August."

The Netherlands had "the choice" of abandoning the territory or war, he said.

"Under these circumstances the Dutch government chose the only alternative—to continue the talks on the basis of the American compromise proposals which led to the present settlement, which we had to accept."

Replying to criticism voiced by the opposition Labor party during the first reading of the bill Thursday, De Quay rejected the labor call for Luns' resignation on the grounds that his "anti-American policy is not in the interest of the nation."

"If Luns resigns the cabinet will follow suit," the premier said.

"We have the freedom to criticize the United States for its sudden change of policy, even if the United States is a big nation," he added. We have criticized it for its attitude in a dignified manner."

Luns spoke next and said American policy with regard to New Guinea may have caused an increase in Soviet influence.

Soviets Call Up New Draftees

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Defense Ministry called up a new class for universal military service Friday, the Soviet news agency Tass announced, those born in 1943.

Simultaneously, Tass added, men in the army, navy, frontier guard forces and troops of the interior who have completed their training were transferred to the reserve.

Court Has Active Day

Heavy activity Friday in Monroe city court before Judge W. M. Harper was marked by a docket of 44 cases, 30 of them dealing with traffic violations ranging from reckless driving to overparking.

Apart from driving offenders, Negro Birdia Robinson, 46, 104 Green's Alley, drew a fine of $350 or seven months in jail on conviction of illegal use of a weapon, while Negro Louis Trimble, 17, 1718 Grammont, was fined $100 or 60 days on the same charge.

Negro Sam Manning, 35, 110 S. 5th St., West Monroe, drew a sentence of 60 days for theft by check, and Ira C. Newton, also a Negro, 33, of 613 N. 18th St., got 15 days for theft and 15 more for carrying a concealed weapon.

Charges of simple battery and disturbing the peace were nolle prossed on John Jones, 48, 401 Ouachita, on payment of court costs; a bond of $25 was forfeited in one case of public drunkenness and a fine of $25 or 25 days levied in another. For vagrancy, two persons were ordered held for fingerprint returns and the charge was nolle prossed in a third instance.

Nine cases of reckless driving were heard. Forfeiting bond of $25 were Louis Adams, 105 Standifer; S. D. Ross, 3411 Hasell; and Negroes Wilson Franklin, 3604 White, and Elmo Johnson, 201 Cedar. Fined $25 or 25 days were Weldon R. Sherman III, 1915 Sherwood; Edwina Starnes, 509 S. 5th St.; Jimmy Dye, 1405 S. 7th St.; and Negro Edward Bolden, 20, 310½ N. 19th St., who drew the same fine for driving without a valid state drivers license. The case of William Massey, 1309 Crescent Dr., was discharged.

For speeding, Tommy Anderson, 201 N. 14th St., forfeited bond of $12, while a bond of $5 was forfeited by R. W. Dupree, 117 Stone Ave.

Fines were levied in one case of running a red light and two bonds were forfeited, as were three bonds for running stop signs. Two others were fined for driving without a valid state drivers license; one was fined and three bonds forfeited for following too closely.

A single bond was forfeited for driving with an improper muffler and six bonds were forfeited for overparking.

Probe Begins Of River Crash

ROSEDALE, Miss. (AP) — The Coast Guard began an investigation Friday of a collision between two Mississippi River tugboats near here.

The Nelson M. Broadfoot and the Esso Pennsylvania collided near Victoria Bend Thursday and three fuel-laden barges caught fire—mostly from fumes. There were injuries and the flames were extinguished in 12 hours.

The Broadfoot, owned by Ingram Barge Lines of New Orleans, was carrying 19,000 barrels of kerosene and 24,000 barrels of gasoline to LaCrosse, Wisconsin. The Esso, owned by Standard Oil Co. of Baton Rouge, was towing seven empty barges home.

TELL OF ORDEAL

Girls Who Survived Crash Recovering

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—"I slept by Daddy to keep warm," 6-year-old Julie Clark whispered from her hospital bed.

"He didn't do anything. He was dead."

For three days and three nights, Julie and her sister Laurie, 8, huddled without food or water near the bodies of their parents and the wreckage of a light plane. Searchers found them on a pine-clad mountaintop Thursday.

The blonde little girls, dry-eyed and uncomplaining when rescuers found them, were recovering from exposure in St. Bernardine Hospital on Friday.

However, Laurie awakened in the hospital Thursday night, crying for her father, doctors said. Then she stopped weeping and said: "I'm sorry—he's dead."

Doctors reset a fractured bone in Laurie's left thigh and kept her under heavy sedation.

"They're both doing real well," a hospital spokesman said. "They're very cooperative and cheerful considering the circumstances."

Their parents, William and Jacqueline Clark, both 32, from San Diego, Calif., were killed in the crash of a single-engine Piper Cherokee on Monday. The plane went down in tall pines near Big Bear Lake, a mountain resort about 80 miles northeast of Los Angeles. Clark was vice president of Travelodge, Inc., a nationwide agency, and his wife was the daughter of Scott King, Travelodge's founder and president.

Investigators said the little girls were saved probably because they were strapped into rear seats.

"The plane went down real fast," Julie said. "Mommy and Daddy didn't have a chance to say anything.

"When the plane hit, Daddy and Laurie and me was thrown out. Mommy stayed in the plane.

The girl said she knew her parents were dead because "they didn't move." She helped Laurie sit up against a log.

"She was crying because her leg hurt. But after a while she quit crying.

"Laurie said I should go over to the plane and try and find some water. I looked all over because we always carried water but I couldn't find any. I couldn't find any food either.

"Then Laurie told me to look for something for us to keep warm with. I went back to the plane and found a suitcase. Mommy and Daddy's clothes were in it. We put them on and huddled together to keep warm. We didn't get cold.

"Later Laurie said I should go up over the hill to get help. I got halfway up and got scared so I ran back. I didn't get scared again though."

The youngsters didn't know there was a backwoods road about 300 yards above the wreckage. They could not see the road through the dense pines, and motorists on the road could not see them. They saw several search planes go by until they were spotted by a helicopter.

Aboard were their grandfather, Scott King, and a commercial pilot, Don Landels. Fearing for the emotional state of his passenger, Landels flew King back to the airport and returned to the crash scene as a ground party arrived.

"They didn't have any water," said Julie, "but they gave me some coffee. They asked me if I was all right and I said I was.

"Then they gave Laurie some coffee. They gave me some fruit, too. I think they were grapes. They tasted good. They put some salve on my lips and made them feel better."

Investigators from the Federal Aviation Agency and the sheriff's department are trying to determine cause of the crash.

But She Did

DEAL, England (AP) — An 11-year-old girl caught a fish with her bare hands Friday while 18 fisherman watched in envious amazement.

Clubs In N. O. Ask Injunction To Halt Raids

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —The owners of 13 Bourbon Street night clubs filed suit in state district court Friday seeking an injunction to halt raids in the current crackdown.

They charged in the suit that they have been "collectively and individually harassed in an unfair and illegal manner" by city police and the district attorney's staff.

Police have "patrolled these clubs in a most unreasonable and harassing fashion," the suit said, with officers questioning many patrons seated with their wives or dates about whether they have been solicited to buy drinks.

The suit seeks a temporary injunction to stop the raids until a hearing is set to determine whether a permanent injunction is warranted.

Officers in recent raids have arrested a number of women on charges of soliciting for B-drinks. Several club owners have been arrested on charges of violating an "improper lighting" ordinance.

The suit said the plaintiffs represent these Bourbon Street nightspots: Circus Club, Guys and Dolls, Jazz Ltd., El Morocco, Gunga Den, Silver Frolics, Club Hossy Totsy, Chez Parec, Club Sultana, Madame Fraucine's, Club Flamingo, Blue Angel and Frieda's Parisienne.

Tugwell Plans New Term Bid

BATON ROUGE (AP) — State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell, now serving his seventh four-year term, said Friday he will run for election to another term in 1963.

"I am running," he said flatly, when asked. He did not make a formal announcement.

The 72-year-old veteran of 23 years in the state treasurer's office said he had made up his mind some time ago to seek another term.

West Monroe Court Has Heavy Day

Judge John McCormick presided Friday over a heavy docket in West Monroe city court, built largely around traffic violations including driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and reckless driving.

Fined $300 and costs of court or 90 days in jail on counts of DWI were Minnie Bell Hansford, 42, route two, box 110, West Monroe, who also drew a fine of $25 and costs or 10 days for reckless driving and causing a wreck; Hershel Don Wheat, 22, 918 Montgomery, fined $25 and costs or 30 days in addition for reckless driving; Thomas F. Honea, 50, 419 Walters St.; Johnnie Patrick, 41, 1717 Coleman Ave., who also drew six months for disturbing the peace by appearing in public in an intoxicated condition.

In other cases of reckless driving and causing wrecks, Lesley J. Tippen, 19, 604 Mitchell Lane, was found not guilty; R. L. Dickens, Negro, 21, of 103 Ransom St., forfeited bond of $25.50; and fined $25 and costs or 10 days were 58-year-old C. H. Nolan of El Dorado, and Thomas C. Rowlan, 82, 105 Roselawn, Monroe. The latter fine was supended on payment of court costs. Charges were withdrawn against Lucille Ann Williamson, 19, 1006 Sherwood Dr., and Rena Landrum, 53, 621 Splane.

Bonds for reckless driving of $25.50 were forfeited by Richard L. Getchell, 22, 111 Zepher St., and Negro Abe Jackson Jr., 109 Grape St.

A 26-year-old Waldron, Ind., man, George Robert Gahimer, drew fines of $100 and costs or 90 days and $50 and costs or 30 days, respectively, on two counts of trespassing, while conviction of simple battery cost John J. NEW GUINEA TREATY

Dutch Officials Critical Of JFK

THE HAGUE (UPI)— Premier Jan de Quay and Foreign Minister Joseph Luns said Friday The Netherlands "had to accept" a settlement with Indonesia over disputed New Guinea because of the "passive attitude" of the Kennedy administration.

The two top Dutch officials sharply criticized the United States and in effect charged it with welshing on a 1958 agreement authorizing Dutch troops to use American airports in case of an Indoesian attack on West New Guinea.

Their statements in the lower house of parliament came during a debate on ratification of the Dutch-Indonesian Treaty transferring the Pacific territory to Indonesia after interim supervision by the United Nations. The treaty was signed last month after the Unitee States mediated the dispute between the two nations.

De Quay said supplies of Soviet arms to Indonesia "were so big that an open war threatened to break out early in August."

The Netherlands had "the choice" of abandoning the territory or war, he said.

"Under these circumstances the Dutch government chose the only alternative—to continue the talks on the basis of the American compromise proposals which led to the present settlement, which we had to accept."

Replying to criticism voiced by the opposition Labor party during the first reading of the bill Thursday, De Quay rejected the labor call for Luns' resignation on the grounds that his "anti-American policy is not in the interest of the nation."

"If Luns resigns the cabinet will follow suit," the premier said.

"We have the freedom to criticize the United States for its sudden change of policy, even if the United States is a big nation," he added. We have criticized it for its attitude in a dignified manner."

Luns spoke next and said American policy with regard to New Guinea may have caused an increase in Soviet influence.

Court Has Active Day

Heavy activity Friday in Monroe city court before Judge W. M. Harper was marked by a docket of 44 cases, 30 of them dealing with traffic violations ranging from reckless driving to overparking.

Apart from driving offenders, Negro Birdia Robinson, 46, 104 Green's Alley, drew a fine of $350 or seven months in jail on conviction of illegal use of a weapon, while Negro Louis Trimble, 17, 1718 Grammont, was fined $100 or 60 days on the same charge.

Negro Sam Manning, 35, 110 S. 5th St., West Monroe, drew a sentence of 60 days for theft by check, and Ira C. Newton, also a Negro, 33, of 613 N. 18th St., got 15 days for theft and 15 more for carrying a concealed weapon.

Charges of simple battery and disturbing the peace were nolle prossed on John Jones, 48, 401 Ouachita, on payment of court costs; a bond of $25 was forfeited in one case of public drunkenness and a fine of $25 or 25 days levied in another. For vagrancy, two persons were ordered held for fingerprint returns and the charge was nolle prossed in a third instance.

Nine cases of reckless driving were heard. Forfeiting bond of $25 were Louis Adams, 105 Standifer; S. D. Ross, 3411 Hasell; and Negroes Wilson Franklin, 3604 White, and Elmo Johnson, 201 Cedar. Fined $25 or 25 days were Weldon R. Sherman III, 1915 Sherwood; Edwina Starnes, 509 S. 5th St.; Jimmy Dye, 1405 S. 7th St.; and Negro Edward Bolden, 20, 310½ N. 19th St., who drew the same fine for driving without a valid state drivers license. The case of William Massey, 1309 Crescent Dr., was discharged.

For speeding, Tommy Anderson, 201 N. 14th St., forfeited bond of $12, while a bond of $5 was forfeited by R. W. Dupree, 117 Stone Ave.

Fines were levied in one case of running a red light and two bonds were forfeited, as were three bonds for running stop signs. Two others were fined for driving without a valid state drivers license; one was fined and three bonds forfeited for following too closely.

A single bond was forfeited for driving with an improper muffler and six bonds were forfeited for overparking.

Soviets Call Up New Draftees

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Defense Ministry called up a new class for universal military service Friday, the Soviet news agency Tass announced, those born in 1943.

Simultaneously, Tass added, men in the army, navy, frontier guard forces and troops of the interior who have completed their training were transferred to the reserve.

TELL OF ORDEAL

Girls Who Survived Crash Recovering

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—"I slept by Daddy to keep warm," 6-year-old Julie Clark whispered from her hospital bed.

"He didn't do anything. He was dead."

For three days and three nights, Julie and her sister Laurie, 8, huddled without food or water near the bodies of their parents and the wreckage of a light plane. Searchers found them on a pine-clad mountaintop Thursday.

The blonde little girls, dry-eyed and uncomplaining when rescuers found them, were recovering from exposure in St. Bernardine Hospital on Friday.

However, Laurie awakened in the hospital Thursday night, crying for her father, doctors said. Then she stopped weeping and said: "I'm sorry—he's dead."

Doctors reset a fractured bone in Laurie's left thigh and kept her under heavy sedation.

"They're both doing real well," a hospital spokesman said. "They're very cooperative and cheerful considering the circumstances."

Their parents, William and Jacqueline Clark, both 32, from San Diego, Calif., were killed in the crash of a single-engine Piper Cherokee on Monday. The plane went down in tall pines near Big Bear Lake, a mountain resort about 80 miles northeast of Los Angeles. Clark was vice president of Travelodge, Inc., a nationwide agency, and his wife was the daughter of Scott King, Travelodge's founder and president.

Investigators said the little girls were saved probably because they were strapped into rear seats.

"The plane went down real fast," Julie said. "Mommy and Daddy didn't have a chance to say anything.

"When the plane hit, Daddy and Laurie and me was thrown out. Mommy stayed in the plane.

The girl said she knew her parents were dead because "they didn't move." She helped Laurie sit up against a log.

"She was crying because her leg hurt. But after a while she quit crying.

"Laurie said I should go over to the plane and try and find some water. I looked all over because we always carried water but I couldn't find any. I couldn't find any food either.

"Then Laurie told me to look for something for us to keep warm with. I went back to the plane and found a suitcase. Mommy and Daddy's clothes were in it. We put them on and huddled together to keep warm. We didn't get cold.

"Later Laurie said I should go up over the hill to get help. I got halfway up and got scared so I ran back. I didn't get scared again though."

The youngsters didn't know there was a backwoods road about 300 yards above the wreckage. They could not see the road through the dense pines, and motorists on the road could not see them. They saw several search planes go by until they were spotted by a helicopter.

Aboard were their grandfather, Scott King, and a commercial pilot, Don Landels. Fearing for the emotional state of his passenger, Landels flew King back to the airport and returned to the crash scene as a ground party arrived.

"They didn't have any water," said Julie, "but they gave me some coffee. They asked me if I was all right and I said I was.

"Then they gave Laurie some coffee. They gave me some fruit, too. I think they were grapes. They tasted good. They put some salve on my lips and made them feel better."

Investigators from the Federal Aviation Agency and the sheriff's department are trying to determine cause of the crash.

Probe Begins Of River Crash

ROSEDALE, Miss. (AP) — The Coast Guard began an investigation Friday of a collision between two Mississippi River tugboats near here.

The Nelson M. Broadfoot and the Esso Pennsylvania collided near Victoria Bend Thursday and three fuel-laden barges caught fire—mostly from fumes. There were injuries and the flames were extinguished in 12 hours.

The Broadfoot, owned by Ingram Barge Lines of New Orleans, was carrying 19,000 barrels of kerosene and 24,000 barrels of gasoline to LaCrosse, Wisconsin. The Esso, owned by Standard Oil Co. of Baton Rouge, was towing seven empty barges home.

Area Football Results

Minden 13, Ruston 12

RUSTON (Special) — Ruston's newly installed Wing-T formation fell a point short here Friday night, with arch-rival Minden squeaking by 13-12 when a fourth quarter Bearcat extra point attempt failed.

Minden quarterback Fred Haynes, who scored both Crimson Tide touchdowns, took the opening kickoff and raced 70-yards to paydirt. Carl Shaw booted the PAT and the Tide led 7-0.

In the same period Ruston halfback Billy Adney, who starred for his team, slipped over from two yards to cap a 30-yard drive. The extra-point try failed.

Haynes ended a 50-yard Minden march in the final period by slicing through the Ruston line for the last nine yards. Shaw's kick was no good.

Ruston raced back to come within one point when Adeny rambled around left end for 32-yards and the final TD. The run for point after was short.

Elton Dugan and Dennis McClure stood out in the line for Minden and Wesley Irby and Tommy Hilburn shored up the Cat forward wall.

Winnfield Wins

WINNFIELD (Special) — Winnfield High School backs dashed around Ville Platte ends during four full quarters here Friday night to top the visiting squad 36-0.

The Tigers scored in each quarter and racked up 18 of their total points in the action packed second quarter.

Tiger fullback Bob Wyatt began scoring in the second quarter with a 90-yard punt return for the second Tiger tally. The Winnfield team scored earlier in the first quarter, when halfback Jimmy Bolton's one yard plunge climaxed a 61-yard Tiger drive.

A pass from quarterback Bob White to Dale Ladd covered 23-yards and gave the Tigers their third tally. Bolton also scored again in the second quarter on a 21-yard skirt around right end.

Right halfback Ronnie Parker dashed 15 yards around left end in the third quarter to increase the Tigers lead and Ladd put an end to scoring in the fourth with a 25-yard run around right end.

Cooper, 34-0

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP)—Favored Vicksburg scored four first half touchdowns Friday night and coasted to a 34-0 victory over Tallulah, La., as the Big Eight Conference football team opened its campaign.

Fullback Jimmy Florian scored in the first and second periods on a 1-yard run and a 32-yard dash with a fumble.

In the second quarter, quarterback George Lee scored from the one and quarterback Harville Weller tossed a 45-yard scoring pass to Alex Habeeb.

The final touchdown was in the third on a 77-yard run by halfback Wayne Roberts, who converted four times.

Tallulah advanced to the Vicksburg one late in the game against subs for its deepest penetration.

Winnsboro Winner

WINNSBORO (Special) — The Winnsboro Wildcats used a blocked punt and a pair of Newellton fumbles to pave the way for three touchdowns and an 18-0 victory over the Bears here Friday night.

The Wildcats took the opening kickoff, drove to the Bruin five and were held for downs. Newellton couldn't move and had to punt, the the Cat line surged int to block the kick, and left end Bubba Shaw pounced on the ball in the end zone for the first touchdown.

Wildcat left guard Roger Elkin recovered a Newellton fumble on the Bruin 14 before the first quarter was over, and three plays later left half Oliver Tyson went over from the two.

At the start of the second quarter Winnsboro tackle Archie Tippin recovered a Bruin fumble on Newellton's 44. A pass fell incomplete, and then right half Bobby Smith got loose on a double reverse to go all the way.

Winnsboro led in first downs, 10 to 4, rushed for 304 yards and completed one pass for 27 yards. Two Wildcat passes were incomplete and one intercepted. Newellton rushed for 122 yards, completed one pass for eight yards, had one intercepted and two incomplete passes.

Wisner Wins, 27-0

WISNER (Special) — Wisner used a sharp passing, hard-running attack to swamp Mangham 27-0 in the season opener for both teams here Friday night.

Halfback Mickey Carroll, who scored three of the Wisner TD's, got the first, tallying on a 36-yard pass play. The aerial came from halfback Mickeal Caldwell, in the second quarter. Caldwell ran the point after.

Later in the same period Carroll broke loose off left tackle and scampered 80-yards for the second score. Fullback W. E. Sanders ran the PAT.

Carroll also notched the third tally on a 20-yard pass from quarterback Morgan Ensminger in the third period. Sanders again ran the extra point. The touchdown pass play climaxed a 60-yard drive, sparked by long runs from Carroll and Sanders.

Sanders ended a 75-yard drive in the final stanza with a 25-yard burst around right end for the last TD. The point after try was no good.

Hornets Win

HOLLY RIDGE (Special) — Rayville's Jimmy Kennedy plunged into paydirt from four yards out in the closing minutes here Friday night to give the Hornets a 20-13 victory over host Holly Ridge.

The visitors opened scoring in the first quarter when Shelton Sanford scored from three-yards out going over tackle. The extra point effort failed.

The Hornets scored again in the second quarter on a 17-yard pass play from quarterback Mark Brown to Frank Schooler. Kennedy ran the extra point.

Holly Ridge's Tommy Winstead sprinted around end for 15-yards and the first score for the hosts late in the second quarter climaxing a long drive. Bo Miller's place kick for the PAT failed.

HOLLY Ridge tied the game early in the fourth quarter went Wayne McManus plunged over from the four-yard line and Larry Dew ran the extra margin.

Kennedy's winning effort came with only minutes remaining.

Istrouma, 20-0

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Powerful Istrouma, defending triple-A champion and No. 1 in the preseason Associated Press rankings, opened its 1962 campaign Friday night with a 20-0 whitewash of Lake Charles.

Istrouma picked up a Lake Charles fumble midway in the second frame and quarterback Jim Dousay scampered nine yards around end for the first tally. Minutes later Benny Griffin galloped 59 yards for the second score.

Melvin Hopper plunged over from the 1 early in the third period for the final tally.

Lake Charles made its deepest penetration into Istrouma territory late in the fourth quarter to the 39.

Bogalusa Upsets

BOGALUSA, Miss. (AP)—Quarterback Greg Honaker led triple-A Bogalusa to a stunning 26-6 reversal of McComb of Mississippi Big Eight Conference Friday night.

It was Bogalusa's first victory over McComb in seven seasons as Coach Lew Murray took the wraps off a fleet of versatile scatbacks.

Honaker scored one touchdown and passed for three others. His scoring aerials went to Larry Magee, Larry Libert and Larry Schilling.

LaSalle 12, Delhi 6

OLLA, La. (Special) — The LaSalle High Tigers of Olla made their debut in district 2-A football a successful one Friday night by defeating the Delhi Black Bears, 12-6, in a thriller played in rain, and it was the kind of ball game that kept the fans on edge.

After a scoreless first half, the Delhi machine struck for a third quarter touchdown on a 35-yard pass play on which quarterback Frank McKinney connected with "Bugs" Irby.

But Delhi's lead was short lived when Buddy Williams took the ensuing kickoff and sent LaSalle fans into a frenzy as he scooted 85 yards to tie it up again.

A fourth quarter Delhi fumble, recovered by LaSalle, started the Tigers on a 30-yard touchdown march capped by alert guard play by Bobby Loe.

On the payoff play Billy Masters rammed up the middle for seven before fumbling at the two. Loe dived for the ball as it scooted into the endzone to get credit for the winning touchdown on the fumble recovery.

Williams, Masters and Tommy Cruse also played outstanding ball for LaSalle, while Myer Irby and Donald Sykes were outstanding for Delhi in this season opener for both clubs.

West Jefferson, 7-0

HARVEY, La. (AP) — Quarterback Mike Guillot swept right end for five yards and a touchdown to give ninth-ranked West Jefferson a 7-0 triumph over Redemptorist in triple-A football Friday night.

The game was highlighted by stellar defensive line play by both clubs.

The touchdown was set up by a pass interception by end Alvin Dodd, who snagged Redemptorist quarterback Ronald Landry's pitch on the Rams 41 and returned it to the 29. Seven plays later Guillot scored.

Ferriday Wins, 22-6

JONESVILLE (Special) — Ferriday's Bulldogs picked up right where they left off last season and blasted Block High 22-6 in a non-conference game, opening the season here Friday night.

Ferriday marched 44-yards to score with halfback Dennis Jones going over center from three yards out in the first period. Guard George Fields toed the extra point.

Block came back in the second period, narrowing the count to 7-6, when fullback Wilbert Trissler capped a 41-yard march by going around right end for the final 21-yards. The PAT kick was no good.

In the third period, Ferriday widened the margin, sending fullback Ronald Jeter around his right end for 29-yards and the score. Fields' kick was good.

Two more Ferriday points came in the last quarter when tackle Jesse Griffin tackled a Block runner in the end zone for a safety.

Ferriday halfback George West romped down the right sideline 26-yards for the last TD in the same stanza, ending an 80-yard drive, longest scoring march of the night. The kick was blocked.

LaGrange Tied

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Holy Cross held second-ranked LaGrange to a 7-7 deadlock here Friday night in the opening football game for both triple-A teams.

The Tigers, No. 4 in the preseason Associated Press poll, kept LaGrange from gaining revenge for last year's stunning 19-0 reversal. LaGrange then was the No. 1 team and afterwards dropped three straight contests.

Quarterback Ray Culotta hit end Bob Morrison with a 32-yard pass late in the final period for Holy Cross' tally.

Rusty Fry pushed over from the 1 for the LaGrange touchdown after the Gators marched 67 yards when they received the opening kickoff.

Bears Top Farmers

FARMERVILLE (Special) — An extra point proved to be the edge needed here Friday night as the Bernice Bears took a 7-6 victory over host Farmerville.

The game was marked by strong defensive measures by both squads since all scoring came in the first quarter.

The Bears chalked up the first tally when Larry Fitzgerald's 58-yard run to the Farmerville goal came in only the second play of the game — the first play after the opening kickoff.

Harry Colvin successfully ran the extra point which ultimately gave the Bears the contest.

The Farmers scored later in the first quarter on a 25-yard pass play from quarterback Johnny Long to Gary Johnson. Another pass attempt for the PAT failed.

Defensive action controlled the game from that point. Bernice failed to cross their own 40-yard line after the initial quarter.

Fair Park Loses

CARTHAGE, Tex. (AP) —Carthage opened its football season Friday night with a 14-6 victory over Louisiana's triple-A Fair Park of Shreveport.

Robert Bradey got the first score for Carthage on a 2-yard plunge in the second period. Quarterback Clifton Bunyard scored in the third from the 6.

Shreveport scored in the final period on Sidney Lauter's 3-yard run.

Byrd Loses

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Sulphur turned back five Byrd thrusts inside its 20-yard line Friday while scoring two touchdowns for a 14-0 triple-A victory.

John Walker scored in the second period on an 8-yard run. John Blake tallied again in the fourth on an 18-yard run. C. T. Campbell kicked both extra points.

Jonesboro Shocks

JONESBORO (Special) — Jonesboro's rough Tigers shocked triple-A Bastrop 26-6 here Friday night with a hard-running ground attack that spoiled the debut of Ram mentor Pete McCulley.

Bruising fullback Robert Marrus started things off in the opening quarter by going five-yards up the middle to score after the Tigers had driven 71-yards. Marrus also toed the point.

A 30-yard Jonesboro drive in the second period ended with Marrus carrying over from the two. His kick was good.

In the same quarter, halfback Alden Reeves capped another Jonesboro drive, scoring from one-yard away. This time Marrus missed the point.

Bastrop's lone score came in in the third quarter when the Rams took the kickoff opening the last half and march 70-yards to paydirt. Ram quarterback Rickey Head got the touchdown from a yard away. The kick try was no good.

Jonesboro quarterback Phil Marrus plunged the final yard for the last Tiger score in the same period for the 26-6 margin.

Crowley Upsets

CROWLEY, La. (AP) —Double-A Crowley erupted in the final quarter to beat triple-A New Iberia 18-0 Friday night and spoil Faize Mahfouz' debut as head coach of the Yellow Jackets.

Tom Guidry, Nelson Stokely and Floyd Truax each scored for Crowley.

Arcadia Wins

ARCADIA (Special) — A 41-yard pass play from Jerry Bond to Lucky Raley in the final period gave Arcadia a 12-6 victory over Benton here Friday night in the season opener for both squads.

Arcadia scored in the first quarter on a five-yard plunge by fullback Johnny Fulmer.

Benton tied the score in the third quarter when halfback Lawrence smashed through with a 25-yard run.

The Bond p Raley combination clicked near the end of the game.

Lake Providence Tie

EUDORA, Ark. (Special)—Lake Providence scored 19 points in the final quarter here Friday night to fight to a 19-19 tie with host Eudora.

The host team talled in the first and second quarters leaving Lake Providence with a 13-0 deficit at the half.

At the start of the fourth quarter, J. Overby plunged over from the four-yard line putting an end to a 60-yard drive for the visiting eleven.

David Clarkson later sparked the Lake Providence group into trailing by only one point with a 15-yard touchdown run.

Overby again scored for the visitors to give them a slight margin over the Eudora team.

Eudora scored on the first play after the kick off in the fourth quarter with only minutes remaining on a pass play from Robert Sero to Bob Ford to tie the score.

Jesuit 19-6

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —Seventh-ranked Jesuit rolled to a 19-6 triple-A victory over Baton Rouge Friday night as both clubs opened their football seasons.

The Blue Jays took advantage of every break and rolled up a 12-0 halftime lead with a safety, a 28-yard field goal by Gerald Landry and a 30-yard touchdown run by Eddie Koehl with an intercepted pass.

Baton Rouge threatened in the third period as Bill O'Quinn scampered 24 yards for a touchdown.

The Jays iced the game in the final period as halfback Bete Schweigart plunged from the 2.

Crowville Ties

CROWVILLE (Special)— Crowville and Davidson of St. Joseph fought to a 0-0 tie here Friday night in the season opener for both teams.

Defensive action highlighted the contest which saw Crowville inside the St. Joseph 10-yard line a total of seven times.

The host team moved to the two-yard line in four of their threatening attempts and fumbled three of those times.

Nicholls Wins

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Nicholls edged Behrman 13-12 Friday night to ruin the Bees' debut in triple-A football.

Nicholls opened the scoring midway in the second period when halfback Bobby Breaux trotted 41 yards for a touchdown. Then Behrman scored on a 25-yard sweep by quarterback Ray Hanley.

The Rebels added another touchdown on Bobby Rizzuto's dive from the 2 and the scoring ended when Wallace Ledet took a Nicholls' kickoff on the Behrman 17 and raced 83 yards to score.

6-0 Victory

CHALMETTE, La. (AP)—Chalmette dedicated a new stadium and made a successful entry into triple-A ranks Friday night with a hard-earned 6-0 triumph over double-A Slidell.

Armand Bennett's 15-yard sprint on the first play of the fourth quarter was the only scoring of the night.

Terrbonne Wins

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) —Terrebonne came from behind to defeat Lafayette 9-6 Friday night in the opening game of the year for the two triple-A teams.

Terrebonne, No. 5 in the preseason Associated Press poll, was trailing by six points going into the third period. But the Tigers recovered a Lafayette fumble and halfback Doug Harson scored from the 6 several plays later.

Terrebonne added two extra points in the final stanza on a safety.

Pirates Stop Dodgers, 10-1 To Cut Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles shortstop Maury Wills broke a modern National League record for stolen bases Friday night but Bill Mazeroski stole the show with a grand slam homer and drove in six runs as Pittsburgh defeated the Dodgers 10-1.

This was the fourth loss for the league-leading Dodgers in their last five games. They fell apart in the field, committing five errors. The Dodgers have made 12 errors in their last three games and are only a half game ahead of the surging San Francisco Giants.

Wills stole four bases and ran his season total to 82, surpassing the record of 80 established by Bob Bescher of Cincinnati in 1911. The modern major league record is 96 set by Ty Cobb of Detroit in 1915.

DRYSDALE HAS AN EDGE

CINCINNATI (AP) — Since 1918 there have been 140 National League 20-game winners but none in recent years has had Don Drysdale's edge in quest of the 30-win mark.

Dodger star Drysdale won his 20th game on Aug. 3. The last National League hurler to reach that mark so early in a season was Jim (Hippo) Vaughn of the Cubs. In 1918 he won his 20th game on Aug. 1. Dizzy Dean won 30 in 1934 but that year he won his 20th decision on Aug. 7.

KURT GUELZOW, who helped spark Neville to its 26-7 victory last night, turns the corner for good yardage before being stopped by Morgan Weston (85) and Dickie Worthy (11) of West Monroe. Guelzow raced for 119 yards during the game, including a 70 yard TD in the second quarter which gave Neville a 7-7 tie at the time. (Staff photo by Ben Bradford)

Speedy Neville Backs Run By Rebels, 26-7

By KEITH PRINCE
World Sports Writer

Neville's classy Tigers began their 1962 football campaign with a bang lastnight by thrashing West Monroe 26-7 before an overflowing crowd on the Rebels' home field.

The tremendous crowd, who couldn't be kept away by pregame showers, were treated to a fine exibition of razzle -dazzle football.

Neville's always speedy grid team was once again in top form.

The Tigers wheeled and dealed for touchdown runs of 70-yards twice plus a 66-yarder to leave the Rebels bewildered.

All-Stater Jimmy Howard led the way with two sparkling punt returns, one for 70-yards and the other for 66, and also contributed two extra points for 14 of Neville's 26 points.

Neville's other 70 yard TD was scored by hard working senior halfback Kurt Guelzow who played a tremendous game both offensively and defensively.

The speedy 175-pounder racked up 119 yards rushing, 102 of it coming in the first half, recovered a fumble and made numerous tackles all over the field.

Howard's two fine punt returns in the second half actually put the stopper to what was about to become another Neville - West Monroe thriller right down to the wire.

At the time of his first TD, with 1:23 left in the third period, the contest was tied 7-7.

West Monroe had taken a 7-0 lead mid-way in the initial period when fullback Bobby Brice pounded over from the one yard line.

The Rebels lone tally was set up when a bad snap sailed over Howard's head on a fourth down punt attempt.

The ball, centered from the 50, bounded back to the eight where Howard retrieved it but was promptly smothered by hustling Bubba Jones of West Monroe.

Buz Heard connected on a pass to Charlie VanZile for the extra point.

With 5:00 remaining in the second quarter, the Rebels stalled after getting one first down. VanZile punted to the 30 and the Tigers set up operations there.

Neville's operation was short and right to the point as Guelzow took a hand off on first down, hit over the right side, found daylight to the left, and sped 70 yards to paydirt.

Howard added the point after and with 4:48 left in the first half the Tigers had just given a preview of what was to come.

After fighting on even terms most of the third quarter, West Monroe found themselves in a punt situation.

VanZile kicked from his own 34 to Neville's 44 where Ronnie Clark gathered in the ball.

The 140-pound sophomore started to the left, but suddenly handed the ball to Howard on a criss-cross. Howard then cut the corner near the right sidelines and easily sped the distance behind a wall of tremendous blockers.

This touchdown was definitely the turning point. It seemed to give Neville an extra lift and hurt the Rebels more than an "ordinary" TD.

West Monroe failed to drive after taking the ensuing kickoff and was once gain forced to punt.

Howard retrieved the ball on his own 30, faked a handoff to Clark, and then neatly picked his way 70 yards for the score which removed any doubts as to the outcome of the contest.

For all concerned, the game could have ended here and no one would have felt cheated.

But Coach Bill Ruple's squad was not satisfied. With 1:25 left in the game, Guelzow racked up a Rebel ball carrier behind the line and for a reward ended up with the football on West's 19 yardline.

With 32 seconds remaining, little Chip Planchard danced for six yards to give Neville's its last touchdown.

Howard then put the wraps on another typical Tiger victory by booting straight and true for Neville's 26th point.

Twins Edge Detroit By 6-4 Score

By JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP)—The Minnesota Twins, surging ahead with a run on an obstruction play, continued their mastery of the Detroit Tigers Friday night, 6-4, and remained in the thick of the American League pennant race.

The second-place Twins' 11th victory in 13 games with the Tigers enabled them to stay three games behind the New York Yankees, who edged Boston 5-4.

Minnesota also retained its 1½-game margin over the third-place Los Angeles Angels, 5-4 victors over Baltimore.

The Twins wiped out a 4-3 Tiger lead with two runs in the sixth on Rich Rollins' single and the obstruction ruling by plate umpire Ed Runge.

Star Halfback Gets Discharge From Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ernie Davis, Cleveland Browns' halfback, was discharged Friday from the National Institutes of Health after entering the hospital 15 days ago suffering from a blood disorder.

NIH officials said the 1961 All-America halfback and Heisman Trophy winner from Syracuse is getting along well.

"He does not need the intensive care that he has been getting lately," an official said. "In other words he does not have to be watched as closely as previously indicated."

The officials said he will return to the medical center at some future date for another checkup.

They said they did not know whether Davis is returning to his home in Elmira, N.Y., or to Cleveland.

The 215-pound halfback was withdrawn from the College All-Star game in August and has been undergoing medical treatment since.

Minden 13, Ruston 12

RUSTON (Special) — Ruston's newly installed Wing-T formation fell a point short here Friday night, with arch - rival Minden squeaking by 13-12 when a fourth quarter Bearcat extra point attempt failed.

Minden quarterback Fred Haynes, who scored both Crimson Tide touchdowns, took the opening kickoff and raced 70-yards to paydirt. Carl Shaw booted the PAT and the Tide led 7-0.

In the same period Ruston halfback Billy Adney, who starred for his team, slipped over from two yards to cap a 30-yard drive. The extra-point try failed.

Haynes ended a 50-yard Minden march in the final period by slicing through the Ruston line for the last nine yards. Shaw's kick was no good.

Ruston raced back to come within one point when Adeny rambled around left end for 32-yards and the final TD. The run for point after was short.

Elton Dugan and Dennis McClure stood out in the line for Minden and Wesley Irby and Tommy Hilburn shored up the Cat forward wall.

Winnfield Wins

WINNFIELD (Special) — Winnfield High School backs dashed around Ville Platte ends during four full quarters here Friday night to top the visiting squad 36-0.

The Tigers scored in each quarter and racked up 18 of their total points in the action packed second quarter.

Tiger fullback Bob Wyatt began scoring in the second quarter with a 90-yard punt return for the second Tiger tally. The Winnfield team scored earlier in the first quarter, when halfback Jimmy Bolton's one yard plunge climaxed a 61-yard Tiger drive.

A pass from quarterback Bob White to Dale Ladd covered 23-yards and gave the Tigers their third tally. Bolton also scored again in the second quarter on a 21-yard skirt around right end.

Right halfback Ronnie Parker dashed 15 yards around left end in the third quarter to increase the Tigers lead and Ladd put an end to scoring in the fourth with a 25-yard run around right end.

Cooper, 34-0

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP)—Favored Vicksburg scored four first half touchdowns Friday night and coasted to a 34-0 victory over Tallulah, La., as the Big Eight Conference football team opened its campaign.

Fullback Jimmy Florian scored in the first and second periods on a 1-yard run and a 32-yard dash with a fumble.

In the second quarter, quarterback George Lee scored from the one and quarterback Harville Weller tossed a 45-yard scoring pass to Alex Habeeb.

The final touchdown was in the third on a 77-yard run by halfback Wayne Roberts, who converted four times.

Tallulah advanced to the Vicksburg one late in the game against subs for its deepest penetration.

Winnsboro Winner

WINNSBORO (Special) — The Winnsboro Wildcats used a blocked punt and a pair of Newellton fumbles to pave the way for three touchdowns and an 18-0 victory over the Bears here Friday night.

The Wildcats took the opening kickoff, drove to the Bruin five and were held for downs. Newellton couldn't move and had to punt, the the Cat line surged int to block the kick, and left end Bubba Shaw pounced on the ball in the end zone for the first touchdown.

Wildcat left guard Roger Elkin recovered a Newellton fumble on the Bruin 14 before the first quarter was over, and three plays later left half Oliver Tyson went over from the two.

At the start of the second quarter Winnsboro tackle Archie Tippin recovered a Bruin fumble on Newellton's 44. A pass fell incomplete, and then right half Bobby Smith got loose on a double reverse to go all the way.

Winnsboro led in first downs, 10 to 4, rushed for 304 yards and completed one pass for 27 yards. Two Wildcat passes were incomplete and one intercepted. Newellton rushed for 122 yards, completed one pass for eight yards, had one intercepted and two incomplete passes.

Wisner Wins, 27-0

WISNER (Special) — Wisner used a sharp passing, hard-running attack to swamp Mangham 27-0 in the season opener for both teams here Friday night.

Halfback Mickey Carroll, who scored three of the Wisner TD's, got the first, tallying on a 36-yard pass play. The aerial came from halfback Mickeal Caldwell, in the second quarter. Caldwell ran the point after.

Later in the same period Carroll broke loose off left tackle and scampered 80 - yards for the second score. Fullback W. E. Sanders ran the PAT.

Carroll also notched the third tally on a 20 - yard pass from quarterback Morgan Ensminger in the third period. Sanders again ran the extra point. The touchdown pass play climaxed a 60-yard drive, sparked by long runs from Carroll and Sanders.

Sanders ended a 75-yard drive in the final stanza with a 25-yard burst around right end for the last TD. The point after try was no good.

Hornets Win

HOLLY RIDGE (Special) — Rayville's Jimmy Kennedy plunged into paydirt from four yards out in the closing minutes here Friday night to give the Hornets a 20-13 victory over host Holly Ridge.

The visitors opened scoring in the first quarter when Shelton Sanford scored from three-yards out going over tackle. The extra point effort failed.

The Hornets scored again in the second quarter on a 17-yard pass play from quarterback Mark Brown to Frank Schooler. Kennedy ran the extra point.

Holly Ridge's Tommy Winstead sprinted around end for 15-yards and the first score for the hosts late in the second quarter climaxing a long drive. Bo Miller's place kick for the PAT failed.

HOLLY Ridge tied the game early in the fourth quarter went Wayne McManus plunged over from the four - yard line and Larry Dew ran the extra margin.

Kennedy's winning effort came with only minutes remaining.

Istrouma, 20-0

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Powerful Istrouma, defending triple-A champion and No. 1 in the preseason Associated Press rankings, opened its 1962 campaign Friday night with a 20-0 whitewash of Lake Charles.

Istrouma picked up a Lake Charles fumble midway in the second frame and quarterback Jim Dousay scampered nine yards around end for the first tally. Minutes later Benny Griffin galloped 59 yards for the second score.

Melvin Hopper plunged over from the 1 early in the third period for the final tally.

Lake Charles made its deepest penetration into Istrouma territory late in the fourth quarter to the 39.

Bogalusa Upsets

BOGALUSA, Miss. (AP)—Quarterback Greg Honaker led triple-A Bogalusa to a stunning 26-6 reversal of McComb of Mississippi Big Eight Conference Friday night.

It was Bogalusa's first victory over McComb in seven seasons as Coach Lew Murray took the wraps off a fleet of versatile scatbacks.

Honaker scored one touchdown and passed for three others. His scoring aerials went to Larry Magee, Larry Libert and Larry Schilling.

LaSalle 12, Delhi 6

OLLA, La. (Special) — The LaSalle High Tigers of Olla made their debut in district 2-A football a successful one Friday night by defeating the Delhi Black Bears, 12-6, in a thriller played in rain, and it was the kind of ball game that kept the fans on edge.

After a scoreless first half, the Delhi machine struck for a third quarter touchdown on a 35-yard pass play on which quarterback Frank McKinney connected with "Bugs" Irby.

But Delhi's lead was short lived when Buddy Williams took the ensuing kickoff and sent LaSalle fans into a frenzy as he scooted 85 yards to tie it up again.

A fourth quarter Delhi fumble, recovered by LaSalle, started the Tigers on a 30 - yard touchdown march capped by alert guard play by Bobby Loe.

On the payoff play Billy Masters rammed up the middle for seven before fumbling at the two. Loe dived for the ball as it scooted into the endzone to get credit for the winning touchdown on the fumble recovery.

Williams, Masters and Tommy Cruse also played outstanding ball for LaSalle, while Myer Irby and Donald Sykes were outstanding for Delhi in this season opener for both clubs.

West Jefferson, 7-0

HARVEY, La. (AP) — Quarterback Mike Guillot swept right end for five yards and a touchdown to give ninth-ranked West Jefferson a 7-0 triumph over Redemptorist in triple-A football Friday night.

The game was highlighted by stellar defensive line play by both clubs.

The touchdown was set up by a pass interception by end Alvin Dodd, who snagged Redemptorist quarterback Ronald Landry's pitch on the Rams 41 and returned it to the 29. Seven plays later Guillot scored.

Ferriday Wins, 22-6

JONESVILLE (Special) — Ferriday's Bulldogs picked up right where they left off last season and blasted Block High 22-6 in a non - conference game, opening the season here Friday night.

Ferriday marched 44 - yards to score with halfback Dennis Jones going over center from three yards out in the first period. Guard George Fields toed the extra point.

Block came back in the second period, narrowing the count to 7-6, when fullback Wilbert Trissler capped a 41 - yard march by going around right end for the final 21 - yards. The PAT kick was no good.

In the third period, Ferriday widened the margin, sending fullback Ronald Jeter around his right end for 29 - yards and the score. Fields' kick was good.

Two more Ferriday points came in the last quarter when tackle Jesse Griffin tackled a Block runner in the end zone for a safety.

Ferriday halfback George West romped down the right sideline 26 - yards for the last TD in the same stanza, ending an 80-yard drive, longest scoring march of the night. The kick was blocked.

LaGrange Tied

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Holy Cross held second-ranked LaGrange to a 7-7 deadlock here Friday night in the opening football game for both triple-A teams.

The Tigers, No. 4 in the preseason Associated Press poll, kept LaGrange from gaining revenge for last year's stunning 19-0 reversal. LaGrange then was the No. 1 team and afterwards dropped three straight contests.

Quarterback Ray Culotta hit end Bob Morrison with a 32-yard pass late in the final period for Holy Cross' tally.

Rusty Fry pushed over from the 1 for the LaGrange touchdown after the Gators marched 67 yards when they received the opening kickoff.

Bears Top Farmers

FARMERVILLE (Special) — An extra point proved to be the edge needed here Friday night as the Bernice Bears took a 7-6 victory over host Farmerville.

The game was marked by strong defensive measures by both squads since all scoring came in the first quarter.

The Bears chalked up the first tally when Larry Fitzgerald's 58-yard run to the Farmerville goal came in only the second play of the game — the first play after the opening kickoff.

Harry Colvin successfully ran the extra point which ultimately gave the Bears the contest.

The Farmers scored later in the first quarter on a 25-yard pass play from quarterback Johnny Long to Gary Johnson. Another pass attempt for the PAT failed.

Defensive action controlled the game from that point. Bernice failed to cross their own 40-yard line after the initial quarter.

Fair Park Loses

CARTHAGE, Tex. (AP) —Carthage opened its football season Friday night with a 14-6 victory over Louisiana's triple-A Fair Park of Shreveport.

Robert Bradey got the first score for Carthage on a 2-yard plunge in the second period. Quarterback Clifton Bunyard scored in the third from the 6.

Shreveport scored in the final period on Sidney Lauter's 3-yard run.

Byrd Loses

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Sulphur turned back five Byrd thrusts inside its 20-yard line Friday while scoring two touchdowns for a 14-0 triple-A victory.

John Walker scored in the second period on an 8-yard run. John Blake tallied again in the fourth on an 18-yard run. C. T. Campbell kicked both extra points.

Jonesboro Shocks

JONESBORO (Special) — Jonesboro's rough Tigers shocked triple - A Bastrop 26-6 here Friday night with a hard - running ground attack that spoiled the debut of Ram mentor Pete McCulley.

Bruising fullback Robert Marrus started things off in the opening quarter by going five-yards up the middle to score after the Tigers had driven 71 - yards. Marrus also toed the point.

A 30 - yard Jonesboro drive in the second period ended with Marrus carrying over from the two. His kick was good.

In the same quarter, halfback Alden Reeves capped another Jonesboro drive, scoring from one - yard away. This time Marrus missed the point.

Bastrop's lone score came in in the third quarter when the Rams took the kickoff opening the last half and march 70-yards to paydirt. Ram quarterback Rickey Head got the touchdown from a yard away. The kick try was no good.

Jonesboro quarterback Phil Marrus plunged the final yard for the last Tiger score in the same period for the 26-6 margin.

Crowley Upsets

CROWLEY, La. (AP) —Double-A Crowley erupted in the final quarter to beat triple-A New Iberia 18-0 Friday night and spoil Faize Mahfouz' debut as head coach of the Yellow Jackets.

Tom Guidry, Nelson Stokely and Floyd Truax each scored for Crowley.

Arcadia Wins

ARCADIA (Special) — A 41-yard pass play from Jerry Bond to Lucky Raley in the final period gave Arcadia a 12-6 victory over Benton here Friday night in the season opener for both squads.

Arcadia scored in the first quarter on a five - yard plunge by fullback Johnny Fulmer.

Benton tied the score in the third quarter when halfback Lawrence smashed through with a 25-yard run.

The Bond p Raley combination clicked near the end of the game.

Lake Providence Tie

EUDORA, Ark. (Special)—Lake Providence scored 19 points in the final quarter here Friday night to fight to a 19-19 tie with host Eudora.

The host team talled in the first and second quarters leaving Lake Providence with a 13-0 deficit at the half.

At the start of the fourth quarter, J. Overby plunged over from the four - yard line putting an end to a 60 - yard drive for the visiting eleven.

David Clarkson later sparked the Lake Providence group into trailing by only one point with a 15 - yard touchdown run.

Overby again scored for the visitors to give them a slight margin over the Eudora team.

Eudora scored on the first play after the kick off in the fourth quarter with only minutes remaining on a pass play from Robert Sero to Bob Ford to tie the score.

Jesuit 19-6

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —Seventh-ranked Jesuit rolled to a 19-6 triple-A victory over Baton Rouge Friday night as both clubs opened their football seasons.

The Blue Jays took advantage of every break and rolled up a 12-0 halftime lead with a safety, a 28-yard field goal by Gerald Landry and a 30-yard touchdown run by Eddie Koehl with an intercepted pass.

Baton Rouge threatened in the third period as Bill O'Quinn scampered 24 yards for a touchdown.

The Jays iced the game in the final period as halfback Bete Schweigart plunged from the 2.

Crowville Ties

CROWVILLE (Special)— Crowville and Davidson of St. Joseph fought to a 0-0 tie here Friday night in the season opener for both teams.

Defensive action highlighted the contest which saw Crowville inside the St. Joseph 10 - yard line a total of seven times.

The host team moved to the two - yard line in four of their threatening attempts and fumbled three of those times.

Nicholls Wins

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Nicholls edged Behrman 13-12 Friday night to ruin the Bees' debut in triple-A football.

Nicholls opened the scoring midway in the second period when halfback Bobby Breaux trotted 41 yards for a touchdown. Then Behrman scored on a 25-yard sweep by quarterback Ray Hanley.

The Rebels added another touchdown on Bobby Rizzuto's dive from the 2 and the scoring ended when Wallace Ledet took a Nicholls' kickoff on the Behrman 17 and raced 83 yards to score.

6-0 Victory

CHALMETTE, La. (AP)—Chalmette dedicated a new stadium and made a successful entry into triple-A ranks Friday night with a hard-earned 6-0 triumph over double-A Slidell.

Armand Bennett's 15-yard sprint on the first play of the fourth quarter was the only scoring of the night.

Terrbonne Wins

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) —Terrebonne came from behind to defeat Lafayette 9-6 Friday night in the opening game of the year for the two triple-A teams.

Terrebonne, No. 5 in the preseason Associated Press poll, was trailing by six points going into the third period. But the Tigers recovered a Lafayette fumble and halfback Doug Harson scored from the 6 several plays later.

Terrebonne added two extra points in the final stanza on a safety.

Pirates Stop Dodgers, 10-1 To Cut Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles shortstop Maury Wills broke a modern National League record for stolen bases Friday night but Bill Mazeroski stole the show with a grand slam homer and drove in six runs as Pittsburgh defeated the Dodgers 10-1.

This was the fourth loss for the league-leading Dodgers in their last five games. They fell apart in the field, committing five errors. The Dodgers have made 12 errors in their last three games and are only a half game ahead of the surging San Francisco Giants.

Wills stole four bases and ran his season total to 82, surpassing the record of 80 established by Bob Bescher of Cincinnati in 1911. The modern major league record is 96 set by Ty Cobb of Detroit in 1915.

DRYSDALE HAS AN EDGE

CINCINNATI (AP) — Since 1918 there have been 140 National League 20 - game winners but none in recent years has had Don Drysdale's edge in quest of the 30 - win mark.

Dodger star Drysdale won his 20th game on Aug. 3. The last National League hurler to reach that mark so early in a season was Jim (Hippo) Vaughn of the Cubs. In 1918 he won his 20th game on Aug. 1. Dizzy Dean won 30 in 1934 but that year he won his 20th decision on Aug. 7.

Speedy Neville Backs Run By Rebels, 26-7

By KEITH PRINCE
World Sports Writer

Neville's classy Tigers began their 1962 football campaign with a bang lastnight by thrashing West Monroe 26-7 before an overflowing crowd on the Rebels' home field.

The tremendous crowd, who couldn't be kept away by pregame showers, were treated to a fine exibition of razzle -dazzle football.

Neville's always speedy grid team was once again in top form.

The Tigers wheeled and dealed for touchdown runs of 70-yards twice plus a 66-yarder to leave the Rebels bewildered.

All - Stater Jimmy Howard led the way with two sparkling punt returns, one for 70-yards and the other for 66, and also contributed two extra points for 14 of Neville's 26 points.

Neville's other 70 yard TD was scored by hard working senior halfback Kurt Guelzow who played a tremendous game both offensively and defensively.

The speedy 175-pounder racked up 119 yards rushing, 102 of it coming in the first half, recovered a fumble and made numerous tackles all over the field.

Howard's two fine punt returns in the second half actually put the stopper to what was about to become another Neville - West Monroe thriller right down to the wire.

At the time of his first TD, with 1:23 left in the third period, the contest was tied 7-7.

West Monroe had taken a 7-0 lead mid - way in the initial period when fullback Bobby Brice pounded over from the one yard line.

The Rebels lone tally was set up when a bad snap sailed over Howard's head on a fourth down punt attempt.

The ball, centered from the 50, bounded back to the eight where Howard retrieved it but was promptly smothered by hustling Bubba Jones of West Monroe.

Buz Heard connected on a pass to Charlie VanZile for the extra point.

With 5:00 remaining in the second quarter, the Rebels stalled after getting one first down. VanZile punted to the 30 and the Tigers set up operations there.

Neville's operation was short and right to the point as Guelzow took a hand off on first down, hit over the right side, found daylight to the left, and sped 70 yards to paydirt.

Howard added the point after and with 4:48 left in the first half the Tigers had just given a preview of what was to come.

After fighting on even terms most of the third quarter, West Monroe found themselves in a punt situation.

VanZile kicked from his own 34 to Neville's 44 where Ronnie Clark gathered in the ball.

The 140-pound sophomore started to the left, but suddenly handed the ball to Howard on a crisscross. Howard then cut the corner near the right sidelines and easily sped the distance behind a wall of tremendous blockers.

This touchdown was definitely the turning point. It seemed to give Neville an extra lift and hurt the Rebels more than an "ordinary" TD.

West Monroe failed to drive after taking the ensuing kickoff and was once gain forced to punt.

Howard retrieved the ball on his own 30, faked a handoff to Clark, and then neatly picked his way 70 yards for the score which removed any doubts as to the outcome of the contest.

For all concerned, the game could have ended here and no one would have felt cheated.

But Coach Bill Ruple's squad was not satisfied. With 1:25 left in the game, Guelzow racked up a Rebel ball carrier behind the line and for a reward ended up with the football on West's 19 yardline.

With 32 seconds remaining, little Chip Planchard danced for six yards to give Neville's its last touchdown.

Howard then put the wraps on another typical Tiger victory by booting straight and true for Neville's 26th point.

Twins Edge Detroit By 6-4 Score

By JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP)—The Minnesota Twins, surging ahead with a run on an obstruction play, continued their mastery of the Detroit Tigers Friday night, 6-4, and remained in the thick of the American League pennant race.

The second-place Twins' 11th victory in 13 games with the Tigers enabled them to stay three games behind the New York Yankees, who edged Boston 5-4.

Minnesota also retained its 1½-game margin over the third-place Los Angeles Angels, 5-4 victors over Baltimore.

The Twins wiped out a 4-3 Tiger lead with two runs in the sixth on Rich Rollins' single and the obstruction ruling by plate umpire Ed Runge.

Star Halfback Gets Discharge From Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ernie Davis, Cleveland Browns' halfback, was discharged Friday from the National Institutes of Health after entering the hospital 15 days ago suffering from a blood disorder.

NIH officials said the 1961 All-America halfback and Heisman Trophy winner from Syracuse is getting along well.

"He does not need the intensive care that he has been getting lately," an official said. "In other words he does not have to be watched as closely as previously indicated."

The officials said he will return to the medical center at some future date for another checkup.

They said they did not know whether Davis is returning to his home in Elmira, N.Y., or to Cleveland.

The 215-pound halfback was withdrawn from the College All-Star game in August and has been undergoing medical treatment since.

New York Wins On 3 Run Burst

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, scrambling after their 12th American League Pennant in 14 years, stormed from behind with a three-run burst in the seventh inning Friday night and went on to beat the Boston Red Sox 5-4.

Boston's right-hander Gene Conley was working on a five-hitter, had a 3-2 lead and had retired 13 men in order before the Yanks put on their decisive rally.

Elston Howard led off with a single and scored ahead of Bill Skowron when the New York first baseman poled his 20th homer.

Two outs later Tony Kubek hit his third homer, and the Yanks had a 5-3 lead. It was enough to stand up against a Red Sox rally that produced one run against relief pitcher Bud Daley in the eighth.

The victory was the Yanks' 10th in 12 games with the Red Sox this season.

Bill Stafford, New York's starter who worked seven innings before being lifted for a pinch hitter, was credited with his 13th victory in 21 decisions.

Conley was charged with his 13th loss against as many victories.

The Yanks broke a 1-1 tie on Howard's 18th homer with the bases empty in the second.

Boston took a 3-2 lead in the fourth on a single by Carl Yastrzemski, Lu Clinton's double and singles by Frank Malzone and Russ Nixon.

The Red Sox closed to within one run in the eighth on a walk to Yastrzemski and singles by Runnels and Nixon, but Daley chopped it off and shut them out in the ninth.

The Yanks got their first run when Yastrzemski, seeking to avoid a collision with Gary Geiger, dropped Kubek's fly ball and it went for a double in the first inning. Tom Tresh's single scored him. Runnels matched that in the second with his 10th homer.

Vada Pinson Doubles Home Winning Run

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vada Pinson doubled home the deciding run in the 11th inning Friday night, giving Cincinnati a come-from-behind 6-5 victory over St. Louis.

The game went into overtime after the Reds finally tied it in the ninth inning off starter Bob Gibson and again in the 10th.

In the 11th, Eddie Kasko drilled a leadoff single to left off reliever Curt Simmons and moved to second on Don Blasingame's sacrifice. Pinson's double followed.

Gibson had scattered ten hits artfully before running into trouble in the tenth. He fanned ten Reds.

Dave Sisler picked up the victory in relief. Starter Bob Purkey had been lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

The Cards took the lead in the tenth with one run on three singles and a walk. But the Reds caught up on Frank Robinson's one out homer.

Cincinnati went on to load the bases on reliever Lindy McDaniel, but he fanned pinch hitter Wally Post to douse the threat.

In the ninth inning, two singles set up Leo Cardenas' run-making safety.

In the fourth inning, Vada Pinson tripled and Robinson singled him home.

Two walks, a passed ball and Jerry Lynch's double drove in two Reds runs in the sixth and Fred Whitfield had rapped a leadoff homer in the sixth for St. Louis.

Ragged infield work by the Reds helped St. Louis punch out two unearned runs in the first inning and another in the fifth.

The Reds lost chunky first sacker Gordie Coleman on the fifth inning scoring play when he was gashed on the left ankle.

Julian Javier had started the inning with a single, and after Curt Flood was hit by a pitch, White drilled a scoring single to center.

Coleman muffed the rely and was spiked by White running out the hit, but was able to throw Flood out at third before falling to the field in pain.

Giants Down Chicago, 6-5, With Sanford

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Right-hander Jack Sanford, aided by three San Francisco home runs and needing relief in the eighth, won his 15th straight Friday night as the Giants edged the Chicago Cubs, 6-5.

The victory, coupled with Pittsburgh's 10-1 win over National League-leading Los Angeles, moved the Giants to within a half game of first place.

Jose Pagan, Tom Haller and Felipe Alou all homered for the Giants while George Altman had four RBIs for Chicago with a first-inning homer and an eighth-inning single.

Stu Miller relieved Sanford with one out in the eighth, and finally got Ernie Banks on a doubleplay liner to Orlando Cepeda at first.

A crowd of 14,652 watched right-hander Bob Buhl absorb his 11th loss against 10 victories.

Altman's 22nd home run in the first inning came with Billy Williams on base.

Pagan evened the count at 2-2 with his seventh homer, scoring Jimmy Davenport ahead of him.

Banks doubled, and Ron Santo singled him home putting the Cubs ahead in the fourth, but in the bottom half, Haller homered again to even the count.

San Francisco went ahead to stay in the fifth. Pagan singled and when center fielder Don Landrum bobbled the ball, he continued to second. Sanford, now 21-6, took two called strikes trying to bunt. He then laid down a perfect one for a single, sending Pagan to third. One run scored on Harvey Kuenn's sacrifice fly and Willie Mays knocked in the second with a double.

Sanford ran into seventh inning trouble with runners on first and second and one down, but struck out pinch hitters Billie Ott and Bob Will to end the threat.

Sievers' Clout Breaks Deadlock For Phillies Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A home run by Roy Sievers in the 10th inning broke a 3-3 deadlock and gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Friday night.

The victory went to reliever Jack Baldschun who now is 10-7. The loser was Claude Raymond (5-3).

Henry Aaron and Joe Adcock hit home runs for all the Braves' runs. Don Demeter also homered for the Phillies.

It was the first victory of the season for Philadelphia at Milwaukee. They had lost six straight here.

Neville High B-Team Hosts Bolton Bears

Neville High's Junior Varsity hosts the Bolton of Alexandria B-team at Tiger stadium Monday night. Kickoff time is 7 p.m.

QUARTERBACKS SPARKLE

New Wrinkles Added In Tribe Grid Camp

Northeast State Coach Jack Rowan is, as he puts it, "adding a few wrinkles" to his team's offense this year and believes he has just the trio to run the new attack in quarterbacks Ronnie Myrick, Pete Vincent and Mike Cooper.

The Northeast mentor calls his quarterback corps "the best in the Gulf States Conference."

"There may be better quarterbacks in this league but I don't believe any team has three as good as Myrick, Vincent and Cooper," says Rowan. "Myrick is the fastest quarterback in the GSC. Vincent, I believe, can do more things well than any other and Cooper, while this is just his first year with us, has shown us a mighty good arm."

Northeast also has a fourth quarterback in camp, freshman Warren LaSalle of Sulphur, a quick, lanky youngster who is rated a fine future prospect, and a fifth, Mangham freshman Dee Faircloth.

All of the top three are experienced field generals. Myrick, although he hardly qualifies as a veteran as a 19-year-old sophomore, was the busiest Indian quarterback last season. Vincent is a senior and is a veteran of two years of junior college football at Sunflower (Miss.) J. C. and one year as a sometime starter at Northeast. Cooper played two years of football in the Texas junior college league, one of the toughest circuits in the country.

Myrick is the fastest man on the Tribe squad, being clocked in a 9.8 100-yards dash last spring, and elusive as well. The Oak Grove star was the team's second leading rusher with 271 yards for a 4.1 average last fall, picking up most of his gains on the option play. He added 322 yards on 25 pass completions in 57 attempts to rank first on the team and fourth in the GSC in total offense with 593 yards.

Vincent did not attend school last year after playing with Northeast in 1960. His last game in 1960 was his best, a 20-15 loss to Louisiana Tech in Monroe. Vincent was named the team's "Back of the Week" for his performance in the game.

Versatile is the word for the 170-pounder from Indianola, Miss. He's a fast and elusive runner, a good passer, an accurate place kicker and can punt if the need arises. He punted only once in 1960, getting off a 43 yard boot. He completed 42 per cent of his passes that year, connecting on nine of 21 tosses, one for a touchdown.

Vincent booted a field goal in the game against Tech and will probably be called on for some long kicks this season. Willie Ragan, who made 17 of 20 extra point kicks for Northeast last fall, is considered slightly more accurate than Vincent on short kicks but the Mississippian is better over longer distances.

Cooper has been at a disadvantage this fall since he was not on campus last spring and didn't participate in spring workouts. He has exhibited a cool head and good passing eye this fall. The 190-pounder from Houston was named to the all-Texas junior college team in 1961 at Wharton, J.C.

Senators Rout Chicago Club By 7-2 Count

CHICAGO (AP)—The Washington Senators knocked out Eddie Fisher in the fourth inning and continued against Turk Lown to rout the Chicago White Sox 7-2 Friday night in a game in which both clubs lost the services of one player.

Harry Bright, Senators' first baseman, suffered a torn rib cartilege when he checked his swing at the plate in the third inning and had to retire from the game. Bob Sadowski, whose two-run homer accounted for the only Chicago runs, had to be carried from the field on a stretcher when he strained ligaments in his ankle sliding into second base in the eighth.

Two rookies, Don Lock and John Kennedy, led the Senators' attack with two singles apiece. Bennie Daniels, who relieved starter Rom Cheney in the fourth and recorded his seventh win. He also helped his cause with a two-run double to chase Lown in the fifth.

Two Records Set In Women's Opening Round

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Two course records were set Friday in the second round of the Eugene Open Women's Golf Tournament.

First Mickey Wright carded a 70 on the par 39-34—73, 6,532-yard Eugene Country Club course. That broke a course record of 71 set in 1961 by Sherry Wheeler during the Trans-Mississippi tournament.

Forty-five minutes later, Shirley Englehorn, who had six birdies in the round, came in with 69.

Miss Englehorn who now is in the lead with a 36-hole score of 75-69—144, had a good day with her irons. She didn't have to sink any long puts because she chipped so well.

Baxter's Par Round Saves 6-Under Lead

DENVER (AP) — Rex Baxter Jr. scrambled to a par 70 Friday to preserve his lead in the $35,000 Denver Open Golf Tournament with a two-round 134, six under par.

The handsome Amerillo, Tex., swinger scored one birdie with a 30-foot putt on No. 9. His only bogey was on the 208-yard par 3 No. 17 where his three-iron tee shot dropped into a trap at the right of the green. His explosion shot was 15 feet short, necessitating two putts. Otherwise he parred the rest of the way around the 6,753-yard, par 35-35—70 Denver Country Club course.

Dave Marr and Marty Furgol, who matched the day's best rounds of 67 were among Baxter's closest pursuers at 137 — three strokes back. The others were Jack Fleck, with a 68, George Bayer, with 69, and Art Wall Jr., with 69.

Robinson Will Fight And Sing

LONDON (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson will combine his fading boxing career with his new singing act in London.

The 42-year-old, former middleweight champion said Friday he will receive $5,600 for singing two songs on a commercial television program from the London Palladium Sept. 15.

Ten days later he will meet London's Terry Downes, former coholder of the world middleweight crown, in a 10-round bout at Wembley Stadium.

Nicklaus Won't Take Back Seat

By JOSE MOOSHIL

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the young U.S. Open champion, has no intention of taking a back seat to either Arnold Palmer or Gary Player when the three champions tee off in the World Series of Golf Saturday.

The 22-year-old former National Amateur champion warmed up for the 36-hole playoff, which has a top prize of $50,000, by firing a 4-under-par 66 over Firestone Country Club's 7,165-yard course despite two bogeys in the first three holes in Friday's final practice round.

The talented trio, joking their way around Thursday's practice round in which Palmer matched par 70 while Player had a 74 and Nicklaus a 76, played more seriously Friday.

In fact, all three shattered par—which isn't done often over this massive course. Two years ago Jay Hebert won the PGA Open at Firestone with a 1-over-par 281. Last year Hebert won the American Golf Classic in a sudden death playoff against Player with only Player and Hebert mastering par after four rounds. Last month, Palmer won the classic and was the only professional to crack par after four rounds, with a 276.

Player, collecting four birdies in Friday's practice round, also came in with a 34-32—66, while Palmer had a 36-32—68. The course, charged up by heavy rains early in the week, was plush and is expected to remain so for the NBC-TV telecast Saturday and Sunday.

Originally, it was hoped that the tournament would include four players—the winners of the U.S. Open, the Masters, the British Open and the PGA. But Palmer won both the Masters and the British Open, while Player took the PGA to cut the field to three men.

The winner will pack off $50,000 while the runner-up takes $15,000, with $10,000 going to the "loser."

These fantastic sums, however, will not count toward the official PGA money list in which Palmer leads the pack with a record $80,198. Nicklaus and Player are not among the paupers either. Nicklaus, a freshman on the pro circuit, has picked up checks totalling $53,518 and Player, last year's leader with $64,000, has earned $44,338.

All three players have denied any possibility of splitting the entire purse, something which is sometimes done on weekend tournaments by various leaders. Nicklaus indicated that all three are fixed well enough financially so that they don't have to take part in any splits. In this case they could agree to an under-the-table split of $25,000 each.

In addition to practicing against Firestone's 35-35—70, the threesome tried to gauge its timing to the telecast Saturday and Sunday. Television will carry the final six holes of each round from 4:40 to 6 p.m., EDT. The golfers finished far ahead of schedule Thursday, but came closer to the regulated time Friday although winding up 14 minutes ahead of time.

When the chips are down Saturday, however, play is expected to slow up. If not, it will be intentionally speeded up or slowed down to meet the schedule.

Should a tie result after Sunday's round, a sudden death playoff will be held, but the participants will not return to the first tee. Instead, they will go to No. 13, a 460-yard par 4 hole where the television equipment already is set up.

Houston Edges New York Mets By 4-2 Margin

HOUSTON (AP) — Tight relief pitching by Jim Golden and Don McMahon gave the Houston Colts a 4-2 victory over the New York Mets Friday night in the opener of a four-game series.

Golden, who rescued Colts starter Hal Woodeshick with two on and none out in the seventh was the winner. He is 6-11.

When Golden faltered in the eighth by walking one man and running a 2-0 count on another batter, McMahon came in to put out the fire.

The Colts won the game in the seventh with a two-run rally on two-out run-producing singles by Johnny Temple and Jim Pendleton.

The loser was Al Jackson (8-12).

New York Wins On 3 Run Burst

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, scrambling after their 12th American League Pennant in 14 years, stormed from behind with a three-run burst in the seventh inning Friday night and went on to beat the Boston Red Sox 5-4.

Boston's right-hander Gene Conley was working on a five-hitter, had a 3-2 lead and had retired 13 men in order before the Yanks put on their decisive rally.

Elston Howard led off with a single and scored ahead of Bill Skowron when the New York first baseman poled his 20th homer.

Two outs later Tony Kubek hit his third homer, and the Yanks had a 5-3 lead. It was enough to stand up against a Red Sox rally that produced one run against relief pitcher Bud Daley in the eighth.

The victory was the Yanks' 10th in 12 games with the Red Sox this season.

Bill Stafford, New York's starter who worked seven innings before being lifted for a pinch hitter, was credited with his 13th victory in 21 decisions.

Conley was charged with his 13th loss against as many victories.

The Yanks broke a 1-1 tie on Howard's 18th homer with the bases empty in the second.

Boston took a 3-2 lead in the fourth on a single by Carl Yastrzemski, Lu Clinton's double and singles by Frank Malzone and Russ Nixon.

The Red Sox closed to within one run in the eighth on a walk to Yastrzemski and singles by Runnels and Nixon, but Daley chopped it off and shut them out in the ninth.

The Yanks got their first run when Yastrzemski, seeking to avoid a collision with Gary Geiger, dropped Kubek's fly ball and it went for a double in the first inning. Tom Tresh's single scored him. Runnels matched that in the second with his 10th homer.

Vada Pinson Doubles Home Winning Run

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vada Pinson doubled home the deciding run in the 11th inning Friday night, giving Cincinnati a come-from-behind 6-5 victory over St. Louis.

The game went into overtime after the Reds finally tied it in the ninth inning off starter Bob Gibson and again in the 10th.

In the 11th, Eddie Kasko drilled a leadoff single to left off reliever Curt Simmons and moved to second on Don Blasingame's sacrifice. Pinson's double followed.

Gibson had scattered ten hits artfully before running into trouble in the tenth. He fanned ten Reds.

Dave Sisler picked up the victory in relief. Starter Bob Purkey had been lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

The Cards took the lead in the tenth with one run on three singles and a walk. But the Reds caught up on Frank Robinson's one-out homer.

Cincinnati went on to load the bases on reliever Lindy McDaniel, but he fanned pinch hitter Wally Post to douse the threat.

In the ninth inning, two singles set up Leo Cardenas' run-making safety.

In the fourth inning, Vada Pinson tripled and Robinson singled him home.

Two walks, a passed ball and Jerry Lynch's double drove in two Reds runs in the sixth and Fred Whitfield had rapped a leadoff homer in the sixth for St. Louis.

Ragged infield work by the Reds helped St. Louis punch out two unearned runs in the first inning and another in the fifth.

The Reds lost chunky first sacker Gordie Coleman on the fifth inning scoring play when he was gashed on the left ankle.

Julian Javier had started the inning with a single, and after Curt Flood was hit by a pitch, White drilled a scoring single to center.

Coleman muffed the rely and was spiked by White running out the hit, but was able to throw Flood out at third before falling to the field in pain.

Sievers' Clout Breaks Deadlock For Phillies Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A home run by Roy Sievers in the 10th inning broke a 3-3 deadlock and gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Friday night.

The victory went to reliever Jack Baldschun who now is 10-7. The loser was Claude Raymond (5-3).

Henry Aaron and Joe Adcock hit home runs for all the Braves' runs. Don Demeter also homered for the Phillies.

It was the first victory of the season for Philadelphia at Milwaukee. They had lost six straight here.

Giants Down Chicago, 6-5, With Sanford

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Right-hander Jack Sanford, aided by three San Francisco home runs and needing relief in the eighth, won his 15th straight Friday night as the Giants edged the Chicago Cubs, 6-5.

The victory, coupled with Pittsburgh's 10-1 win over National League-leading Los Angeles, moved the Giants to within a half-game of first place.

Jose Pagan, Tom Haller and Felipe Alou all homered for the Giants while George Altman had four RBIs or Chicago with a first-inning homer and an eighth-inning single.

Stu Miller relieved Sanford with one out in the eighth, and finally got Ernie Banks on a doubleplay liner to Orlando Cepeda at first.

A crowd of 14,652 watched right-hander Bob Buhl absorb his 11th loss against 10 victories.

Altman's 22nd home run in the first inning came with Billy Williams on base.

Pagan evened the count at 2-2 with his seventh homer, scoring Jimmy Davenport ahead of him.

Banks doubled, and Ron Santo singled him home putting the Cubs ahead in the fourth, but in the bottom half, Haller homered again to even the count.

San Francisco went ahead to stay in the fifth. Pagan singled and when center fielder Don Landrum bobbled the ball, he continued to second. Sanford, now 21-6, took two called strikes trying to bunt. He then laid down a perfect one or a single, sending Pagan to third. One run scored on Harvey Kuenn's sacrifice fly and Willie Mays knocked in the second with a double.

Sanford ran into seventh inning trouble with runners on first and second and one down, but struck out pinch hitters Billie Ott and Bob Will to end the threat.

Neville High B-Team Hosts Bolton Bears

Neville High's Junior Varsity hosts the Bolton of Alexandria B-team at Tiger stadium Monday night. Kickoff time is 7 p.m.

QUARTERBACKS SPARKLE

New Wrinkles Added In Tribe Grid Camp

Northeast State Coach Jack Rowan is, as he puts it, "adding a few wrinkles" to his team's offense this year and believes he has just the trio to run the new attack in quarterbacks Ronnie Myrick, Pete Vincent and Mike Cooper.

The Northeast mentor calls his quarterback corps "the best in the Gulf States Conference."

"There may be better quarterbacks in this league but I don't believe any team has three as good as Myrick, Vincent and Cooper," says Rowan. "Myrick is the fastest quarterback in the GSC, Vincent, I believe, can do more things well than any other and Cooper, while this is just his first year with us, has shown us a mighty good arm."

Northeast also has a fourth quarterback in camp, freshman Warren LaSalle of Sulphur, a quick, lanky youngster who is rated a fine future prospect, and a fifth, Mangham freshman Dee Faircloth.

All of the top three are experienced field generals. Myrick, although he hardly qualifies as a veteran as a 19-year-old sophomore, was the busiest Indian quarterback last season. Vincent is a senior and is a veteran of two years of junior college football at Sunflower (Miss.) J. C. and one year as a sometime starter at Northeast. Cooper played two years of football in the Texas junior college league, one of the toughest circuits in the country.

Myrick is the fastest man on the Tribe squad, being clocked in a 9.8 100-yards dash last spring, and elusive as well. The Oak Grove star was the team's second leading rusher with 271 yards for a 4.1 average last fall, picking up most of his gains on the option play. He added 322 yards on 25 pass completions in 57 attempts to rank first on the team and fourth in the GSC in total offense with 593 yards.

Vincent did not attend school last year after playing with Northeast in 1960. His last game in 1960 was his best, a 20-15 loss to Louisiana Tech in Monroe. Vincent was named the team's "Back of the Week" for his performance in the game.

Versatile is the word for the 170-pounder from Indianola, Miss. He's a fast and elusive runner, a good passer, an accurate place kicker and can punt if the need arises. He punted only once in 1960, getting off a 43 yard boot. He completed 42 per cent of his passes that year, connecting on nine of 21 tosses, one for a touchdown.

Vincent booted a field goal in the game against Tech and will probably be called on for some long kicks this season. Willie Ragan, who made 17 of 20 extra point kicks for Northeast last fall, is considered slightly more accurate than Vincent on short kicks but the Mississippian is better over longer distances.

Cooper has been at a disadvantage this fall since he was not on campus last spring and didn't participate in spring workouts. He has exhibited a cool head and good passing eye this fall. The 190-pounder from Houston was named to the all-Texas junior college team in 1961 at Wharton, J.C.

Senators Rout Chicago Club By 7-2 Count

CHICAGO (AP)—The Washington Senators knocked out Eddie Fisher in the fourth inning and continued against Turk Lown to rout the Chicago White Sox 7-2 Friday night in a game in which both clubs lost the services of one player.

Harry Bright, Senators' first baseman, suffered a torn rib cartilege when he checked his swing at the plate in the third inning and had to retire from the game. Bob Sadowski, whose two-run homer accounted for the only Chicago runs, had to be carried from the field on a stretcher when he strained ligaments in his ankle sliding into second base in the eighth.

Two rookies, Don Lock and John Kennedy, led the Senators' attack with two singles apiece. Bennie Daniels, who relieved starter Rom Cheney in the fourth and recorded his seventh win. He also helped his cause with a two-run double to chase Lown in the fifth.

Two Records Set In Women's Opening Round

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Two course records were set Friday in the second round of the Eugene Open Women's Golf Tournament.

First Mickey Wright carded a 70 on the par 39-34—73, 6,532-yard Eugene Country Club course. That broke a course record of 71 set in 1961 by Sherry Wheeler during the Trans-Mississippi tournament.

Forty-five minutes later, Shirley Englehorn, who had six birdies in the round, came in with 69.

Miss Englehorn who now is in the lead with a 36-hole score of 75-69—144, had a good day with her irons. She didn't have to sink any long puts because she chipped so well.

Baxter's Par Round Saves 6-Under Lead

DENVER (AP) — Rex Baxter Jr. scrambled to a par 70 Friday to preserve his lead in the $35,000 Denver Open Golf Tournament with a two-round 134, six under par.

The handsome Amerillo, Tex., swinger scored one birdie with a 30-foot putt on No. 9. His only bogey was on the 208-yard par 3 No. 17 where his three-iron tee shot dropped into a trap at the right of the green. His explosion shot was 15 feet short, necessitating two putts. Otherwise he parred the rest of the way around the 6,753-yard, par 35-35—70 Denver Country Club course.

Dave Marr and Marty Furgol, who matched the day's best rounds of 67 were among Baxter's closest pursuers at 137 — three strokes back. The others were Jack Fleck, with a 68, George Bayer, with 69, and Art Wall Jr., with 69.

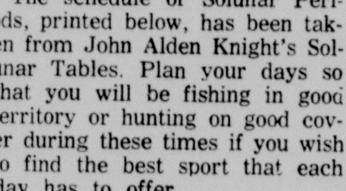
Robinson Will Fight And Sing

LONDON (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson will combine his fading boxing career with his new singing act in London.

The 42-year-old, former middleweight champion said Friday he will receive $5,600 for singing two songs on a commercial television program from the London Palladium Sept. 15.

Ten days later he will meet London's Terry Downes, former coholder of the world middleweight crown, in a 10-round bout at Wembley Stadium.



The schedule or Solunar Periods, printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting on good cover during these times if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Nicklaus Won't Take Back Seat

By JOSE MOOSHIL

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the young U.S. Open champion, has no intention of taking a back seat to either Arnold Palmer or Gary Player when the three champions tee off in the World Series of Golf Saturday.

The 22-year-old former National Amateur champion warmed up for the 36-hole playoff, which has a top prize of $50,000, by firing a 4-under-par 66 over Firestone Country Club's 7,165-yard course despite two bogeys in the first three holes in Friday's final practice round.

The talented trio, joking their way around Thursday's practice round in which Palmer matched par 70 while Player had a 74 and Nicklaus a 76, played more seriously Friday.

In fact, all three shattered par—which isn't done often over this massive course. Two years ago Jay Hebert won the PGA Open at Firestone with a 1-over-par 281. Last year Hebert won the American Golf Classic in a sudden death playoff against Player with only Player and Hebert mastering par after four rounds. Last month, Palmer won the classic and was the only professional to crack par after four rounds, with a 276.

Player, collecting four birdies in Friday's practice round, also came in with a 34-32—66, while Palmer had a 36-32—68. The course, charged up by heavy rains early in the week, was plush and is expected to remain so for the NBC-TV telecast Saturday and Sunday.

Originally, it was hoped that the tournament would include four players—the winners of the U.S. Open, the Masters, the British Open and the PGA. But Palmer won both the Masters and the British Open, while Player took the PGA to cut the field to three men.

The winner will pack off $50,000 while the runner-up takes $15,000, with $10,000 going to the "loser."

These fantastic sums, however, will not count toward the official PGA money list in which Palmer leads the pack with a record $80,198. Nicklaus and Player are not among the paupers either. Nicklaus, a freshman on the pro circuit, has picked up checks totalling $53,518 and Player, last year's leader with $64,000, has earned $44,338.

All three players have denied any possibility of splitting the entire purse, something which is sometimes done on weekend tournaments by various leaders. Nicklaus indicated that all three are fixed well enough financially so that they don't have to take part in any splits. In this case they could agree to an under-the-table split of $25,000 each.

In addition to practicing against Firestone's 35-35—70, the threesome tried to gauge its timing to the telecast Saturday and Sunday. Television will carry the final six holes of each round from 4:40 to 6 p.m., EDT. The golfers finished far ahead of schedule Thursday, but came closer to the regulated time Friday although winding up 14 minutes ahead of time.

When the chips are down Saturday, however, play is expected to slow up. If not, it will be intentionally speeded up or slowed down to meet the schedule.

Should a tie result after Sunday's round, a sudden death playoff will be held, but the participants will not return to the first tee. Instead, they will go to No. 13, a 460-yard par 4 hole where the television equipment already is set up.

Houston Edges New York Mets By 4-2 Margin

HOUSTON (AP) — Tight relief pitching by Jim Golden and Don McMahon gave the Houston Colts a 4-2 victory over the New York Mets Friday night in the opener of a four-game series.

Golden, who rescued Colts starter Hal Woodeshick with two on and none out in the seventh was the winner. He is 6-11.

When Golden faltered in the eighth by walking one man and running a 2-0 count on another batter, McMahon came in to put out the fire.

The Colts won the game in the seventh with a two-run rally on two-out run-producing singles by Johnny Temple and Jim Pendleton.

The loser was Al Jackson (8-12).

BETTER—NOT AS GOOD

Green Bay Packer Head Offers Puzzling Analysis

By GENE HINTZ

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Better — But not as good. Good —But not great.

That's the puzzling, but forthright, capsule analysis Coach Vince Lombardi makes of his defending National Football League champion Green Bay Packers.

"If we can get our whole team from the start of the season, we'll be better than last year," Lombardi said. But Lombardi was emphatic in denying that would mean his team would win more games this year than last.

"Last year we won in the west with an 11-3 record," he said. "It'll be at least a decade before any team in the Western Conference ever wins as many as 11 games again."

Said Lombardi, who last year called his Packers one of the greatest teams in NFL history following the 37-0 playoff win over the New York Giants, "We'll be good — but not great."

Lombardi agrees his team should be favored for a third straight Western Division crown and a second successive NFL title. But he warns: "Everybody knows it and will be aiming at us. We're improved, but so has everyone else."

The former high school physics teacher feels there won't be an easy game all season, right from the opener Sept. 16 when the Packers host the Minnesota Vikings.

"They gave us two of our toughest games last season," he said. "They'll be ready for us come opening day." Lombardi feels his toughest competition in the west will be Detroit and Baltimore, but also likes the looks of all the other teams in the division.

"You can't rule any of them out — especially Baltimore with (John) Unitas back in form," he said.

Except for Em Tunnell, who retired, and Tom Bettis and Ben Davidson, who were traded, last year's team is back intact. And this year there's no Berlin crisis threatening to take away his players for military duty. Also, everyone is healthy.

Starting with Paul Hornung, one of the "cold war" casualties of last season, Jim Taylor and Bart Starr and going down to rookies like Earl Gros (pronounced Grow) of LSU, Ed Blaine of Missouri, Gary Barnes of Clemson, Ron Gassert of Virginia and Oscar Donahue of San Jose State, the talent is there for another crown.

Injuries hobbled Hornung, Taylor and Starr last season, but all ended at or near the top of the league in their specialties. All are healthy this year, though Hornung still has not shown his old-time form.

If there has to be a weakness, it's most likely the defensive backfield. Herb Adderly, top draft choice in 1961, has been given a chance to win a starting berth there. John Symank, Hank Gremminger, Willie Wood and Jesse Whittenton, last year's regulars, are all back.

As for the ends, word from Packer camp is that Max McGee, Ron Kramer and Boyd Dowler are better than ever, thanks to competition from Gray Knafele, a starter two years ago, versatile Lew Carpenter, and rookies Barnes and Donahue.

ON COURTS

11-Year-Old Gets Approving Looks

By ED CORRIGAN

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — You'd think it was Pancho Gonzales or Jack Kramer giving lessons the way the players swarm around a side practice court at the West Side Tennis Club during the National Tennis Championships.

Instead, the players and officials are watching an 11-year-old 87-pounder working on a fantastic assortment of strokes. His name is Dickie Stockton and in six or seven years most of the tennis brass figure he'll win back the Davis Cup for the United States.

"That's what I want to do," said Dickie Friday when he finished a long session with his 16-year-old brother Stevie. "I want to get on the Davis Cup team and I want to win the national championship."

Dickie really has all the top coaches agog. He rarely hit the wrong shot and for a lad of his age, he has amazing control.

"He's been interested in tennis since he was seven," said his father, Richard Stockton, a chemical salesman from Riverdale, N.Y. "It's hard to believe but he picked up the game himself with a table tennis paddle in the basement of our home."

"The last two years," volunteered Dickie, "I won three championships in one day in the Eastern Pennsylvania tousnament, 11-under 13-under and 15-uder. This year I also won the 15-under doubles. They told me no one ever had done that before."

Dickie is a straight A student in school and plays little league baseball and basketball.

"Of course," observed the elder Stockton, "one of the main problems with kids like this is to try to keep them normal. That's why I encourage him to play other sports. But he's very serious about tennis. He does UT pushups every day, skips rope and does roadwork.

"The most amusing thing that happened to us since Dickie began to show promise was in 1960 when Harry Hopman, the Australian Davis Cup coach, stopped by to watch him practice. He told me later he thought that pound for pound he was the best player in the world and then hinted that maybe we'd like to move to Australia."

Angels Take Orioles In 10 Inning Game

BALTIMORE (AP)—The third-place Los Angeles Angels, struggling to stay in the American League pennant race, scored twice in the 10th inning Friday night and hung on for a 5-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The tense squeaker left the Angels 4½ games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, who defeated Boston 5-4.

The Orioles, who whipped the Yankees five in a row two weeks ago to make a contest of the pennant chase, scored one run in the 10th and had the potential tying run on first base with none out.

Reliever Walks In Winning Run For Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Reliever John Wyatt walked Jerry Kindall on four pitches to force in the winning run Friday night as the Cleveland Indians edged Kansas City 2-1 behind Pete Ramos' two-hit pitching.

Wyatt relieved starter Orlando Pena with the bases loaded and immediately gave up a game-tying single to Bubba Phillips before walking Kindall. Pena scattered six hits until he was relieved.

BIGGEST THRILL in the seven years of Pat Scallan's life came Thursday evening when he caught this bass, the first of many he hopes to take from now on, while casting with an artificial worm into Phillips Bayou off Island Drive in Monroe. Pat was so thrilled he wouldn't permit his fish to be cleaned, but froze it overnight until he could get a photo made. He was yelling and screaming so while reeling in his catch that his mother thought he had fallen into the bayou. He's son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Scallan, 1009 Emerson. (Staff photo by John Cale)

Sterlington Set To Open Against Lions B Tonight

STERLINGTON (Special) — Sterlington High School, with eight returning lettermen, officially opens its 1962 football campaign here tonight against Ouachita Parish High School's "B" team.

The game is set for 8 p.m. at the local high school stadium.

Coach Guy Carroll, entering his third season coaching the Sterlington squad said Friday night he expected his boys to make a good showing in tonight's contest. "The boys have been working hard," Carroll said, "and they seem to have a lot of desire."

The Ouachita "B" team took a 12-0 beating from West Monroe's "B" squad in the recent jamboree. The game will be the first of the season for Sterlington.

Former Northwestern State lineman, Al Nicosia, has assumed line coaching duties at Sterlington and reportedly has made improvements in the team's line. Nicosia coached in Jackson last season.

The Sterlington team is slated to play its first two games of the season on Saturday. The remaining games, with the exception of one on Thursday will be played on Friday nights.

Sterlington's probable starting lineup includes:

QB, Lonnie Williams or Steve Henry
LHB, Jerry Seffens
FB, Buddy Hemler
RHB, Tommy Bonner
LE, Harry Stephens
LT, Tommy Dupree
LG, Bubba Moore
C, David Harper
RG, David Stuart
RT, Charlie Earle

Calhoun Plays Southside Here In Delta Scrap

McGuffee Construction of Calhoun and Southside of Monroe resume their Delta Baseball League semi-final playoff here tonight at 8 o'clock at American Legion Memorial Stadium with the Calhoun club smarting from a Monday defeat that was their first loss of the season, putting them one down in the best-of-three playoff.

Calhoun, which went the regular season defeat without a setback, must win tonight's game to force a showdown contest next week.

Chatham and Swartz, the other half of the playoff, meet Monday night at the same park in their second game. Chatham won the opener Tuesday.

Bobby Satterfield, Southside, and Jerry Lovett, Calhoun, are expected to be mound rivals tonight. Satterfield lost two decisions to Lovett during the regular season in eleven and nine-inning distances.

Webb Nix, Ronnie May, Glen Johnson, H. B. Bennett, Earl Barnes, Richard Wilkerson, Gilbert Lee, Bobby May, and James Cromwell figured big in helping L. M. Welch beat Lovett in the series opener. Tonight Welch rests from mound duty to see if Satterfield can end McGuffee's rule of the league.

GEORGE THOMAS, Los Angeles outfielder, had to dive back to first base head-first in the second inning of Friday night's game to avoid being picked off. Jim Gentile, Baltimore first baseman, applied the tag after taking the toss from catcher Hobie Landrith. The throw was a split second too late. (AP Wirephoto)

Jack Dempsey Makes Title Bout Predictions

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — Ex-heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey met the press in a hospital Friday and displayed fancy verbal sparring in considering a winner of the Sept. 25 title bout between champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Sonny Liston.

"On paper, Liston has all the best of it, but Patterson may be able to cut this fellow up and do some good," said 67-year-old Dempsey at Presbyterian-St. Lukes Hospital.

Dempsey, here for acceptance into the Shrine's Medinah Temple, had to receive his red fez at the hospital where he underwent minor surgery Thursday on a recurring abscess in his lower back.

Dempsey said the ailment stems from an injury suffered when he was knocked out of the ring in his epic 1923 fight with Luis Firpo.

The fast-talking, genial ex-champion was reminded he recently picked Patterson to whip Liston. "I did that with a lot of if's and but's," said Dempsey. "I really couldn't pick a winner now without studying both boxers in their camps."

He said he had to make a trip to the West Coast in a few days and didn't know when he might watch Liston at his Aurora Downs camp or Patterson at nearby Elgin, Ill. "I certainly hope to see the fight, though," added Dempsey.

Redskins Get Final Crack At Green Bay

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Washington Redskins get the final crack Saturday night at trying to break the exhibition victory parade of the Green Bay Packers before the National Football League launches its 43rd regular season Sept. 16.

The Redskins battle the Packers the NFL's defending champions, at Columbus, Ga., in one of four exhibition contests slated Saturday and Saturday night.

Green Bay has won 18 exhibition games in succession, having last been beaten in 1959 by the New York Giants. Five of the Packers' pre-season triumphs have been posted this year.

Washington snapped an 18-game exhibition losing streak last weekend by surprising the Chicago Bears 29-28. The victory came only a week after the Bears had lost by only 35-21 to the proud Packers. Former Packer Ben Davidson has been a big factor in the Redskins' defense. Washington is now 1-3.

Saturday's lone afternoon encounter sends the Giants, edged by the Packers last week 20-17 and 1-2-1 in exhibition competition, against the Philadelphia Eagles in Princeton's Palmer Stadium.

In other games Saturday night, the San Francisco 49ers visit Los Angeles to meet the Rams in a contest between two explosive clubs featuring the long ball, and the Dallas Cowboys square off against the Minnesota Vikings at Atlanta. San Francisco is 3-1, Los Angeles 2-2. Dallas hasn't won in four tests but has never lost to the Vikings, who are 1-3 after upsetting the Baltimore Colts last week 24-13.

The NFL's exhibition campaign comes to a close Sunday when Baltimore (3-1) faces the Steelers (1-3) at Pittsburgh. This one will bring together the Steelers' fine running and the passing of the Colts' Johnny Unitas.

SOME RICH STAKES

Spotlight Taken By Fillies, Colts

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The kiddies, who are supposed to be seen and not heard, make most of the noise around the nation's thoroughbred tracks Saturday.

Juveniles are featured in the three top races, lush affairs at Arlington, Aqueduct and Atlantic City with a total value of about $600,000. They include the Arlington-Washington Park Futurity at Arlington, the World Playground Stakes at Atlantic City and the Matron Stakes at Aqueduct, which may determine the 2-year-old filly title.

Other major attractions include the $25,000 added Michigan Derby for 3-year-olds at 1 1-16 miles at Hazel Park, the $20,000 added Escondido Handicap over 1⅛ miles of the grass course at Del Mar and the $20,000 added Appreciation Special for 3-year-olds and up at 1⅛ miles at Rockingham Park.

With Fred W. Hooper's Alabama Bound shelved with a leg injury, 13 are expected to go in the rich Arlington-Washington Futurity. If all start, it will gross $357,250 with a winner's share of $142,250.

The Playground will be worth $113,910 if the 11 colts listed actually start while the $50,000 added Matron already has $96,000 in the pot from nominations and continued eligibility fees.

Alabama Bound was scratched Thursday after it was discovered he had a small bone chip in his right knee. Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend, to be ridden by Manuel Yeaza, ranks as a solid favorite for the 7 furlong test. He's won three of four starts and ranks high on the lists of possible 2-year-old champs.

Speed o'Love and Sky Gem, two Hooper entries, Rex C. Ellsworth's trio of Candy Spots, Space Skates and Big Kim and Russell Firestone's entry of Jet Traffic and Petro Jim may get major support. All will carry 112 pounds.

David P. Reynolds' Be Somebody and Michael G. Phipps' Final Ruling, coupled in the betting, rank as likely favorites in the Playground. Johnny Rotz will ride Be Somebody, and Larry Adams will pilot Final Ruling.

Another top candidate is Miss Patrice Jacobs' Bonjour, which has met the best of his class in 12 starts this season.

A field of at least 11, will go in the Matron. The top candidates are Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Affectionately and Mrs. Russell L. Reineman's Smart Deb, the divisional champions of the east and midwest. Affectionately has won nine of her 10 starts while Smart Deb is unbeaten in six tries.

BETTER—NOT AS GOOD

Green Bay Packer Head Offers Puzzling Analysis

By GENE HINTZ

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Better — But not as good. Good —But not great.

That's the puzzling, but forthright, capsule analysis Coach Vince Lombardi makes of his defending National Football League champion Green Bay Packers.

"If we can get our whole team from the start of the seaxon, we'll be better than last year," Lombardi said. But Lombardi was emphatic in denying that would mean his team would win more games this year than last.

"Last year we won in the west with an 11-3 record," he said. "It'll be at least a decade before any team in the Western Conference ever wins as many as 11 games again."

Said Lombardi, who last year called his Packers one of the greatest teams in NFL history following the 37-0 playoff win over the New York Giants, "We'll be good — but not great."

Lombardi agrees his team should be favored for a third straight Western Division crown and a second successive NFL title. But he warns: "Everybody knows it and will be aiming at us. We're improved, but so has everyone else."

The former high school physics teacher feels there won't be an easy game all season, right from the opener Sept. 16 when the Packers host the Minnesota Vikings.

"They gave us two of our toughest games last season," he said. "They'll be ready for us come opening day." Lombardi feels his toughest competition in the west will be Detroit and Baltimore, but also likes the looks of all the other teams in the division.

"You can't rule any of them out — especially Baltimore with (John) Unitas back in form," he said.

Except for Em Tunnell, who retired, and Tom Bettis and Ben Davidson, who were traded, last year's team is back intact. And this year there's no Berlin crisis threatening to take away his players for military duty. Also, everyone is healthy.

Starting with Paul Hornung, one of the "cold war" casualties of last season, Jim Taylor and Bart Starr and going down to rookies like Earl Gros (pronounced Grow) of LSU, Ed Blaine of Missouri, Gary Barnes of Clemson, Ron Gassert of Virginia and Oscar Donahue of San Jose State, the talent is there for another crown.

Injuries hobbled Hornung, Taylor and Starr last season, but all ended at or near the top of the league in their specialties. All are healthy this year, though Hornung still has not shown his old-time form.

If there has to be a weakness, it's most likely the defensive backfield. Herb Adderly, top draft choice in 1961, has been given a chance to win a starting berth there. John Symank, Hank Gremminger, Willie Wood and Jesse Whittenton, last year's regulars, are all back.

As for the ends, word from Packer camp is that Max McGee, Ron Kramer and Boyd Dowler are better than ever, thanks to competition from Gray Knafelc, a starter two years ago, versatile Lew Carpenter, and rookies Barnes and Donahue.

11-Year-Old Gets Approving Looks

By ED CORRIGAN

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — You'd think it was Pancho Gonzales or Jack Kramer giving lessons the way the players swarm around a side practice court at the West Side Tennis Club during the National Tennis Championships.

Instead, the players and officials are watching an 11-year-old 87-pounder working on a fantastic assortment of strokes. His name is Dickie Stockton and in six or seven years most of the tennis brass figure he'll win back the Davis Cup for the United States.

"That's what I want to do," said Dickie Friday when he finished a long session with his 16-year-old brother Stevie. "I want to get on the Davis Cup team and I want to win the national championship."

Dickie really has all the top coaches agog. He rarely hit the wrong shot and for a lad of his age, he has amazing control.

"He's been interested in tennis since he was seven," said his father, Richard Stockton, a chemical salesman from Riverdale, N.Y. "It's hard to believe but he picked up the game himself with a table tennis paddle in the basement of our home."

"The last two years," volunteered Dickie, "I won three championships in one day in the Eastern Pennsylvania tousnament, 11-under 13-under and 15-uder. This year I also won the 15-under doubles. They told me no one ever had done that before."

Dickie is a straight A student in school and plays little league baseball and basketball.

"Of course," observed the elder Stockton, "one of the main problems with kids like this is to try to keep them normal. That's why I encourage him to play other sports. But he's very serious about tennis. He does UT pushups every day, skips rope and does roadwork.

"The most amusing thing that happened to us since Dickie began to show promise was in 1960 when Harry Hopman, the Australian Davis Cup coach, stopped by to watch him practice. He told me later he thought that pound for pound he was the best player in the world and then hinted that maybe we'd like to move to Australia."

Reliever Walks In Winning Run For Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Reliever John Wyatt walked Jerry Kindall on four pitches to force in the winning run Friday night as the Cleveland Indians edged Kansas City 2-1 behind Pete Ramos' two-hit pitching.

Wyatt relieved starter Orlando Pena with the bases loaded and immediately gave up a game-tying single to Bubba Phillips before walking Kindall. Pena scattered six hits until he was relieved.

Angels Take Orioles In 10 Inning Game

BALTIMORE (AP)—The third-place Los Angeles Angels, struggling to stay in the American League pennant race, scored twice in the 10th inning Friday night and hung on for a 5-4 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The tense squeaker left the Angels 4½ games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, who defeated Boston 5-4.

The Orioles, who whipped the Yankees five in a row two weeks ago to make a contest of the pennant chase, scored one run in the 10th and had the potential tying run on first base with none out.

BIGGEST THRILL in the seven years of Pat Scallan's life came Thursday evening when he caught this bass, the first of many he hopes to take from now on, while casting with an artificial worm into Phillips Bayou off Island Drive in Monroe. Pat was so thrilled he wouldn't permit his fish to be cleaned, but froze it overnight until he could get a photo made. He was yelling and screaming so while reeling in his catch that his mother thought he had fallen into the bayou. He's son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Scallan, 1009 Emerson. (Staff photo by John Cale)

Sterlington Set To Open Against Lions B Tonight

STERLINGTON (Special) — Sterlington High School, with eight returning lettermen, officially opens its 1962 football campaign here tonight against Ouachita Parish High School's "B" team.

The game is set for 8 p.m. at the local high school stadium.

Coach Guy Carroll, entering his third season coaching the Sterlington squad said Friday night he expected his boys to make a good showing in tonight's contest. "The boys have been working hard," Carroll said, "and they seem to have a lot of desire."

The Ouachita "B" team took a 12-0 beating from West Monroe's "B" squad in the recent jamboree. The game will be the first of the season for Sterlington.

Former Northwestern State lineman, Al Nicosia, has assumed line coaching duties at Sterlington and reportedly has made improvements in the team's line. Nicosia coached in Jackson last season.

The Sterlington team is slated to play its first two games of the season on Saturday. The remaining games, with the exception of one on Thursday will be played on Friday nights.

Sterlington's probable starting lineup includes:

OB, Lonnie Williams or Steve Henry
LHB, Jerry Seffens
FB, Buddy Hemler
RHB, Tommy Bonner
LE, Harry Stephens
LT, Tommy Dupree
LG, Bubba Moore
C, David Harper
RG, David Stuart

Calhoun Plays Southside Here In Delta Scrap

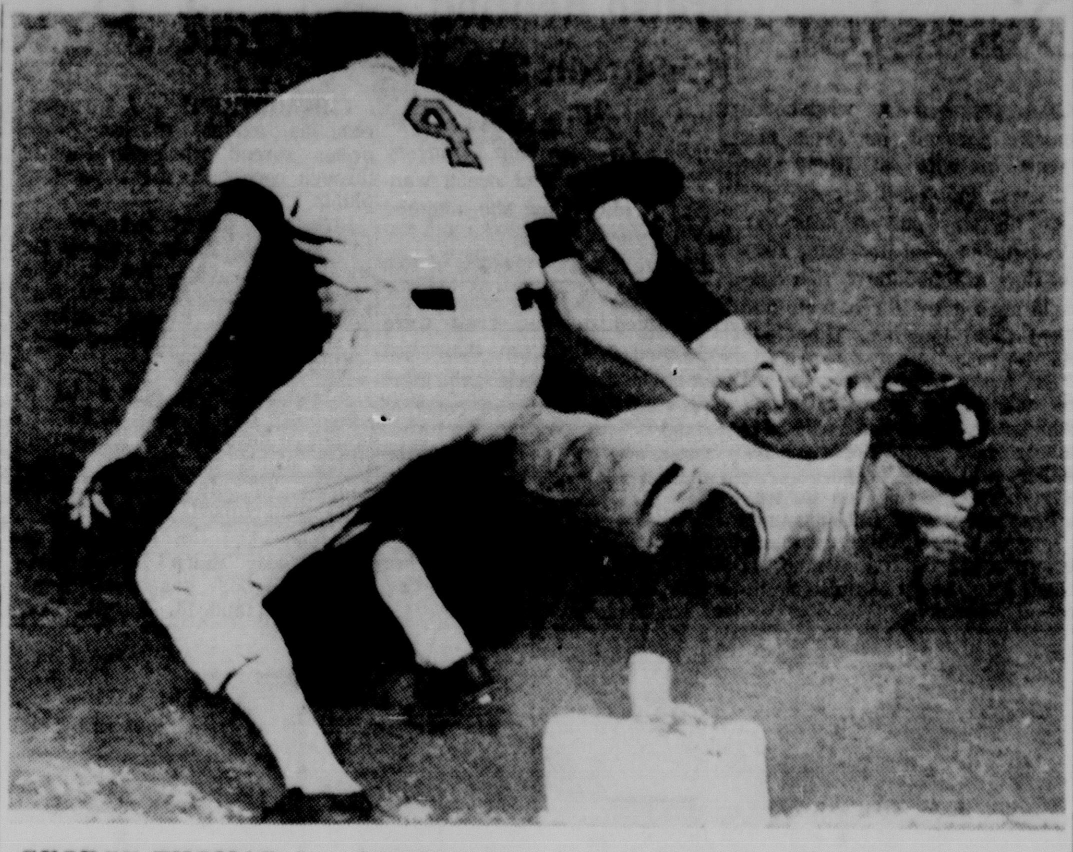
McGuffee Construction of Calhoun and Southside of Monroe resume their Delta Baseball League semi-final playoff here tonight at 8 o'clock at American Legion Memorial Stadium with the Calhoun club smarting from a Monday defeat that was their first loss of the season, putting them one down in the best-of-three playoff.

Calhoun, which went the regular season defeat without a setback, must win tonight's game to force a showdown contest next week.

Chatham and Swartz, the other half of the playoff, meet Monday night at the same park in their second game. Chatham won the opener Tuesday.

Bobby Satterfield, Southside, and Jerry Lovett, Calhoun, are expected to be mound rivals tonight. Satterfield lost two decisions to Lovett during the regular season in eleven and nine-inning distances.

Webb Nix, Ronnie May, Glen Johnson, H. B. Bennett, Earl Barnes, Richard Wilkerson, Gilbert Lee, Bobby May, and James Cromwell figured big in helping L. M. Welch beat Lovett in the series opener. Tonight Welch rests from mound duty to see if Satterfield can end McGuffee's rule of the league.



GEORGE THOMAS, Los Angeles outfielder, had to dive back to first base head-first in the second inning of Friday night's game to avoid being picked off. Jim Gentile, Baltimore first baseman, applied the tag after taking the toss from catcher Hobie Landrith. The throw was a split second too late. (AP Wirephoto)

Jack Dempsey Makes Title Bout Predictions

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — Ex-heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey met the press in a hospital Friday and displayed fancy verbal sparring in considering a winner of the Sept. 25 title bout between champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Sonny Liston.

"On paper, Liston has all the best of it, but Patterson may be able to cut this fellow up and do some good," said 67-year-old Dempsey at Presbyterian-St. Lukes Hospital.

Dempsey, here for acceptance into the Shrine's Medinah Temple, had to receive his red fez at the hospital where he underwent minor surgery Thursday on a recurring abscess in his lower back.

Dempsey said the ailment stems from an injury suffered when he was knocked out of the ring in his epic 1923 fight with Luis Firpo.

The fast-talking, genial ex-champion was reminded he recently picked Patterson to whip Liston. "I did that with a lot of if's and but's," said Dempsey. "I really couldn't pick a winner now without studying both boxers in their camps."

He said he had to make a trip to the West Coast in a few days and didn't know when he might watch Liston at his Aurora Downs camp or Patterson at nearby Elgin, Ill. "I certainly hope to see the fight, though," added Dempsey.

Redskins Get Final Crack At Green Bay

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Washington Redskins get the final crack Saturday night at trying to break the exhibition victory parade of the Green Bay Packers before the National Football League launches its 43rd regular season Sept. 16.

The Redskins battle the Packers the NFL's defending champions, at Columbus, Ga., in one of four exhibition contests slated Saturday and Saturday night.

Green Bay has won 18 exhibition games in succession, having last been beaten in 1959 by the New York Giants. Five of the Packers' pre-season triumphs have been posted this year.

Washington snapped an 18-game exhibition losing streak last weekend by surprising the Chicago Bears 29-28. The victory came only a week after the Bears had lost by only 35-21 to the proud Packers. Former Packer Ben Davidson has been a big factor in the Redskins' defense. Washington is now 1-3.

Saturday's lone afternoon encounter sends the Giants, edged by the Packers last week 20-17 and 1-2-1 in exhibition competition, against the Philadelphia Eagles in Princeton's Palmer Stadium.

In other games Saturday night, the San Francisco 49ers visit Los Angeles to meet the Rams in a contest between two explosive clubs featuring the long ball, and the Dallas Cowboys square off against the Minnesota Vikings at Atlanta. San Francisco is 3-1, Los Angeles 2-2. Dallas hasn't won in four tests but has never lost to the Vikings, who are 1-3 after upsetting the Baltimore Colts last week 24-13.

The NFL's exhibition campaign comes to a close Sunday when Baltimore (3-1) faces the Steelers (1-3) at Pittsburgh. This one will bring together the Steelers' fine running and the passing of the Colts' Johnny Unitas.

SOME RICH STAKES

Spotlight Taken By Fillies, Colts

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The kiddies, who are supposed to be seen and not heard, make most of the noise around the nation's thoroughbred tracks Saturday.

Juveniles are featured in the three top races, lush affairs at Arlington, Aqueduct and Atlantic City with a total value of about $600,000. They include the Arlington-Washington Park Futurity at Arlington, the World Playground Stakes at Atlantic City and the Matron Stakes at Aqueduct, which may determine the 2-year-old filly title.

Other major attractions include the $25,000 added Michigan Derby for 3-year-olds at 1 1-16 miles at Hazel Park, the $20,000 added Escondido Handicap over 1⅛ miles of the grass course at Del Mar and the $20,000 added Appreciation Special for 3-year-olds and up at 1⅛ miles at Rockingham Park.

With Fred W. Hooper's Alabama Bound shelved with a leg injury, 13 are expected to go in the rich Arlington-Washington Futurity. If all start, it will gross $357,250 with a winner's share of $142,250.

The Playground will be worth $113,910 if the 11 colts listed actually start while the $50,000 added Matron already has $96,000 in the pot from nominations and continued eligibility fees.

Alabama Bound was scratched Thursday after it was discovered he had a small bone chip in his right knee. Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend, to be ridden by Manuel Ycaza, ranks as a solid favorite for the 7 furlong test. He's won three of four starts and ranks high on the lists of possible 2-year-old champs.

Speed o'Love and Sky Gem, two Hooper entries, Rex C. Ellsworth's trio of Candy Spots, Space Skates and Big Kim and Russell Firestone's entry of Jet Traffic and Petro Jim may get major support. All will carry 112 pounds.

David P. Reynolds' Be Somebody and Michael G. Phipps' Final Ruling, coupled in the betting, rank as likely favorites in the Playground. Johnny Rotz will ride Be Somebody, and Larry Adams will pilot Final Ruling.

Another top candidate is Miss Patrice Jacobs' Bonjour, which has met the best of his class in 12 starts this season.

A field of at least 11, will go in the Matron. The top candidates are Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Affectionately and Mrs. Russell L. Reineman's Smart Deb, the divisional champions of the east and midwest. Affectionately has won nine of her 10 starts while Smart Deb is unbeaten in six tries.

One Saved In Sea Disaster

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A teen-aged mother expecting a baby in a month clung to a makeshift raft for five hours after seeing her husband and three other men swept away by stormy seas.

Mrs. Jimmy Case, 18, of nearby Galiano Island, was hauled aboard a fishing boat early Friday after she was spotted hanging on to three wooden crates lashed together.

An air and sea search continued for Jimmy Case, 25, of Galiano; Jack Bland, 38, of Vancouver, Glen Loreny of Galiano and Bud Greenhall of nearby Gibsons.

Mrs. Case was reported in reasonably good condition at a hospital here. Doctors said she suffered mild shock and exposure, but her unborn baby appeared uninjured. She has one other child.

The 42-foot fishpacker Loretta B went down in rough seas off the mouth of the Fraser River Thursday night. Mrs. Case said she was in the wheelhouse with her husband and Bland, the skipper. The other two men were asleep below.

The Loretta B apparently got caught in the trough between to huge waves.

"The boat started sinking quickly," Mrs. Case said.

Case smashed a wheelhouse window, got out on deck and dragged his wife out. Bland sent a distress call on the radio and made his way out on deck too.

As the ship went under the surface, they grabbed three fish boxes, 18 inches by three feet, and lashed them together. They held onto the rope.

"But a short time after we got into the water a wave swept Bland away," Mrs. Case said. Her husband held onto the rope for another two hours or so.

The Loretta B was on its way to Vancouver with 20,000 pounds of salmon picked up at a Tulloch western fisheries fish camp at Porleir Pass, about 25 miles southwest of Vancouver.

British Retiring Research Ship

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — Britain's research ship Discovery II ended 33 years of ocean wandering Friday when she steamed into Plymouth.

Ship's cat Suzie, veteran of two arctic voyages, was first ashore. Then scientists and crew were welcomed home from their last voyage—a three-week geological survey of the southwest coast of Ireland.

Discovery III is expected to be delivered late this year.

Discovery II may serve henceforth as a floating laboratory or she may be scrapped. During her active lifetime the 1,056-ton vessel steamed 750,000 miles.

Meat Prices Rising In Farm Revolt

CHICAGO (UPI) — A farmers' rebellion against market place prices spread wholesale layoffs through corn belt meat packing plants Friday.

Livestock prices climbed at midwestern yards, wholesale meat prices continued to rise and meat packers warned that housewives can expect markups at supermarkets and corner shops within a few days.

Wilson and Co. announced it would lay off "several hundred" employes next week at its slaughtering plants in Omaha, Neb., Kansas City, Mo., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Albert Lea, Minn.

Armour and Co. announced it would make "sharp" layoffs Monday in its hog gangs at Sioux City, Iowa, and St. Joseph, Mo., and "moderate" layoffs at its Kansas City, Kan., plant. Earlier in the day Armour announced 220 workers would be furloughed at its subsidiary Jacobe Decker and Sons Co. plant at Mason City, Iowa.

The firms blamed curtailed receipts of livestock. A Wilson spokesman said it came "at a time of the year when we normally add to our force."

Rath Packing Co., one of four firms who Thursday began the round of layoff announcements, directly blamed the scarcity of meat-on-the-hoof on National Farm Organization's week-old drive to hold products off the market.

The NFO, the nation's newest big farm group, halted market shipments by its members to try to force processors to sign contracts guaranteeing higher, stable prices for livestock, corn and soybeans.

A Wilson spokesman said he expected chain markets to boost meat prices next week.

"They have to, since wholesale prices are up sharply this week," he said. "Prices for pork loins have risen 10 cents a pound."

Two livestock buying firms in the Milwaukee, Wis., area said higher livestock prices undoubtedly would boost prices to meat consumers.

The top price for pork loin on the Chicago wholesale meat market climbed to $57, the highest in five years. Hogs sold on the Chicago market at $20 a hundredweight, highest level of the year.

A load of prime steers sold on the Chicago market at $34 per 100 pounds, highest price since May, 1959.

Mrs. Jimmy Case, 18, of nearby Galiano Island, was hauled aboard a fishing boat early Friday after she was spotted hanging on to three wooden crates lashed together.

An air and sea search continued for Jimmy Case, 25, of Galiano; Jack Bland, 38, of Vancouver, Glen Loreny of Galiano and Bud Greenhall of nearby Gibsons.

Mrs. Case was reported in reasonably good condition at a hospital here. Doctors said she suffered mild shock and exposure, but her unborn baby appeared uninjured. She has one other child.

The 42-foot fishpacker Loretta B went down in rough seas off the mouth of the Fraser River Thursday night. Mrs. Case said she was in the wheelhouse with her husband and Bland, the skipper. The other two men were asleep below.

The Loretta B apparently got caught in the trough between to huge waves.

"The boat started sinking quickly," Mrs. Case said.

Case smashed a wheelhouse window, got out on deck and dragged his wife out. Bland sent a distress call on the radio and made his way out on deck too.

As the ship went under the surface, they grabbed three fish boxes, 18 inches by three feet, and lashed them together. They held onto the rope.

"But a short time after we got into the water a wave swept Bland away," Mrs. Case said. Her husband held onto the rope for another two hours or so.

The Loretta B was on its way to Vancouver with 20,000 pounds o. salmon picked up at a Tulloch western fisheries fish camp at Porleir Pass, about 25 miles southwest of Vancouver.

SLATE SOVIET VISIT

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — An Iraqi army delegation, headed by Maj. Gen. Ali Gha, will leave Monday for the Soviet Union to witness Red army maneuvers.

British Retiring Research Ship

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — Britain's research ship Discovery II ended 33 years of ocean wandering Friday when she steamed into Plymouth.

Ship's cat Suzie, veteran of two arctic voyages, was first ashore. Then scientists and crew were welcomed home from their last voyage—a three-week geological survey of the southwest coast of Ireland.

Discovery III is expected to be delivered late this year.

Discovery II may serve henceforth as a floating laboratory or she may be scrapped. During her active lifetime the 1,056-ton vessel steamed 750,000 miles.

Meat Prices Rising In Farm Revolt

CHICAGO (UPI) — A farmers' rebellion against market place prices spread wholesale layoffs through corn belt meat packing plants Friday.

Livestock prices climbed at midwestern yards, wholesale meat prices continued to rise and meat packers warned that housewives can expect markups at supermarkets and corner shops within a few days.

Wilson and Co. announced it would lay off "several hundred" employes next week at its slaughtering plants in Omaha, Neb., Kansas City, Mo., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Albert Lea, Minn.

Armour and Co. announced it would make "sharp" layoffs Monday in its hog gangs at Sioux City, Iowa, and St. Joseph, Mo., and "moderate" layoffs at its Kansas City, Kan., plant. Earlier in the day Armour announced 220 workers would be furloughed at its subsidiary Jacobe Decker and Sons Co. plant at Mason City, Iowa.

The firms blamed curtailed receipts of livestock. A Wilson spokesman said it came "at a time of the year when we normally add to our force."

Rath Packing Co., one of four firms who Thursday began the round of layoff announcements, directly blamed the scarcity of meat-on-the-hoof on National Farm Organization's week-old drive to hold products off the market.

The NFO, the nation's newest big farm group, halted market shipments by its members to try to force processors to sign contracts guaranteeing higher, stable prices for livestock, corn and soybeans.

A Wilson spokesman said he expected chain markets to boost meat prices next week.

"They have to, since wholesale prices are up sharply this week," he said. "Prices for pork loins have risen 10 cents a pound."

Two livestock buying firms in the Milwaukee, Wis., area said higher livestock prices undoubtedly would boost prices to meat consumers.

The top price for pork loin on the Chicago wholesale meat market climbed to $57, the highest in five years. Hogs sold on the Chicago market at $20 a hundredweight, highest level of the year.

A load of prime steers sold on the Chicago market at $34 per 100 pounds, highest price since May, 1959.

Mrs. Bolton Is Named Honoree For Tea Shower

Mrs. William D. Bolton, formerly Miss Mary Ann Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Martin of Delhi, whose wedding to William D. Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Bolton, Sr. of Knoxville, Tennessee, took place June 26th in the First Methodist Church of Jasper, Alabama, was honored at a tea shower on Tuesday, August 21st, in the home of Mrs. Robert Anderson. Hostesses with Mrs. Anderson were Mrs. Earl Bruce, Mrs. S. T. Bradley, and Mrs. W. T. Windham.

Mrs. Anderson greeted the guest at the door and invited them to the receiving line formed by the hostesses, the honoree, and her mother, Mrs. Ray Martin.

Arrangements of white mums and green and white caladium leaves were placed at various points in the reception rooms. Carrying out the green and white color scheme were other arrangements of white mums and fern interspersed with clematis. A massive bouquet of white gladoli and clematis, flanked by white tapers was the centerpiece for the buffet.

The refreshment table, covered with a white cloth, held on one end a silver and crystal epergne filled with white mums and fern and topped with a white taper. At the other end, Miss Peggy Bruce poured the punch from a crystal bowl.

For the party, the honoree wore a green and white floral sheath accented with a corsage of white mums.

Approximately fifty guests called between the hours of four and six p.m.

NO TIME FOR LUXURY

CHICAGO (AP) — Joseph J. Haley, general manager of a new Chicago hotel, says the era of breakfast in bed is over.

"Out of 300 guests, room service orders for breakfast are almost nonexistent. When one of the rare calls does come, we think, 'Ah Here's our chance to serve breakfast in bed.' But instead, it usually turns out that the guest is up and waiting, and eats it at a table," Haley said.

MR. AND MRS. JOHNNY WAYNE SISK

Nuptial Vows Exchanged In Temple Baptist Church

Wedding vows of Miss Joyce Ann Brent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Brent of Winnsboro, and Johnny Wayne Sisk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Sisk of Winnsboro, were solemnized on Sunday, Aug. 26, at 3 p.m. in Temple Baptist church with the Rev. La Velle Enterkin performing the double ring ceremony.

Tall candelabra entwined with ivy were used on either side of the altar. White flower arrangements in center of altar table was focal point with fern used on either side in the background.

Tall branched candelabra held the burning tapers lighted by Gayle Sisk brother of the bridegroom, and Jerry Lory of Minden.

Pre - nuptial music was presented by Miss Karen Cuny at the organ who also accompanied Allen Simmons who sang "Because" and "Day of Golden Promise."

Mr. Brent gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown featured a fitted bodice of lace with scooped neckline and long sleeves forming points over the hands. Her voluminous skirt of white peau de soie and lace ended in a short chapel train. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a crown of tiny pearls. The bridal bouquet was of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Dorothy Harvill of Newellton was matron of honor. Miss Haneath Wilson served as bridesmaid. Their identical dresses were blue lace over taffeta made similar to the bride's though styled with short sleeves and skirt. They carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums. Their blue tulle veils were attached to crowns of blue lace.

Mrs. Brent wore a beige lace model and brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Sisk chose a royal blue silk sheath model with lace accessories and she wore white carnations.

Danny Sisk, brother of the bridegroom was ring bearer. Karen and Sharon Welch, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dobe Welch of Winnsboro served as flower girls. They wore identical light blue organdy dresses with organdy jackets and headbands.

John Harvill of Newellton attended the bridegroom as best man. Butch Alpe served as groomsman and ushers were Joe Mongle and Bill Lofton.

The reception was held in the social room of the church. The bride's table was covered with a pink cloth and centered with pink and white chrysanthemums entwined around tall pink candles with a miniature bride and bridegroom in the center. The bride's and attendants bouquets were placed on the serving tables.

Presiding at the crystal punch service was Miss Carol Brent, sister of the bride. The wedding cake was served by Miss Evelyn Sharp of Boyce. Miss Virginia Thomas asked guests to register in the bride's guest book.

For a wedding trip to the gulf coast, the bride changed to a green ensemble with black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. They will reside at Natchitoches during the next year where both are seniors at Northwestern State College.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What do you think of a girl who would telephone a friend and get her to talk about someone in a most uncomplimentary manner when at the time that someone who was being talked about is listening in on the extension telephone in the first person's house?

Isn't this about the lowest trick you ever heard of in your whole life? I was trapped into such a situation and I would like to have a comment from you. — VICTIMIZED

DEAR VICTIMIZED: Yes, this is indeed a shabby trick, but it should teach you a lesson. Never say anything about anyone on the telephone (or anyplace else, for that matter) that you would not say to that person's face.

And as for the cat who framed you, she's a promising candidate for the All American Skunk Award (Female Division).

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You will never print my letter because nobody wants to face the truth about this subject.

You often use a sentence that makes me laugh. I quote: "The law says a man must support his wife and children." Well, I have news for you — the law may say so, but in this state it's just a joke.

I speak from experience, and here's what it's like: The support department at the State's Attorney's office takes your name and all the information. They tell you to wait three months. You wait. Then you appear again and are told they are trying to contact him. You wait another three months. After that they tell you he is not at the address you gave them. So you phone and find he IS there and has been all along.

You go back to the State's Attorney's office. They say they'll look into it. In three months they call and say "He hasn't any money. Do you want to press charges for non - support and have him put in jail?"

What good is he to you in jail? So you say "Skip it."

My advice to women with children is this: Stick it out until the kids are old enough to stand on their own feet. Once a man leaves, your chances for getting support money are mighty slim. — BEEN THROUGH IT

DEAR BEEN: Some states are tougher on the scoundrels than others. I'm in favor of clobbering these low - lifes who try to run out on their responsibilities. Regardless of the law, your last paragraph makes a lot of sense if a man is short on integrity.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't know if you play bridge but I think you can advise me whether or not you know the game.

My husband and I play a lot of cards. He considers himself a genius. I think he's a fine player, but he can and does make mistakes. As for me, I'm a good player, but I don't pretend to be infallible.

The other evening we had another couple in for bridge. Since my husband has a habit of overbidding I was upset when he opened with a wild bid of five spades. I quietly said, "I hope you know what you're doing. I think you're crazy."

He gave me a withering look and said, "Just shut your big, fat mouth and play the hand."

We didn't make it, and he was furious. After our guests left he said, "Your cutting remark rattled me and that is why we lost. I refuse to play cards with you again."

I think I should be the one who is mad. Do you agree? — SET

DEAR SET: You were both out of order. With temperaments such as yours, I can think of 52 good reasons why you and your husband should not play cards together. Throw in the deck permanently.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HEADACHES MAY LEAD TO EYE EXAM

NEW YORK (AP) — Blinding headaches eventually help many people to see better.

The Better Vision Institute points out that headaches frequently impel people with faulty vision to take eye examinations.

Many persons become aware of seeing defects only when they have some secondary effect, such as headaches. The institute says surveys show some 23 million people who do not wear glasses need them. Annual professional eye examinations are recommended for most adults, whether they wear glasses or not.

FASHION IN THE MIDDLE—Belt designs by some of America's best known designers include: (1) Gustave Tassell's bow belt of self or contrasting fabric, (2) Norman Norell's 3-inch wide leather belt, (3) Oleg Cassini's half-buckle cinch belt, (4) Vera Maxwell's scroll type, (5) Pauline Trigere's fabric and leather combination, (6) Martin Unger's back snap type, (7) Bill Blass' fringer wool, (8) Mr. Mort's jaunty belt with diagonal tongue, and (9) Larry Aldrich's leather tube belt.

The Sack And Belts Are Back In Autumn Fashion

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

Fashion in its shifty way is bringing back the sack.

Call it the chemise, muumuu, skimmer or shift, it has a common lack — the belt.

But men have no reason to panic, assure designers Norman Norell, Bill Blass, and Adele Simpson among others.

Although a preview of fall fashions indicate that sacks could disguise a third of the female population next fall, belts will certainly cinch curves on the rest.

"Some women look wonderful in shifts, but some do not," says Norell. "You have to have both kinds of clothes."

He himself made such a success of putting a 3-inch wide belt in the middle that the style swept across the country copied in costumes from $5.98 to $598. A trade publication credited him with creating "the year of the belt."

Norell's style ideas for fall are still a showroom secret, but he claims he is not designing any loose clothes. "I'm using belts again."

Maurice Rentner's designer Blass includes plenty of lissome, unconstricted costumes in his own collection. "One has to realize that the shift has become a classic," he points out. "It's cool, natural, comfortable and marvelous for daytime."

Still, you also have to have the costume with the belt, he says, in order to please at least part of the people part of the time.

For fall and winter Adele Simpson emphasized the "suave look," a dress molded from shoulder to hips without any break in the middle.

"We hope women will wear these without belts," she says. But she's not taking any chances. To be sure her dresses don't wind up on mark - down racks, Mrs. Simpson is sending along self belts.

"You can't do it any other way," she explains. "People still have such horrible memories of the sack."

Although the memories have apparently dimmed for some women, men in general still shudder, protest, and occasionally refuse to pay the bills for such things. That's why the belt industry itself is not the least bit ruffled over the current wave of waistlessness.

Beltmakers are even ecstatic over certain designers' practice of using a stylized belt as a signature. For example, Donald Brooks, this year's winner of the Fashion Critics award, seasons his fall collection with scroll belts. When Larry Aldrich uses a belt, it's a typical tube or string.

And the wide buckled Norell belt is still a Norell signature, even on cheap copies of his clothes.

When designer Jane Derby tosses a sack in her collection here and there, she makes up for it by adding not one belt but two and three to other costumes. She uses these to change the character of the dress from casual to dressy and even dressier.

Eight years ago the sack figured as such a frightening prospect that spokesmen for the industry did feel justified in pleading with designers to give up shapeless, sell-less, silhouettes.

This time belt makers do not intend to protest the renewed interest in cinchless middles. They have faith that men will never let women let designers let the sack come back — all the way.

HINTS FROM Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I have a method to clean an oven which I feel is simple. When I decide I cannot stand my oven another day . . . the night before, I put a large can of hot water in the oven and add about one - half cup of ammonia in the water to make a good strong solution and let it stand overnight.

NOW, here is the trick — find the vent hole in your oven! Some ovens have it in one of the burners. The wall ovens have vent holes just above the door.

Plug up the vent hole with some paper toweling. This prevents the fumes from escaping, for fumes are the magic elves that do the dirty work for you! (Warning: Leave a kitchen window open and a little sign on the stove! You may forget and open the oven in the morning to a good whiff of ammonia. — H.)

The next morning you will find that the grease is loosened on all the racks and on the inside walls of the oven as well. This will require only easy scrubbing with warm, soapy - ammonia water to remove the stubborn spots.

New my oven is sparkling clean and so is my peek-a-boo window which I love for watching when I bake (but which I threaten to put a venetian blind on when it is all dirty).

This column seems to be uniting homemakers the country over who are sharing the same problems without knowing it and we are grateful to know that we are not alone and that somebody, somewhere has a solution for almost everything.

MRS. V. M. FUHRMAN . . .

DEAR FOLKS:

Did you know that the glass door that this woman wants to put a venetian blind on can be cleaned easily?

If you will look inside the door you will find four or six little screws. Take your screw driver and undo these screws. . .

Remove the metal frame from the glass. You will find that these glasses will slip right out. There will be a brace between the two glasses, remove that too.

Be very careful not to break this glass but take it to your kitchen sink and scour until clean. (This also may be soaked in ammonia water for easy cleaning.)

Dry the glass and inside parts to this door thoroughly. This is most important. Replace the glass and parts in the oven and put your screws back and ladies, you'll have the prettiest little oven in town.

Aren't you just dying to see it sparkle? Get up out of that chair, get in that kitchen, gal. I'm all with you. I just cleaned mine.

Love,
HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE:

To get the wrinkles out of plastic I cover it with a pressing cloth and iron it with a low heat. It is surprising how nice children's rain coats and curtains will look when they are ironed this way.

HINTS FROM Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I have a method to clean an oven which I feel is simple. When I decide I cannot stand my oven another day . . . the night before, I put a large can of hot water in the oven and add about one - half cup of ammonia in the water to make a good strong solution and let it stand overnight.

NOW, here is the trick — find the vent hole in your oven! Some ovens have it in one of the burners. The wall ovens have vent holes just above the door.

Plug up the vent hole with some paper toweling. This prevents the fumes from escaping, for fumes are the magic elves that do the dirty work for you! (Warning: Leave a kitchen window open and a little sign on the stove! You may forget and open the oven in the morning to a good whiff of ammonia. — H.)

The next morning you will find that the grease is loosened on all the racks and on the inside walls of the oven as well. This will require only easy scrubbing with warm, soapy - ammonia water to remove the stubborn spots.

Now my oven is sparkling clean and so is my peek-a-boo window which I love for watching when I bake (but which I threaten to put a venetian blind on when it is all dirty).

This column seems to be uniting homemakers the country over who are sharing the same problems without knowing it and we are grateful to know that we are not alone and that somebody, somewhere has a solution for almost everything.

MRS. V. M. FUHRMAN . . .

DEAR FOLKS:

Did you know that the glass door that this woman wants to put a venetian blind on can be cleaned easily?

If you will look inside the door you will find four or six little screws. Take your screw driver and undo these screws. . .

Remove the metal frame from the glass. You will find that these glasses will slip right out. There will be a brace between the two glasses, remove that too.

Be very careful not to break this glass but take it to your kitchen sink and scour until clean. (This also may be soaked in ammonia water for easy cleaning.)

Dry the glass and inside parts to this door thoroughly. This is most important. Replace the glass and parts in the oven and put your screws back and ladies, you'll have the prettiest little oven in town.

Aren't you just dying to see it sparkle? Get up out of that chair, get in that kitchen, gal, I'm all with you. I just cleaned mine.

Love,
HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE:

To get the wrinkles out of plastic I cover it with a pressing cloth and iron it with a low heat. It is surprising how nice children's rain coats and curtains will look when they are ironed this way.

RACIAL TENSION RISES

Catholic School Target Of Shots

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Shots crashed through the glass front door of one of the New Orleans Archdiocese's newly desegregated schools about dawn Friday. For the most part, however, the scene was quiet.

Bomb threats, pickets and crowds of jeering and booing white people continued as this Deep South city neared the end of the first week of its biggest school desegregation — a total of about 300 Negroes in 20 public schools and 36 parochial schools.

But the crowds were dwindling in size and energy from Thursday.

Attendance was up at all but two of the desegregated public schools. No figures were available on the parochial schools.

One parochial school closed unexpectedly—the Our Lady of Good Harbor at Buras, where five Negroes enrolled on opening day last week and haven't been back since. The parish priest, the Rev. Christopher Schneider, said simply: "Nobody showed up." He declined further comment.

The shooting occurred at the St. Rosalie Elementary School in the Harvey community across the Mississippi River from New Orleans.

Nobody was reported hurt and the school opened as usual a few hours later with a piece of cardboard over the door.

"We don't know how many shots were fired and we don't know who fired them," said a spokesman for the archdiocese.

Neighbors said they believed that five or six shots were fired from a passing car about 5 a.m.

The rash of false bomb threats continued, forcing the temporary evacuation of a Negro public school, McDonogh 19, and a Roman Catholic church. In both cases, authorities checked the buildings and okayed them for use.

A crowd of 150 to 200 white persons gathered at the St. Raphael Catholic School, where several white parents withdrew their children when a Negro girl enrolled Thursday.

Three of them carried signs. One read: "If segregation was not sinful in 1954, why is it now?"

At Westwego, outside New Orleans and also across the river, the crowd numbered about 50 at the opening of Our Lady of Prompt Succor Catholic School—about half the size of Thursday's crowd—and fell off to about 25 later.

They continued their hooting at a Negro mother bringing her two children to the school. But, as before, they gave their loudest boos to white parents appearing with their children.

Police hauled off one man. Witnesses said he spat on a car.

A small but active crowd stood around the Thomas J. Semmes Public School, another one where a number of white parents withdrew their children when Negroes appeared.

Johnson Meets With Pope As Tour Concludes

ROME (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson met with Pope John XXIII on Friday then concluded his six-nation goodwill mission with a warning that the West must help the poor countries of the world or die.

Johnson issued his warning just before flying home and after emerging from an unusually long private audience with the Pope. The audience, a highlight of the vice president's 15-day tour of the Middle East and southern Europe, lasted 41 minutes—twice as long as planned. They discussed the need to wipe out hunger, illiteracy and illness.

Afterward, in the last formal speech of his tour, Johnson appealed for wealthier nations to help underdeveloped countries. He spoke at a joint luncheon of the American Men's Club and American Chamber of Commerce and referred to his meeting with the Pope. He called it "the most impressive discussion on matters affecting humankind that I have ever experienced in my 54 years."

The vice president said that unless the West can meet the challenge of economic aid, the underprivileged nations will turn elsewhere. It was clear he meant communism.

Soviet Spy Remains In Coma Stage

LONDON (AP) — Doctors concerned about symptoms of heart exhaustion kept watch on the pulse and respiration of the fugitive Soviet spy Robert A. Soblen as he slept on in a drug-induced coma.

There was no sign Friday he was responding to treatment.

Soblen's wife Dina, like him a New York psychiatrist, flew in from New York and was permitted to spend a few hours in his Hillingdon Hospital bedroom.

Two medical bulletins summarized the condition of the 61-year-old spy. At 10:20 a.m., the hospital announced that Soblen "remains unconscious. His heart is showing signs of exhaustion. His condition gives rise to anxiety."

Six hours later came the announcement that Soblen's "condition is unchanged. He is still unconscious."

Spokesmen at the hospital, near the London airport, said that, barring a major development, there would be no further bulletin until 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Soblen, whose professional name is Dr. Dina Soble, made her trip to be near Soblen through the crisis he brought on Thursday by swallowing an overdose of barbiturates to avert deportation to the United States for life imprisonment.

She personally put up $40,000 and borrowed $60,000 to make up the $100,000 bail Soblen forfeited when he fled the United States June 25. A member of Soblen's London legal team said she had to get money from friends for the plane fare.

A small group of British pickets demonstrated in Whitehall, the government district of London, on behalf of the Communist-oriented fugitive convicted of smuggling U.S. secrets to the Soviet Union in World War II.

Three Children, Grandmother Perish In Fire

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Three children and their grandmother died Friday in a fire in their home in northwest Albuquerque.

The mother of the three children was in an Albuquerque hospital giving birth to a fourth child when the tragedy occurred.

Killed in the fire were Melvina Zanchez, 43, and her three grandchildren, Hector Garcia, 3; Eva Marie Garcia, 2, and Anthony Garcia, 1.

Asst. Fire Chief Arthur Martinez said Mrs. Sanchez was found seated in a flaming chair in which she apparently had fallen asleep.

The three children died from smoke inhalation.

Firemen said the fire may have been caused either by Mrs. Sanchez falling asleep with a lighted cigarette or by an overload in the house electrical wires. Firemen said pennies were found in the meter box instead of fuses.

HOPE SKYLINE DOESN'T CHANGE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — The new terminal building at the Atlantic City Airport greets visitors with a mosaic mural on one wall, showing the city's skyline.

Made of 55,000 pieces of tile, the mural is 51 feet long and 14 feet high. Each of the tiles is just over one inch square, and each was hand - painted and then baked, a process that took 18 months to complete.

IN GERMANY TALK

De Gaulle Urges Military Pooling

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle told the German Military Staff Academy on Friday that pooling of French and German resources would assure effective armed forces.

In the first speech on record by a French head of state to an audience of German officers, the visitor also said "organic cooperation" between French and German military forces is "indispensable" for the alliance between the two countries.

De Gaulle said, "The necessary armament capable of striking today requires scientific, technological, industrial and financial means and capabilities to a steadily growing extent."

"The sooner France and Germany pool their resources, the sooner they will have these capabilities," De Gaulle declared. "That will turn out to be true to an even greater extent if their European neighbors join them with their means."

Some of his listeners interpreted his words to call for German participation in French nuclear armament.

In an earlier news conference in Bonn, however, a West German government spokesman responded with a flat "no" to a question whether such participation was planned. The spokesman, Karl Guenther von Hase, said the subject had not been discussed in the talks between the French president and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

De Gaulle put on his general's uniform for the speech in the academy which trains staff officers for the German Bundeswehr.

He reminded his listeners of 200 years of enmity between France and Germany, "during which each of the two peoples wanted to dominate the other" and said both countries now have realized the "absurdity of this duel."

As the general flew to Hamburg for another spectacular welcome, a joint French-German communique was issued in Bonn hailing reconciliation between the two countries as a "mighty factor of peace."

De Gaulle and Adneauer agreed, the communique said, that their governments will "undertake practical measures to strengthen the ties which already exist in numerous fields."

Western rights in West Berlin were reaffirmed in the communique which also, somewhat noncommittally, voiced the hope that problems connected with Britain's application for Common Market membership will be solved.

Laos Relations Are Broken Off

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)— Nationalist China broke off diplomatic relations Friday with Laos because of that Southeast Asian kingdom's decision to recognize Communist China.

The Laotian coalition government also recognized Communist North Viet Nam. South Viet Nam's reaction is expected to be similar to that of Nationalist China.

The Laotain regime opened formal relations with Czechoslovakia Thursday and is expected soon to do the same with other Communist-bloc nations.

Laos has had diplomatic ties with the Soviet Union for years.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

Pvt. B. W. Mitchell, Co. F, 27th Indiana Volunteers, was tired when his outfit reached Frederick, Md., on the morning of September 13, 1862.

With his comrades he stacked arms and lay down to rest. The Confederates ivading Maryland had camped on the same spot the day before. The ground was littered.

Mitchell saw an envelope on the grass. He picked it up. Three cigars and a paper fell out. Cigars were welcome finds any time. While looking for a match, Mitchell and his first sergeant, John Bloss, fell to reading the paper which had been around the cigars.

What they saw sent them running to Silas Colegrove, colonel of the 27th.

What the colonel saw sent him running to Gen. A. S. Williams, division commander. The first man Colegrove saw at headquarters was Col. S. E. Pittman, Williams' adjutant.

What Pittman saw sent him posthaste to the headquarters of Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan.

That is the way the famous "lost order" of Gen. Robert E. Lee — Special Orders No. 191 — came into the hands of the commander of the Army of the Potomac.

The "lost order" detailed the disposition of the Confederate army and revealed that Lee, as he had done two weeks before at the battle of Second Bull Run (Manassas), again was splitting his army in the face of superior forces.

How did the "lost order" get lost?

Actually no one to this day--100 years later--knows. No one can say for sure how it happened nor who was responsible.

Facts about the "lost orders" are few: surmises plentiful.

With all the evidence in that is likely to come in, the mystery shapes up like this:

Fact--The "lost order" was a genuine copy of Lee's orders. Colonel Pittman recognized the handwriting of Col. R. H. Chilton, Lee's adjutant.

Fact--Hill and his adjutants denied in later years that the orders ever reached him. Hill produced another copy of the orders in the handwriting of Maj. Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson who had personally copied it for Hill because Hill's troops had been under his command a few days before.

Fact--While couriers were supposed to get receipts for orders they delivered, none ever was found for this order. (After the war Lee was certain Hill's headquarters had received the original copy without saying how he knew it.)

Surmise--One of Hill's men, knowing his chief already had the order from Jackson, wrapped his cigars in it and dropped it by accident. One version is that the spot where the order was found had been thecamping grounds of D. H. Hill's troops. Another was that A. P. Hill's forces camped there -- which may be a case of too many Confederate generals named Hill.

Surmise--(By Lt. Col. G. Moxley Sorrel, aide to Gen. James Longstreet) Hill, whose temper was short and who had dyspepsia, threw away the order in a fit of irritation. When Bloss read Sorrel's version after the war he asked how it accounted for the cigars.)

Surmise--A courier lost the order and kept quiet about his mistake. (Lack of a receipt bolsters this theory but presence of the cigars lessens it)

Surmise--That the courier was a Union spy and dropped the envelope where it would be found. (An imaginative theory but why would a spy take a chance on a dropped envelope being overlooked?)

McClellan accepted the order as authentic on the testimony of Pittman and on the fact that the information in the order confirmed the intelligence he already had.

Few generals have been as fortunate as McClellan in having the enemy's troop dispositions handed to them--a golden opportunity to annihilate an army.

This was the Confederate situation at the moment:

Jackson had taken his forces south to capture Harper's Ferry. He had nearly half of Lee's army. Maj. Gen. James Longstreet's force had moved north to Hagerstown, Md., with Lee accompanying it.

D. H. Hill with five brigades--about 8,000 men--was left around Boonsboro, Md., to guard Turner's Gap across South Mountain, which was west of Frederick. Besides guarding the gap, Hill was to cut off any Federals retreating from Harper's Ferry and protect the wagon trains.

On the morning of Sept. 14, a Sunday, McClellan moved two forces against the Confederates, one to strike through Crampton's Gap toward Harper's Ferry and the other to force Turner's Gap to the north.

The Federals forced Crampton's Gap without much trouble but failed to follow up their advantage and flank one of the Confederate forces moving on Harper's Ferry from the north.

The 23rd Ohio Volunteers spearheaded the drive into Turner's Gap, five miles north of Crampton's. The regiment was led by Lt. Col. Rutherford B. Hayes, who would become a president of the United States. One of his mess sergeants was William McKinley, who also would become president.

Hayes' regiment made the first lodgment on the top of the gap and held on tenaciously, losing more men than any other regiment in the battle. Hayes was seriously wounded but stayed on the field until ordered back by a superior.

More Federal troops were thrown into the battle as the day wore on.

Hill's Confederates were having a hard time and appeared close to being driven out of the gap but he received help from an unexpected quarter.

Some time on the night of September 13-14 a civilian from Frederick rode into the cavalry camp of Maj. Gen. J. E. B. Stuart with the news that McClellan had a copy of Lee's Special Orders No. 191.

Stuart lost no time sending a courier to Lee, who wakened Longstreet early and set his force marching back south toward Boonsboro and Turner's Gap, 13 miles away.

The situation had boiled down to a race whether Longstreet could get to Turner's Gap before the Federals overwhelmed Hill's small forces.

Longstreet's forces made it in time to halt the Union troops by nightfall.

After dark "General Lee inquired of the prospects of continuing the fight," Longstreet wrote. "General Hill explained the enemy was in great force on both flanks, making the cramped position of the Confederates untenable. His explanation was too forcible to admit of further deliberation. General Lee ordered withdrawal, making Sharpsburg the point of assembly."

Casualties at South Mountain (Boonsboro) were comparatively light. The Union lost 325 killed, 1,403 wounded, 85 missing. Confederate losses were estimated at 325 killed, 1,560 wounded, 800 missing.

A battle was shaping up at Sharpsburg, a little Maryland town on Antietam Creek.

Sharpsburg and Antietam were only names on Sept. 14. In three days they would be as well known as Waterloo.

Senate Floor Fight Looms On Marshall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thurgood Marshall, Negro whom President Kennedy nominated nearly a year ago to be a federal appellate judge, finally won approval Friday of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

But the battle against confirmation of the former chief counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is expected to be carried to the Senate floor when the nomination is brought up there.

The committee vote recommending confirmation was 11 to 4. Those opposed were all Democratic Sens. James O. Eastland of Mississippi, Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and John L. McClellan of Arkansas.

Johnston was asked by newsmen if Southern foes of Marshall would filibuster against confirmation. The Carolina senator replied: "I don't know yet." he said that he and other Southerners had not discussed their plans.

Marshall, 54, Baltimore-born son of a dining car steward and a schoolteacher, became known to the Negro press as "Mr. Civil Rights." He argued civil rights cases before the U.S. Supreme Court at least 30 times and won in all but three instances. His biggest victory was the 1954 school integration decision.

It was on Sept. 23 last year that Kennedy first nominated Marshall to the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which handles cases in Vermont, Connecticut and New York. Congress adjourned four days afterward. In October the President gave Marshall a recess appointment and he has been serving on the court since on a temporary basis.

Nations Adopt Geneva Report Of No Progress

GENEVA (AP)—The 17-nation disarmament conference adopted a "no progress" report to the U.N. General Assembly today and then recessed until Nov. 12. The United States and the Soviet Union are deadlocked on disarmament and a nuclear test ban.

The two powers vowed to press their clashing proposals when discussion of these issues is taken up by the assembly which convenes Sept. 18.

The chief U.S. delegate, Arthur H. Dean, and the Soviet deputy foreign minister, Vasily V. Kuznetsov, devoted their final speeches before the six-month-old conference to assailing each other's positions.

Dean urged the Soviet Union to reconsider its rejection of compulsory on-site inspections, one jor issue which has caused the long deadlock. The United States insists on them to prevent cheating on either a disarmament or a nuclear test ban treaty.

The Soviet response, repeated endlessly, is that such inspections would be used as a cover for spying and jeopardize national security.

RACIAL TENSION RISES

Catholic School Target Of Shots

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Shots crashed through the glass front door of one of the New Orleans Archdiocese's newly desegregated schools about dawn Friday. For the most part, however, the scene was quiet.

Bomb threats, pickets and crowds of jeering and booing white people continued as this Deep South city neared the end of the first week of its biggest school desegregation — a total of about 300 Negroes in 20 public schools and 36 parochial schools.

But the crowds were dwindling in size and energy from Thursday.

Attendance was up at all but two of the desegregated public schools. No figures were available on the parochial schools.

One parochial school closed unexpectedly—the Our Lady of Good Harbor at Buras, where five Negroes enrolled on opening day last week and haven't been back since. The parish priest, the Rev. Christopher Schneider, said simply: "Nobody showed up." He declined further comment.

The shooting occurred at the St. Rosalie Elementary School in the Harvey community across the Mississippi River from New Orleans.

Nobody was reported hurt and the school opened as usual a few hours later with a piece of cardboard over the door.

"We don't know how many shots were fired and we don't know who fired them," said a spokesman for the archdiocese.

Neighbors said they believed that five or six shots were fired from a passing car about 5 a.m.

The rash of false bomb threats continued, forcing the temporary evacuation of a Negro public school, McDonogh 19, and a Roman Catholic church. In both cases, authorities checked the buildings and okayed them for use.

A crowd of 150 to 200 white persons gathered at the St. Raphael Catholic School, where several white parents withdrew their children when a Negro girl enrolled Thursday.

Three of them carried signs. One read: "If segregation was not sinful in 1954, why is it now?"

At Westwego, outside New Orleans and also across the river, the crowd numbered about 50 at the opening of Our Lady of Prompt Succor Catholic School—about half the size of Thursday's crowd—and fell off to about 25 later.

They continued their hooting at a Negro mother bringing her two children to the school. But, as before, they gave their loudest boos to white parents appearing with their children.

Police hauled off one man. Witnesses said he spat on a car.

Johnson Meets With Pope As Tour Concludes

ROME (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson met with Pope John XXIII on Friday then concluded his six-nation goodwill mission with a warning that the West must help the poor countries of the world or die.

Johnson issued his warning just before flying home and after emerging from an unusually long private audience with the Pope. The audience, a highlight of the vice president's 15-day tour of the Middle East and southern Europe, lasted 41 minutes—twice as long as planned. They discussed the need to wipe out hunger, illiteracy and illness.

Afterward, in the last formal speech of his tour, Johnson appealed for wealthier nations to help underdeveloped countries. He spoke at a joint luncheon of the American Men's Club and American Chamber of Commerce and referred to his meeting with the Pope. He called it "the most impressive discussion on matters affecting humankind that I have ever experienced in my 54 years."

The vice president said that unless the West can meet the challenge of economic aid, the underprivileged nations will turn elsewhere. It was clear he meant communism.

Soviet Spy Remains In Coma Stage

LONDON (AP) — Doctors concerned about symptoms of heart exhaustion kept watch on the pulse and respiration of the fugitive Soviet spy Robert A. Soblen as he slept on in a drug-induced coma.

There was no sign Friday he was responding to treatment.

Soblen's wife Dina, like him a New York psychiatrist, flew in from New York and was permitted to spend a few hours in his Hillingdon Hospital bedroom.

Two medical bulletins summarized the condition of the 61-year-old spy. At 10:20 a.m., the hospital announced that Soblen "remains unconscious. His heart is showing signs of exhaustion. His condition gives rise to anxiety."

Six hours later came the announcement that Soblen's "condition is unchanged. He is still unconscious."

Spokesmen at the hospital, near the London airport, said that, barring a major development, there would be no further bulletin until 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Soblen, whose professional name is Dr. Dina Soble, made her trip to be near Soblen through the crisis he brought on Thursday by swallowing an overdose of barbiturates to avert deportation to the United States for life imprisonment.

She personally put up $40,000 and borrowed $60,000 to make up the $100,000 bail Soblen forfeited when he fled the United States June 25. A member of Soblen's London legal team said she had to get money from friends for the plane fare.

A small group of British pickets demonstrated in Whitehall, the government district of London, on behalf of the Communist-oriented fugitive convicted of smuggling U.S. secrets to the Soviet Union in World War II.

Three Children, Grandmother Perish In Fire

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Three children and their grandmother died Friday in a fire in their home in northwest Albuquerque.

The mother of the three children was in an Albuquerque hospital giving birth to a fourth child when the tragedy occurred.

Killed in the fire were Melvina Zanchez, 43, and her three grandchildren, Hector Garcia, 3; Eva Marie Garcia, 2, and Anthony Garcia, 1.

Asst. Fire Chief Arthur Martinez said Mrs. Sanchez was found seated in a flaming chair in which she apparently had fallen asleep. The three children died from smoke inhalation.

Firemen said the fire may have been caused either by Mrs. Sanchez falling asleep with a lighted cigarette or by an overload in the house electrical wires. Firemen said pennies were found in the meter box instead of fuses.

HOPE SKYLINE DOESN'T CHANGE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — The new terminal building at the Atlantic City Airport greets visitors with a mosaic mural on one wall, showing the city's skyline.

Made of 55,000 pieces of tile, the mural is 51 feet long and 14 feet high. Each of the tiles is just over one inch square, and each was hand - painted and then baked, a process that took 18 months to complete.

IN GERMANY TALK

De Gaulle Urges Military Pooling

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle told the German Military Staff Academy on Friday that pooling of French and German resources would assure effective armed forces.

In the first speech on record by a French head of state to an audience of German officers, the visitor also said "organic cooperation" between French and German military forces is "indispensable" for the alliance between the two countries.

De Gaulle said, "The necessary armament capable of striking today requires scientific, technological, industrial and financial means and capabilities to a steadily growing extent."

"The sooner France and Germany pool their resources, the sooner they will have these capabilities," De Gaulle declared. "That will turn out to be true to an even greater extent if their European neighbors join them with their means."

Some of his listeners interpreted his words to call for German participation in French nuclear armament.

In an earlier news conference in Bonn, however, a West German government spokesman responded with a flat "no" to a question whether such participation was planned. The spokesman, Karl Guenther von Hase, said the subject had not been discussed in the talks between the French president and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

De Gaulle put on his general's uniform for the speech in the academy which trains staff officers for the German Bundeswehr.

He reminded his listeners of 200 years of enmity between France and Germany, "during which each of the two peoples wanted to dominate the other" and said both countries now have realized the "absurdity of this duel."

As the general flew to Hamburg for another spectacular welcome, a joint French-German communique was issued in Bonn hailing reconciliation between the two countries as a "mighty factor of peace."

De Gaulle and Adneauer agreed, the communique said, that their governments will "undertake practical measures to strengthen the ties which already exist in numerous fields."

Western rights in West Berlin were reaffirmed in the communique which also, somewhat noncommittally, voiced the hope that problems connected with Britain's application for Common Market membership will be solved.

Laos Relations Are Broken Off

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)— Nationalist China broke off diplomatic relations Friday with Laos because of that Southeast Asian kingdom's decision to recognize Communist China.

The Laotian coalition government also recognized Communist North Viet Nam. South Viet Nam's reaction is expected to be similar to that of Nationalist China.

The Laotain regime opened formal relations with Czechoslovakia Thursday and is expected soon to do the same with other Communist-bloc nations.

Laos has had diplomatic ties with the Soviet Union for years.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

Pvt. B. W. Mitchell, Co. F, 27th Indiana Volunteers, was tired when his outfit reached Frederick, Md., on the morning of September 13, 1862.

With his comrades he stacked arms and lay down to rest. The Confederates ivading Maryland had camped on the same spot the day before. The ground was littered.

Mitchell saw an envelope on the grass. He picked it up. Three cigars and a paper fell out. Cigars were welcome finds any time. While looking for a match, Mitchell and his first sergeant, John Bloss, fell to reading the paper which had been around the cigars.

What they saw sent them running to Silas Colegrove, colonel of the 27th.

What the colonel saw sent him running to Gen. A. S. Williams, division commander. The first man Colegrove saw at headquarters was Col. S. E. Pittman, Williams' adjutant.

What Pittman saw sent him posthaste to the headquarters of Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan.

That is the way the famous "lost order" of Gen. Robert E. Lee — Special Orders No. 191 — came into the hands of the commander of the Army of the Potomac.

The "lost order" detailed the disposition of the Confederate army and revealed that Lee, as he had done two weeks before at the battle of Second Bull Run (Manassas), again was splitting his army in the face of superior forces.

How did the "lost order" get lost?

Actually no one to this day--100 years later--knows. No one can say for sure how it happened nor who was responsible.

Facts about the "lost orders" are few: surmises plentiful.

With all the evidence in that is likely to come in, the mystery shapes up like this:

Fact--The "lost order" was a genuine copy of Lee's orders. Colonel Pittman recognized the handwriting of Col. R. H. Chilton, Lee's adjutant.

Fact--Hill and his adjutants denied in later years that the orders ever reached him. Hill produced another copy of the orders in the handwriting of Maj. Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson who had personally copied it for Hill because Hill's troops had been under his command a few days before.

Fact--While couriers were supposed to get receipts for orders they delivered, none ever was found for this order. (After the war Lee was certain Hill's headquarters had received the original copy without saying how he knew it.)

Surmise--One of Hill's men, knowing his chief already had the order from Jackson, wrapped his cigars in it and dropped it by accident. One version is that the spot where the order was found had been thecamping grounds of D. H. Hill's troops. Another was that A. P. Hill's forces camped there -- which may be a case of too many Confederate generals named Hill.

Surmise--(By Lt. Col. G. Moxley Sorrel, aide to Gen. James Longstreet) Hill, whose temper was short and who had dyspepsia, threw away the order in a fit of irritation. When Bloss read Sorrel's version after the war he asked how it accounted for the cigars.)

Surmise--A courier lost the order and kept quiet about his mistake. (Lack of a receipt bolsters this theory but presence of the cigars lessens it)

Surmise--That the courier was a Union spy and dropped the envelope where it would be found. (An imaginative theory but why would a spy take a chance on a dropped envelope being overlooked?)

McClellan accepted the order as authentic on the testimony of Pittman and on the fact that the information in the order confirmed the intelligence he already had.

Few generals have been as fortunate as McClellan in having the enemy's troop dispositions handed to them--a golden opportunity to annihilate an army.

This was the Confederate situation at the moment:

Jackson had taken his forces south to capture Harper's Ferry. He had nearly half of Lee's army. Maj. Gen. James Longstreet's force had moved north to Hagerstown, Md., with Lee accompanying it.

D. H. Hill with five brigades--about 8,000 men--was left around Boonsboro, Md., to guard Turner's Gap across South Mountain, which was west of Frederick. Besides guarding the gap, Hill was to cut off any Federals retreating from Harper's Ferry and protect the wagon trains.

On the morning of Sept. 14, a Sunday, McClellan moved two forces against the Confederates, one to strike through Crampton's Gap toward Harper's Ferry and the other to force Turner's Gap to the north.

The Federals forced Crampton's Gap without much trouble but failed to follow up their advantage and flank one of the Confederate forces moving on Harper's Ferry from the north.

The 23rd Ohio Volunteers spearheaded the drive into Turner's Gap, five miles north of Crampton's. The regiment was led by Lt. Col. Rutherford B. Hayes, who would become a president of the United States. One of his mess sergeants was William McKinley, who also would become president.

Hayes' regiment made the first lodgment on the top of the gap and held on tenaciously, losing more men than any other regiment in the battle. Hayes was seriously wounded but stayed on the field until ordered back by a superior.

More Federal troops were thrown into the battle as the day wore on.

Hill's Confederates were having a hard time and appeared close to being driven out of the gap but he received help from an unexpected quarter.

Some time on the night of September 13-14 a civilian from Frederick rode into the cavalry camp of Maj. Gen. J. E. B. Stuart with the news that McClellan had a copy of Lee's Special Orders No. 191.

Stuart lost no time sending a courier to Lee, who wakened Longstreet early and set his force marching back south toward Boonsboro and Turner's Gap, 13 miles away.

The situation had boiled down to a race whether Longstreet could get to Turner's Gap before the Federals overwhelmed Hill's small forces.

Longstreet's forces made it in time to halt the Union troops by nightfall.

After dark "General Lee inquired of the prospects of continuing the fight," Longstreet wrote. "General Hill explained the enemy was in great force on both flanks, making the cramped position of the Confederates untenable. His explanation was too forcible to admit of further deliberation. General Lee ordered withdrawal, making Sharpsburg the point of assembly."

Casualties at South Mountain (Boonsboro) were comparatively light. The Union lost 325 killed, 1,403 wounded, 85 missing. Confederate losses were estimated at 325 killed, 1,560 wounded, 800 missing.

A battle was shaping up at Sharpsburg, a little Maryland town on Antietam Creek.

Sharpsburg and Antietam were only names on Sept. 14. In three days they would be as well known as Waterloo.

Senate Floor Fight Looms On Marshall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thurgood Marshall, Negro whom President Kennedy nominated nearly a year ago to be a federal appellate judge, finally won approval Friday of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

But the battle against confirmation of the former chief counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is expected to be carried to the Senate floor when the nomination is brought up there.

The committee vote recommending confirmation was 11 to 4. Those opposed were all Democratic Sens. James O. Eastland of Mississippi, Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and John L. McClellan of Arkansas.

Johnston was asked by newsmen if Southern foes of Marshall would filibuster against confirmation. The Carolina senator replied: "I don't know yet," he said that he and other Southerners had not discussed their plans.

Marshall, 54, Baltimore-born son of a dining car steward and a schoolteacher, became known to the Negro press as "Mr. Civil Rights." He argued civil rights cases before the U.S. Supreme Court at least 30 times and won in all but three instances. His biggest victory was the 1954 school integration decision.

It was on Sept. 23 last year that Kennedy first nominated Marshall to the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which handles cases in Vermont, Connecticut and New York. Congress adjourned four days afterward. In October the President gave Marshall a recess appointment and he has been serving on the court since on a temporary basis.

Nations Adopt Geneva Report Of No Progress

GENEVA (AP)—The 17-nation disarmament conference adopted a "no progress" report to the U.N. General Assembly today and then recessed until Nov. 12. The United States and the Soviet Union are deadlocked on disarmament and a nuclear test ban.

The two powers vowed to press their clashing proposals when discussion of these issues is taken up by the assembly which convenes Sept. 18.

The chief U.S. delegate, Arthur H. Dean, and the Soviet deputy foreign minister, Vasily V. Kuznetsov, devoted their final speeches before the six-month-old conference to assailing each other's positions.

Dean urged the Soviet Union to reconsider its rejection of compulsory on-site inspections, one jor issue which has caused the long deadlock. The United States insists on them to prevent cheating on either a disarmament or a nuclear test ban treaty.

The Soviet response, repeated endlessly, is that such inspections would be used as a cover for spying and jeopardize national security.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 50 cents a bale higher to $1.65 lower Friday.

New trading months were weak on selling following rejection of a proposed equalization fee on imports of textile products. The rejection came from the U.S. Tariff Commission.

Traders felt this action would accelerate pressure for lowering of price supports or possibly a one-price system for cotton to place domestic cotton mills in a better competitive position with foreign producers in buying of raw cotton. Under the one-price system, cotton would be permitted to seek its own market level with a direct subsidy paid to farmers to maintain their income.

Old crop futures were easy at the start, but rallied briskly in late dealings. There was some covering, prior to the government's September crop report to be released Monday. Some quarters think that it will be lower, with one private estimate at 14,921,000 bales. The government's August forecast was 15,102,000 bales.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

AUTO PRODUCTION

Auto production this week headed for an 88 per cent rise over last week as the big car makers stepped up their 1963 model output. Ward's Automotive Reports said 66,072 cars would be assembled by the end of overtime shifts Saturday, compared with 35,115 assemblies last week.

RAILROAD LOADINGS

Revenue freight car loadings last week dipped 0.3 per cent below the previous weeks level and 2.7 per cent under the corresponding week a year ago, the Association of American Railroads reported. It was the ninth consecutive year-to-year drop. AAR said loadings were cut by the strike against the Chicago & North Western Railway.

NEWSPRINT CONSUMPTION

Newsprint production and consumption throughout the world reached new highs in 1961 and further gains are in prospect through 1964, the Commerce Department reported Friday.

World production rose to just under 16,000,000 short tons last year, up more than 500,000 tons from 1960. The department estimated consumption at 15,900,000 tons as against 15,400,000 in 1960.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog market posted its fourth successive advance Friday and barely reached $20 a hundredweight, equal to the year's high which was last paid on Aug. 6.

With prices steady to 25 cents higher, twenty head sold at the peak, up 50 cents from Tuesday's high and $1.25 from last Friday when offerings for the final day of a week were unusually heavy at 4,500 head.

Friday's run of 4,000 again consisted almost entirely of 260 lb weights and down with most mixed No. 1 and 2 grades in the 200-225 lb range bringing $19.65-19.85. The mixed 1-3 grades scaling 190-260 lbs sold at $19.25-19.75, sows up to $18.50.

The supply for the four trading days this week amounted to 17,500 head, downed 9,500 from the five days last week.

Slaughter steers sold steady to strong although the cattle supply of 5,000 head also was rather liberal for a Friday. The top of $34 a hundredweight was the highest since May 1959. It went for a load of prime. Other prime cleared at $33.25 and up for 1,275-1,325 lb weights. Mixed choice and prime topped at $33 and mixed good and choice at $31.50.

Heifers were steady to 25 cents higher, bulls steady, vealers absent. The first prime grade heifers offered in several days weighed 1,100 lbs and brought $30 a hundredweight, the highest for that class since June 1959. Mixed choice and prime sold at $29.50 and the good and choice at $24.50-29. Bulls went at $18.50-21 for utility and commercial.

In a steady sheep trade, spring slaughter lambs moved at $22-22.50 for mixed choice and prime and $20-21.50 for mixed good and choice.

SLASH SCOOTER PRICES

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government has plans to make this a nation of motor scooter riders. Plans have been announced to cut in half the present price of $630 for a motor scooter to bring them within reach of the middle class.

Stocks Close Very Narrow In Averages

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed very narrow in the averages Friday, after President Kennedy's call for 150,000 reservists unnerved Wall Street and nipped a rally in the bud.

Trading was light except for a flurry when the market rallied in the afternoon and then subsided in the light of the presidential action to combat worsening international conditions.

In the Dow-Jones averages, industrials were up 0.05, rails off 0.45 and utilities up 0.35, leaving the 65 stock composite unchanged on the day. Standard & Poor's inclusive 500 stock index managed an inconsequential gain of 0.02.

Turnover totaled a light 2,890,000 shares against 3,180,000 in the prior session. A total of 1,221 issues were traded. Of these 462 rose, three reaching highs for the year, and 496 declined, seven striking new lows.

Martin-Marietta reasserted itself at the top of the most active list, saying even as 70,000 shares changed hands. Following it in activity were Polaroid down 2½, Chrysler off 1 and Texas Instruments down 1⅜, all under the influence of profit-taking.

All the motors, except Ford, ranked among the 15 most active stocks, but none except Chrysler showed a significant change. International oils finished on a firm tack although many of the secondaries were erratic. Steel shares showed little or no change.

Among the chemicals Union Carbide recovered 1⅛. The only other blue chip highlights were General Electric up 1⅜, Owens-Illinois Glass of 1¾ and Kansas City Southern down 1¼ in the rails.

Metals showed National Lead, Newmont Mining and U.S. Smelting up better than a point but Inspiration Copper down 1½. Gerber and Campbell Soup were up 1 or better in the foods where Heinz dipped 1¼. Taken as groups most other sections of the market were narrow.

On the American Exchange prices came under some late pressure to finish mixed. Sales totaled 840,000 shares against 890,000 in the prior session. Dynamics Corp. of America topped the Amex in activity and gained ¼ on news an application for listing its shares on the New York Stock Exchange had been approved.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — President Kennedy's request for authority to call up 150,000 military reserves jerked the grain futures market out of a virtual stall Friday and prices of all contracts finished well ahead on the Board of Trade.

Within a few minutes after word of the request circulated in the pits, prices were bid up a cent or more in spots, on wheat, rye and soybeans. The feed grains moved up major fractions.

Short interests bid urgently to cover commitments until the advance had carried to major fractions or more in most pits. At that range, the market carried to major fractions or more in most pits. At that range, the market leveled off somewhat as offers increased.

Wheat closed ⅞-1½ cents a bushel higher, September $2.09¼; corn ½-⅞ higher, September $1.07⅝-¾; oats ⅛-½ higher, September 65⅛ cents; rye 1-1¼ higher, September $1.20½-⅝; soybeans 1 to 2 cents higher, September $2.37¼-⅛.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I go with a girl (we are not officially engaged) but I am very obligated to her, if you know what I mean. Whenever there is an office party where I work she wants me to take her. There are some cute girls working here and I would rather not bring a "date" as it cramps my style. I'm sure I don't have to draw you any pictures, Abby. How can I get out of taking my girl? She always knows about the office parties because she's friendly with a girl who works here.

STYLE CRAMPED

DEAR STYLE: Taking your "girl" to a party when you'd prefer to be unencumbered is like going hunting with the game warden. Extricate yourself from your "girl" by becoming less "obligated" (and YOU know what I mean) and enjoy your freedom.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of people who have the nerve to ask a woman what her plans are even before her husband is put away? My husband passed away suddenly and several people called on me. One asked, "What are you plans for the future? Do you expect to move away or will you stay here with all these memories?" Someone else asked me if I planned to sell my house. And if I did, how much would I ask for it. Someone else asked me how much insurance I was left. How do you answer people like them?"

SICK WITH GRIEF

DEAR SICK, They don't deserve answers. Just tell them you have no plans and walk away to let their cruel questions echo in their ears.

DEAR ABBY: I am 30 years old and am divorcing my husband for the third and last time. We have two children. One is 9 and still wets the bed. The other is 7 and stutters so badly the teachers can't understand him. The doctor said both boys are "emotionally disturbed" because of the disharmony at home. I think this is a lot of bunk because they were too young to know what was going on. Besides, I never called my husband names in front of the children and he never hit me while they were awake. If there is any truth to what the doctor says, please explain it.

DOESN'T UNDERSTAND

DEAR DOESN'T: Volumes have been written about how a troubled home can affect the emotional development of the children. Believe me, there IS a connection. Take your cue from your doctor.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Committees Are Set Up By Ben Bella

ALGIERS (UPI) — Political strongman Ahmed Ben Bella Friday consolidated his victory over the army commanders who challenged his power by setting up political "vigilance committees" in their restive military districts.

Ben Bella's Political Bureau announced the establishment of the vigilance committees without fanfare and against a background of apparent total calm in Algeria.

No armed conflict of any kind had been reported since 4 p.m. Thursday when a cease-fire between the troops who back Ben Bella and those opposed to him went into effect throughout Algeria.

The vigilance committees were established at Medea, 45 miles southwest of Algiers, and Borj-Bou-Arridj, about 90 miles southwest of the capital.

The two inland towns are located in the center of Willaya (military district) 4 and 3 which joined in the abortive challenge to Ben Bell's power.

The vigilance committee system had been started by Ben Bella in western Algeria and in the Algiers region before his showdown with the Algiers military commanders.

The committees were organized as forerunners to the single-party organization which Ben Bella plan as his instrument for steering Algeria into single-party socialism.

The committees extend the Political Bureau's authority to the outlying regions of Algeria. Indications now are that the Political Bureau is safe from further challenge in Algiers at least until elections tentatively set for Sept. 16.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 50 cents a bale higher to $1.65 lower Friday.

New trading months were weak on selling following rejection of a proposed equalization fee on imports of textile products. The rejection came from the U.S. Tariff Commission.

Traders felt this action would accelerate pressure for lowering of price supports or possibly a one-price system for cotton to place domestic cotton mills in a better competitive position with foreign producers in buying of raw cotton. Under the one-price system, cotton would be permitted to seek its own market level with a direct subsidy paid to farmers to maintain their income.

Old crop futures were easy at the start, but rallied briskly in late dealings. There was some covering, prior to the government's September crop report to be released Monday. Some quarters think that it will be lower, with one private estimate at 14,921,000 bales. The government's August forecast was 15,102,000 bales.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

AUTO PRODUCTION

Auto production this week headed for an 88 per cent rise over last week as the big car makers stepped up their 1963 model output. Ward's Automotive Reports said 66,072 cars would be assembled by the end of overtime shifts Saturday, compared with 35,115 assemblies last week.

RAILROAD LOADINGS

Revenue freight car loadings last week dipped 0.3 per cent below the previous weeks level and 2.7 per cent under the corresponding week a year ago, the Association of American Railroads reported. It was the ninth consecutive year-to-year drop. AAR said loadings were cut by the strike against the Chicago & North Western Railway.

NEWSPRINT CONSUMPTION

Newsprint production and consumption throughout the world reached new highs in 1961 and further gains are in prospect through 1964, the Commerce Department reported Friday.

World production rose to just under 16,000,000 short tons last year, up more than 500,000 tons from 1960. The department estimated consumption at 15,900,000 tons as against 15,400,000 in 1960.

Eggs: Market unchanged.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog market posted its fourth successive advance Friday and barely reached $20 a hundredweight, equal to the year's high which was last paid on Aug. 6.

With prices steady to 25 cents higher, twenty head sold at the peak, up 50 cents from Tuesday's high and $1.25 from last Friday when offerings for the final day of a week were unusually heavy at 4,500 head.

Friday's run of 4,000 again consisted almost entirely of 260 lb weights and down with most mixed No. 1 and 2 grades in the 200-225 lb range bringing $19.65-19.85. The mixed 1-3 grades scaling 190-260 lbs sold at $19.25-19.75, sows up to $18.50.

The supply for the four trading days this week amounted to 17,500 head, downed 9,500 from the five days last week.

Slaughter steers sold steady to strong although the cattle supply of 5,000 head also was rather liberal for a Friday. The top of $34 a hundredweight was the highest since May 1959. It went for a load of prime. Other prime cleared at $33.25 and up for 1,275-1,325 lb weights. Mixed choice and prime topped at $33 and mixed good and choice at $31.50.

Heifers were steady to 25 cents higher, bulls steady, vealers absent. The first prime grade heifers offered in several days weighed 1,100 lbs and brought $30 a hundredweight, the highest for that class since June 1959. Mixed choice and prime sold at $29.50 and the good and choice at $24.50-29. Bulls went at $18.50-21 for utility and commercial.

In a steady sheep trade, spring slaughter lambs moved at $22-22.50 for mixed choice and prime and $20-21.50 for mixed good and choice.

SLASH SCOOTER PRICES

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government has plans to make this a nation of motor scooter riders. Plans have been announced to cut in half the present price of $630 for a motor scooter to bring them within reach of the middle class.

Stocks Close Very Narrow In Averages

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed very narrow in the averages Friday, after President Kennedy's call for 150,000 reservists unnerved Wall Street and nipped a rally in the bud.

Trading was light except for a flurry when the market rallied in the afternoon and then subsided in the light of the presidential action to combat worsening international conditions.

In the Dow-Jones averages, industrials were up 0.05, rails off 0.45 and utilities up 0.35, leaving the 65 stock composite unchanged on the day. Standard & Poor's inclusive 500 stock index managed an inconsequential gain of 0.02

Turnover totaled a light 2,890,000 shares against 3,180,000 in the prior session. A total of 1,221 issues were traded. Of these 462 rose, three reaching highs for the year, and 496 declined, seven striking new lows.

Martin-Marietta reasserted itself at the top of the most active list, saying even as 70,000 shares changed hands. Following it in activity were Polaroid down 2½, Chrysler off 1 and Texas Instruments down 1⅜, all under the influence of profit-taking.

All the motors, except Ford, ranked among the 15 most active stocks, but none except Chrysler showed a significant change. International oils finished on a firm tack although many of the secondaries were erratic. Steel shares showed little or no change.

Among the chemicals Union Carbide recovered 1⅛. The only other blue chip highlights were General Electric up 1⅜, Owens-Illinois Glass of 1¾ and Kansas City Southern down 1⅛ in the rails.

Metals showed National Lead, Newmont Mining and U.S. Smelting up better than a point but Inspiration Copper down 1½. Gerber and Campbell Soup were up 1 or better in the foods where Heinz dipped 1¼. Taken as groups most other sections of the market were narrow.

On the American Exchange prices came under some late pressure to finish mixed. Sales totaled 840,000 shares against 890,000 in the prior session. Dynamics Corp. of America topped the Amex in activity and gained ¼ on news an application for listing its shares on the New York Stock Exchange had been approved.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — President Kennedy's request for authority to call up 150,000 military reserves jerked the grain futures market out of a virtual stall Friday and prices of all contracts finished well ahead on the Board of Trade.

Within a few minutes after word of the request circulated in the pits, prices were bid up a cent or more in spots, on wheat, rye and soybeans. The feed grains moved up major fractions.

Short interests bid urgently to cover commitments until the advance had carried to major fractions or more in most pits. At that range, the market carried to major fractions or more in most pits. At that range, the market leveled off somewhat as offers increased.

Wheat closed ⅞-1½ cents a bushel higher, September $2.09¼; corn ½-⅞ higher, September $1.07⅝-¾; oats ⅛-½ higher, September 65⅛ cents; rye 1-1¼ higher, September $1.20½-⅝; soybeans 1 to 2 cents higher, September $2.37¼-⅛.

Club President J. H. Sharp, of Eros, Friday announced hours of the exhibition, headquartered in the Virginia Hotel, as from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sunday. The public is urged to attend.

Ellis Services Are Set Today

Funeral services for Joe Ellis, 76, of Monroe, will be held at 2 p.m. today in the Mulhearn Funeral Home Chapel. Officiating will be the Rev. Lloyd E. Williams, pastor of the Memorial Methodist Church.

Interment will follow in Riverview Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn's. Mr. Ellis died late Wednesday following a brief illness at a local hospital. He retired last year from a position with the Monroe Street Department. Prior to joining the department in 1937, he worked for a number of years for the Ouachita Parish Police Jury.

Survivors include one son, John C. Ellis of Andrews, Tex.; a step - son, P. J. Wilfert, Opelousas; a step - daughter, Mrs. Dovic Ardoin, Eunice; and two sisters, Mrs. Vada Bryant and Mrs. Ella Thompson, both of Monroe.

Pallbearers will be Luther Brinson, Jerry Hodge, Bryan Hodge, Pat Wright, Billy Gannaway and Ewell Camp.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I go with a girl (we are not officially engaged) but I am very obligated to her, if you know what I mean. Whenever there is an office party where I work she wants me to take her. There are some cute girls working here and I would rather not bring a "date" as it cramps my style. I'm sure I don't have to draw you any pictures, Abby. How can I get out of taking my girl? She always knows about the office parties because she's friendly with a girl who works here.

STYLE CRAMPED

DEAR STYLE: Taking your "girl" to a party when you'd prefer to be unencumbered is like going hunting with the game warden. Extricate yourself from your "girl" by becoming less "obligated" (and YOU know what I mean) and enjoy your freedom.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of people who have the nerve to ask a woman what her plans are even before her husband is put away? My husband passed away suddenly and several people called on me. One asked, "What are you plans for the future? Do you expect to move away or will you stay here with all these memories?" Someone else asked me if I planned to sell my house. And if I did, how much would I ask for it. Someone else asked me how much insurance I was left. How do you answer people like them?"

SICK WITH GRIEF

DEAR SICK, They don't deserve answers. Just tell them you have no plans and walk away to let their cruel questions echo in their ears.

DEAR ABBY: I am 30 years old and am divorcing my husband for the third and last time. We have two children. One is 9 and still wets the bed. The other is 7 and stutters so badly the teachers can't understand him. The doctor said both boys are "emotionally disturbed" because of the disharmony at home. I think this is a lot of bunk because they were too young to know what was going on. Besides, I never called my husband names in front of the children and he never hit me while they were awake. If there is any truth to what the doctor says, please explain it.

DOESN'T UNDERSTAND

DEAR DOESN'T: Volumes have been written about how a troubled home can affect the emotional development of the children. Believe me, there IS a connection. Take your cue from your doctor.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

C. J. Whitehead Rites Pending

Funeral services for Carlton Julius Whitehead, 47, were still incomplete Friday night but will be held in Athens, Ga. Burial will be in the O'Coney Cemetery near Athens under the direction of McDorman Funeral Home.

Mr. Whitehead had lived in Monroe for 15 years, he was employed as a meat cutter. He was a native of Athens, Ga.

He died in the New Orleans Veterans Hospital Wednesday following an illness of about four months.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruth L. Smith Whitehead, one son, Carlton Whitehead, Marietta, Ga.; one daughter, Patricia Ann Whitehead, Athens, Ga.; a step-daughter, Mrs. Jackie Clarey, Fort Walton, Fla.; two sisters, Miss Mabel Whitehead and Mrs. T. O. Hughes, both of Athens, Ga.; four brothers, Bill W. Zenas, Dillard and Raymond Whitehead, all of Athens; and five grandchildren.

Floyd V. Allison Services Today

Funeral services are scheduled for 10:30 a.m. today in the Westminister Presbyterian Church for Floyd V. Allison, 66, of Monroe, who died early Thursday in a Shreveport hospital after an illness of about a year.

A retired employee of the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation in West Monroe, Mr. Allison was a native of Judsona, Ark., and a veteran of World War I. Officiating will be the Rev. W. W. Hatcher, with interment following in Riverview Cemetery under direction of Peters Funeral Home.

Mr. Allison's survivors include his widow, Mrs. Kate Smith Allison, Monroe; a sister, Miss Irene Allison, Searcy, Ark.; and a brother, R. W. Allison, San Fernando, Calif.

Pallbearers will be J. O. Lancaster, D. W. Slay, H. J. Hunter, W. R. Hatchell, J. E. Ethridge, N. E. Grower, W. B. Matthews and T. R. McCann.

Lake On Tupaw Bayou Proposed

Possibility of constructing a spillway and lake at the Tupaw Bayou bridge in West Monroe will be discussed Monday at a meeting of the Civic Improvement Committee of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the chamber office with A. L. (Buddy) DeLoach Jr., chairman of the committee, and Leslie Hamm, co - chairman, in charge.

Committees Are Set Up By Ben Bella

ALGIERS (UPI) — Political strongman Ahmed Ben Bella Friday consolidated his victory over the army commanders who challenged his power by setting up political "vigilance committees" in their restive military districts.

Ben Bella's Political Bureau announced the establishment of the vigilance committees without fanfare and against a background of apparent total calm in Algeria.

No armed conflict of any kind had been reported since 4 p.m. Thursday when a cease-fire between the troops who back Ben Bella and those opposed to him went into effect throughout Algeria.

The vigilance committees were established at Medea, 45 miles southwest of Algiers, and Borj-Bou-Arridj, about 90 miles southwest of the capital.

The two inland towns are located in the center of Willaya (military district) 4 and 3 which joined in the abortive challenge to Ben Bell's power.

The vigilance committee system had been started by Ben Bella in western Algeria and in the Algiers region before his showdown with the Algiers military commanders.

The committees were organized as forerunners to the single-party organization which Ben Bella plan as his instrument for steering Algeria into single-party socialism.

The committees extend the Political Bureau's authority to the outlying regions of Algeria. Indications now are that the Political Bureau is safe from further challenge in Algiers at least until elections tentatively set for Sept. 16.

SALES OPPORTUNITY WITH A FUTURE

Wholesale Salesmen Needed

Men with successful experience selling tires, batteries, auto accessories, or other hard lines, will be assigned to a territory calling on Firestone Franchise dealers after an on-the-job training program. If you succeed on this wholesale assignment, you will have opportunities to advance to retail store management, staff positions in district offices, such as Manager Truck & Tractor Tire Sales, or Store Supervisor, and eventually to management of a district.

If you're aggressive, ambitious, with good sales personality, between the ages of 25 and 35, this could be your big opportunity. Men with college degree preferable. Yearly salary $6,000 and up, plus attractive annual bonus program, company car, expenses, and all other employee benefits.

If you feel you qualify, we will arrange convenient appointment for interview. Contact:

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Elizabeth Taylor was frightfully jealous of Richard Burton during the height of their Roman romance, but she managed to keep it almost a secret that she was flirting as only she can, with several Italian boys.

The Charlie Chaplin household in Europe could make some big headlines, unless Oona decides to cool it for the sake of all those kiddies . . . On a recent video show, Danny Thomas had a story about two nuns cheated out of $75 by the Sure Fire Music Company. Sure enough, there is a Sure Fire Music Company in Nashville and it's suing Danny for $2,000,000 as a result . . . Ginger Rogers and her actor - husband, Bill Marshall, seem to be having a bit of a row with the producer of the Broadway - bound play, "The Camel Bell" . . . Prince Juan Carlos of Spain and his bride, the Princess Sophie of Greece, are the handsomest honeymooners in town. Their radiance caught all eyes when they lunched at the Colony

Jayne Mansfield's chums say she wants to move to New York because of a very attractive restaurant owner whom she's been dating secretly . . . Stewart Granger arrived back in Hollywood after his stay in Europe very "on the muscle" despite what might be considered the soothing presence at his side of a beautiful redhead from overseas. Stew's been quoted as saying he'd belt his ex-wife's present husband, director Richard Brooks, if their paths ever crossed, so Jean will have to find some neutral locale for the pugilistic Granger's meetings with their six-year-old daughter, Casey.

John High, who retired from acting two years ago to take an executive position with the Psychological Corp., in New York, has added a part-time job to his regular work. You might have guessed it's an acting chore — in the long-running off - Broadway production, "The Fantasticks" . . . A new disease in Cuba is destroying cattle throughout the island.

Celebrity Quotes: Dame Edith Sitwell avers, "I am resigned to the fact that people who don't know me loathe me. Perhaps it is because I am a woman who dares write poetry. It must be awfully annoying to a man who wants to write and can't SEE this horrid old lady who CAN write poetry. Perhaps, too, they resent my appearance. I think it is a mistake to dress like a mouse. Except when it comes to bravery, we are a nation of mice. We dress and behave with timid circumspection. Good taste is the worst vice ever invented."

Silvana Pampani, one of Italy's first film sex symbols, is still looking for an ideal husband. She says, "He must have an intense love for me. And not too conservative. One does not marry usually for gentlemanly behavior."

Executives of a major network would panic if they knew the background of one of their most recent beautiful discoveries. She used to be a call girl . . . When Lionel Hampton arrived in Tokyo for his concert tour, over 2,000 screamers greeted him at the airport and three jazz combos were on hand to serenade him as his motorcade went from the plane to the heart of the city . . . A very pretty and talented actress who is supposed to be in love with a tall and handsome actor seems to be taking more than a professional interest in another tall and handsome actor in her new show. So far nobody (especially the Circe involved) thinks the first actor suspects anything about it. It could lead to a little bloodshed, that's all.

PRESSURE OF HEELS

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—The girls at Walkden secondary school did some research and found that the pressure under an average woman's stiletto heel is 50 times as great as that of an elephant standing on one foot. They did not disclose the mathematical process that brought them to their conclusion.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 9-8

Sponsors Differ On Purposes Of Demo Dinner

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the sponsors of a dinner for the Democratic candidate for governor of Wisconsin differed sharply Friday over the stated purposes of the Oct. 6 event.

The Friends of John W. Reynolds Committee announced the $50-a-plate event on behalf of Reynolds campaign several weeks ago, and Kennedy confirmed Friday that he would address it.

Edwin Guthman, Justice Department press officer, indicated that Kennedy had decided to depart from his announced no-politics position because he feels he owes a special political debt of gratitude to Reynolds, Wisconsin's present attorney general. Reynolds was the highest-ranking public official in Wisconsin to support President Kennedy during his 1960 primary campaign.

However, Kennedy followed Guthman's statement with one of his own, saying that his scheduled appearance would be no departure from his announced hands-off policy.

"It's a nonpolitical testimonial dinner," Kennedy said. "It's being given by the judges of the State Supreme Court, including Republicans."

At Madison, Wis., Chief Justice Timonthy Brown of Wisconsin said he was not a sponsor of the dinner, had not been approached on the subject and knew of no other justices being approached.

Robert B. Bittner of Green Bay, chairman of the sponsoring committee, said that, "Certainly all the money will be spent in behalf of John Reynolds' campaign."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

PROTECTION FROM INFECTIONS

The majority of infectious diseases of childhood are caused by viruses. Whooping cough, smallpox, and poliomyelitis are in this group but they no longer are common, thanks to protective vaccines. This is convincing evidence that prevention works and parents should see to it that their children receive the necessary booster shots.

An effective measles vaccine seems close at hand but until that time comes we can expect epidemics of this most contagious of all diseases. Few susceptible children escape when exposed. Measles crops out every two to four years because it takes this long for a new group of susceptible children to come along.

Complications of measles still occur but they are less frequent than formerly. Ear infections, pneumonia, and encephalitis head the list and all are dangerous in infants and young children. These infections should be suspected when the child complains of pain in the ear, the cough gets worse, or the youngster becomes drowsy.

German measles is a three day affair with a rash that resembles measles or scarlet fever, along with sniffling and fever. The glands in the back of the neck usually enlarge.

Viral hepatitis and infectious mononucleosis usually are considered diseases of teen - agers or adults. But both occur during childhood and are likely to be so mild as to escape detection. Fever, maliase, vomiting, cough, or sore throat arise with hepatitis. The skin turns yellow and the urine darkens.

Mononucleosis resembles a cold with sore throat, fever, and enlargement of the glands in the neck and armpit. It is contagious and can be passed along to susceptible adults, in whom the disease is more serious.

IS SOAP DANGEROUS?

K. M. writes: Is it true that soap can hold germs of disease whether used in public places or at home?

REPLY

Possibly, especially if it is not rinsed off after using. Soap is a mild antiseptic and elimiates bacteria from the skin when combined with the mechanical aspect of washing with water. Some of these bacteria may remain in the suds, hence it is a good idea — in public places — to clean off the soap before using.

ALWAYS TIRED

C. V. writes: What causes a person to wake up in the morning feeling weak and tired?

REPLY

A depression or neurosis, assuming you get enough sleep. Individuals bothered with this fatigue drag thru the day and usually feel their best when night comes and they can sleep again.

ELECTRIC SHOCK

A. W. W. writes: Does a slight shock from a short in an electric appliance affect the heart?

REPLY

A severe electric shock may stop the heart from beating or produce an irregularity. It depends upon whether the current runs along the surface or deep in the body.

BLOCKED ARTERY

J. A. C. writes: The report on my wife's death certificate was "occlusive coronary." Is this the same as coronary thrombosis?

REPLY

Yes. The coronary artery to the heart was occluded, or blocked by a thrombus, or clot.

PRESSURE OF HEELS

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—The girls at Walkden secondary school did some research and found that the pressure under an average woman's stiletto heel is 50 times as great as that of an elephant standing on one foot. They did not disclose the mathematical process that brought them to their conclusion.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 9-8

Sponsors Differ On Purposes Of Demo Dinner

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and the sponsors of a dinner for the Democratic candidate for governor of Wisconsin differed sharply Friday over the stated purposes of the Oct. 6 event.

The Friends of John W. Reynolds Committee announced the $50-a-plate event on behalf of Reynolds campaign several weeks ago, and Kennedy confirmed Friday that he would address it.

Edwin Guthman, Justice Department press officer, indicated that Kennedy had decided to depart from his announced no-politics position because he feels he owes a special political debt of gratitude to Reynolds, Wisconsin's present attorney general. Reynolds was the highest-ranking public official in Wisconsin to support President Kennedy during his 1960 primary campaign.

However, Kennedy followed Guthman's statement with one of his own, saying that his scheduled appearance would be no departure from his announced hands-off policy.

"It's a nonpolitical testimonial dinner," Kennedy said. "It's being given by the judges of the State Supreme Court, including Republicans."

At Madison, Wis., Chief Justice Timonthy Brown of Wisconsin said he was not a sponsor of the dinner, had not been approached on the subject and knew of no other justices being approached.

Robert B. Bittner of Green Bay, chairman of the sponsoring committee, said that, "Certainly all the money will be spent in behalf of John Reynolds' campaign."

PLAN NEW TEXTBOOKS

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Private business firms in the State of Nuevo Leon plan to publish new school textbooks to supplement the free government books handed out to schoolchildren. The businessmen charge that the government books are inadequate and distorted.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

PROTECTION FROM INFECTIONS

The majority of infectious diseases of childhood are caused by viruses. Whooping cough, smallpox, and poliomyelitis are in this group but they no longer are common, thanks to protective vaccines. This is convincing evidence that prevention works and parents should see to it that their children receive the necessary booster shots.

An effective measles vaccine seems close at hand but until that time comes we can expect epidemics of this most contagious of all diseases. Few susceptible children escape when exposed. Measles crops out every two to four years because it takes this long for a new group of susceptible children to come along.

Complications of measles still occur but they are less frequent than formerly. Ear infections, pneumonia, and encephalitis head the list and all are dangerous in infants and young children. These infections should be suspected when the child complains of pain in the ear, the cough gets worse, or the youngster becomes drowsy.

German measles is a three day affair with a rash that resembles measles or scarlet fever, along with sniffling and fever. The glands in the back of the neck usually enlarge.

Viral hepatitis and infectious mononucleosis usually are considered diseases of teen - agers or adults. But both occur during childhood and are likely to be so mild as to escape detection. Fever, maliase, vomiting, cough, or sore throat arise with hepatitis. The skin turns yellow and the urine darkens.

Mononucleosis resembles a cold with sore throat, fever, and enlargement of the glands in the neck and armpit. It is contagious and can be passed along to susceptible adults, in whom the disease is more serious.

IS SOAP DANGEROUS?

K. M. writes: Is it true that soap can hold germs of disease whether used in public places or at home?

REPLY

Possibly, especially if it is not rinsed off after using. Soap is a mild antiseptic and elimiates bacteria from the skin when combined with the mechanical aspect of washing with water. Some of these bacteria may remain in the suds, hence it is a good idea — in public places — to clean off the soap before using.

ALWAYS TIRED

C. V. writes: What causes a person to wake up in the morning feeling weak and tired?

REPLY

A depression or neurosis, assuming you get enough sleep. Individuals bothered with this fatigue drag thru the day and usually feel their best when night comes and they can sleep again.

ELECTRIC SHOCK

A. W. W. writes: Does a slight shock from a short in an electric appliance affect the heart?

REPLY

A severe electric shock may stop the heart from beating or produce an irregularity. It depends upon whether the current runs along the surface or deep in the body.

BLOCKED ARTERY

J. A. C. writes: The report on my wife's death certificate was "occlusive coronary." Is this the same as coronary thrombosis?

REPLY

Yes. The coronary artery to the heart was occluded, or blocked by a thrombus, or clot.
